

WITH SULPHUR CLEARING SITE FROM HAKODATE FOR DUNING

German Steamer Eva Will Return Soon to Portland.

UNDER CHARTER TO MITSUI COMPANY

First Steamer to Come Here With Nothing But Sulphur in Cargo Holds—Sailing Vessels in Trade in Years of the Past.

For the first time in the history of the port a steamer will bring a full cargo of sulphur to this harbor and San Francisco from Japan.

The news of the transaction was given out this morning when it was announced that the German steamer Eva would come here from the land of the rising sun soon.

The demand for sulphur is steadily increasing here and it is estimated that a large percentage of the cargo to come on the Eva will be disposed of to hop growers for bleaching purposes.

In view of the increasing demand for sulphur on this coast, it is interesting to note that scientific expeditions are now being made along the Alaskan coast.

STEAMERS WITH COAL

Redhill and Knight Templar En Route From Australia.

Two steamers have been fixed to bring coal from Newcastle, N. S. W., to this port this fall and more might be chartered before the season is over.

The steamer Costa Rica sailed this morning for San Francisco. The San Francisco & Portland Steamship company is making every effort to get the steamer Lawton ready by the end of September to take the Columbia place.

Preparations Being Made for Proposed Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. Structure.

TAKING FIRST LOOK AT A LOCOMOTIVE

Remarkable Experience Comes Into Lives of Many of Good People of Tillamook Country.

The work of clearing the site of the proposed Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. building on the north side of Taylor, between Sixth and Seventh streets has begun.

The demand for sulphur is steadily increasing here and it is estimated that a large percentage of the cargo to come on the Eva will be disposed of to hop growers for bleaching purposes.

In view of the increasing demand for sulphur on this coast, it is interesting to note that scientific expeditions are now being made along the Alaskan coast.

The first sound of a locomotive bell was heard in the Tillamook country when one of the workmen, gladdened by the prospects of again treading terra firma, called upon the men and vigorously pulled the bellcord.

KLAMATH'S PUBLIC LIBRARY INSTALLED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Klamath Falls, Or., July 30.—The Klamath Falls public library is now installed in the new building donated by Major Charles E. Worden, president of the American Bank & Trust company of this place. The building is located at the corner of the courthouse yard. Although in some way Mr. Carnegie overlooked this place in his generous donations, the citizens have been attending the opening in the new building, renovated, and would be a credit to a city much larger than Klamath Falls. The library now has about 600 books, as well as the leading magazines of the day.

AGED JOURNALIST LEAVES FORTUNE

Howard Paul, Supposed Poverty-Stricken, Leaves $500,000 Estate.

(Journal Special Service.)

Los Angeles, July 30.—Surprising to many acquaintances that he made in this city, whom he contributed to several newspapers, and was regarded as an eccentric and harmless, but poverty-stricken old man, comes the news from London that Howard Paul has died there and left $500,000, mostly in cash. Paul made his home here for some time, but instead of going to relatives here, lived in small apartments, accompanied by a nurse, who was also his stenographer, and he appeared to be in abject poverty. But now it develops that he hoarded gold. He left $400,000 and $50,000 to a young man who befriended him. In care of the Eucker-brocker Trust company, New York, was left approximately $40,000 over which there is likely to be a contest, as he will that it should go to the "sewing women of New York" and at the same time cut off three sisters in the east with $500 each. Paul was the author of a well-known book, "At Dinner With Celebrities." He was at one time head of the editorial staff of a Philadelphia newspaper. 289 Washington is the center of interest for men today. DIES FROM A FALL ON HIS OWN KNIFE (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Butte, Mont., July 30.—Frank Malonis is dead from an injury received in a peculiar accident. Malonis had won a dagger at a pleasure resort and had placed the knife in his inside coat pocket. While walking along the street he tripped and fell. The dagger entered his breast, penetrated his lungs and also severed a large artery. All efforts to staunch the flow of blood proved unavailing and death soon followed.
