AWAIT COURT'S DECISION

Park Board Members Anxious Regarding Legality of Madison Street Bridge Improvement Bonds — Much Property Necessary When Construction Begins.

Members of the park board are anxiously awaiting the court's decision on the legality of the Madison street bridge improvement bonds, for on it hinges the $1,000,000 appropriation for the system of parks and boulevards the people voted for in the June election. With ready values rapidly advancing, the board is eager to be at work purchasing property along the proposed route and beginning the actual construction.

Members of the board this morning stated that immediately the legality of the bond issue was established a landscape engineer would be employed to devise plans to give Portland the finest park system in America. The city engineer's force will be called upon to aid in the work of laying out the ground to be graded for the boulevard and the small parcels of ground for neighborhood parks. This force will also oversee the construction of the necessary bridges to be built over ravines in the city in the continuous boulevard.

An outline of both the boulevard and the neighborhood park scheme was given by the board previous to the election and the beauty of the selection was at once apparent. The boulevard stretching back from the Willamette on either side will give the traveler a magnificent glimpse of the Willamette valley for miles and miles on either side, with the tall peaks of Hood, Adams, St. Helens and the Three Sisters punctuating the skyline in the far distance.

The boulevard will be several miles in length and when completed it is thought it, with its natural surroundings, will be more beautiful than any in America.

Tired mothers and fathers and restless children unable to leave their homes to go long distances to a public park will find the neighborhood parks delightful recreation spots. They will be made attractive by every possible means and should not only prove slightly but most inviting places.

In projecting the boulevard and neighborhood park system the board is prepared to spend the entire $1,000,000. The board members stated this morning that if the bond issue is cleared up in the next two months they hoped to have the landscape expert on the ground to supervise the laying out of the system by October. Actual construction, they state, might be carried on during the winter and early spring, and by summer the boulevard and neighborhood parks could be turned over.

BOUTON HAS MONEY

$100 to his credit in the First National. Charles Logk has an account of $235.16. The Polk directory of 1930 shows his residence at 184 Grand avenue, but the name does not appear in the volumes issued since that year.

No Trace Can Be Found.
Of the following, although they gave their residence as Portland when making their deposits, no trace of them can be found in the directory. Their names and the amount of each dormant account, as follows: Chas. W. Stenborn, $603.70; R. E. O'Brien, $142.12; Thomas McNamara, $750; J. J. Leutenegger, $148.98; John Lannera, $553.20; M. Hardenfeld, $215.15.

But these are only a few of dozens of other Portlanders who through oversight or other reason, have neglected their accumulations of money. These range from a few dollars to over $200.

Out of town banks likewise have shown negligence in checking up. At the First National there is a credit of $5.65 to the Columbia Valley bank of Alkali, Oregon. For a decade of years the money has lain dormant. In the same bank, the Portland Macdonald Road company has $151 and the Portland Tug Boat company $148. Councilman W. T. Vaughn has overlooked $2.08 which was left on deposit at the First National about 10 years ago, and in the same bank the Portland Macdonald Road company has $151 and the Portland Tug Boat company $148. VERY SNUG FIT, CLATSOP'S LID

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Astoria, Or., July 30.—Reports received from all over Clatsop county indicate not only the perfect execution of the Sunday closing order, but also that there is general acquiescence. The only complaint comes from Seaside, where the saloonmen threaten to retaliate by forcing the closing of all places of amusement. It is not considered probable that they will go to this length, however. Only trifling infractions of the law were observed and no arrests were made.

WIFE'S COMPLAINT LANDS MAN IN JAIL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
The Dalles, Or., July 30.—Peter Schmidt of Hood River has been held in bonds of $500 to keep the peace. The complaining witness is his wife. He threatened to kill her and she went before a justice of the peace and had him put under the seal. He could not furnish the bonds and in consequence has to stay in jail.

WASHAM ACCUSED OF FAILURE TO PROVIDE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
La Grande, Or., July 30.—The first case to be brought into court in Union county under the new law prohibiting support of a family an offense punishable by imprisonment has been filed in circuit court here. District Attorney Ivanhoe charged Robert Washam with unlawfully neglecting to support his wife and three children, who reside at Union. Under this complaint, Sheriff Childers has arrested Washam in Clackamas county and brought him to La Grande, where he is now imprisoned.

$20 GOLD DISC MISSED IN MINT

Disappearance of Coin Occasions Consternation Among Officials.

(Journal Special Service.)
San Francisco, July 30.—The disappearance of a gold disc valued at $20 from the mint yesterday afternoon occasioned a great deal of consternation among the officials of the institution, not so much on account of the amount of the loss, as the fact that a leakage was developed through which a greater loss might be sustained. As soon as the shortage was discovered the doors of the adjuster's department, in which the loss occurred, were locked and the premises were searched and later the employees and not only prove slightly but most inviting places.

NEW DISAPPEARANCE FROM WALLA WALLA

This Time It Is an Aged Methodist Minister, Missing Since July 3

—No News of C. Holt.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Walla Walla, Wash., July 30.—Rev. William White, an aged and well-to-do Methodist minister, has disappeared from Walla Walla, and despite a vigorous search no trace of him has been found. He was last seen July 3, leaving his home on Lincoln street with a bundle. Friends are preparing a description, which will be sent to the towns of the northwest in an effort to find some trace of him.

The disappearance of Charles Holt, the druggist who left Walla Walla the latter part of June, is still a mystery, neither his employer nor his wife having heard anything from him.

HAYWOOD'S ACQUITTAL HARMFUL TO TAFT

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, D. C., July 30.—It is announced that Secretary Taft will make no speech in Idaho on his coming trip to the west. Secretary Taft a year ago was sent to Idaho by the President to speak for the reelection of Governor Gooding, the main issue being the attitude of unremitting pursuit of the murderers of former Governor Steunenberg, which had been assumed by the state administration. This was the first move made by the president to indicate his belief in the "undesirability" of the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners, and the acquittal of Haywood is believed to be harmful to the presidential aspirations of Secretary Taft in the far west.

THREATS FOLLOW BIG ASSESSMENT

Huntington Stops Trolley Construction to Secure Lower Taxation.

(Journal Special Service.)
Los Angeles, July 30.—Pasadena is in a state of consternation generally and business and political circles are stirred to depths because H. E. Huntington has issued an ultimatum that he will build no more railroad lines there or spend a cent for improvements, because "he claims to have been overtaxed by the city." Assessor Don D. Kellogg fired the tax valuation of the Pacific electric holdings in Pasadena at approximately $900,000, an increase of $400,000 over last year, and the railway magnate speaks in bitter terms of what he considers unfair treatment.

Apparently there is a strong feeling among business men that Huntington has cause for complaint, since a storm of criticism is whirling about Mayor Farley and the assessor. The latter has made matters worse for himself in defense of the assessment, by stating that he has indulged in the practice of treating corporations fairly where they "made frank and liberal statements."

SAW NO SIGNS

ago in company with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Butler, also relatives, and their return home is a sad one, because of the party Mr. and Mrs. Butler and child, and 8-year-old Ruth Martindale were lost. The body of Mr. Butler, as mentioned above, was picked up by the Roanoke on her way south. The other bodies have not been recovered.

Strangest of Rescues.

One of the strangest rescues of the whole tragedy was perhaps that of Mrs. Martindale, who was washed upon the partly submerged deck of the disabled San Pedro late in the morning. "Their daughter Ruth was lost."

"We were fully resigned to 'meet death,'" said Mrs. Martindale, "as we clung together on the after deck of the Columbia when she made her final plunge. We thought there was no hope of rescue and so decided to die together. I thought we had gone down the terrible plunge. Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell leaped over the side clasped in each other's arms a few moments before the craft went down. Mr. Butler leaped overboard with his 2-year-old babe in his arms. Mrs. Butler followed him, but all were lost."

Teacher Who Escaped.

Another survivor who came up on the Roanoke was Miss Annan Akesson of Litchfield, Minnesota. She was returning alone from the teachers' convention at Los Angeles, after having spent part of the summer at the University of Berkeley. Miss Akesson lost everything but a small handbag, which she immediately dubbed her trunk. The survivors all speak in the highest terms of the treatment afforded them by the people of Eureka.

Captain Dunham of the Roanoke declares that the Columbia went down in at least 250 fathoms of water, because he looked up the chart at the time of sighting the wreckages.

NORTH COAST'S LINE FROM WALLA WALLA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Walla Walla, Wash., July 30.—President Strahorn of the North Coast road gave the Walla Walla Evening Statesman authority to officially announce today that the North Coast road, after leaving Walla Walla, will head directly north, crossing Snake river at the mouth of the Palouse river and thence proceeding to Ritzville in Adams. The road from Walla Walla to the northern extremity of the county will touch Prescott and Pleasant View and give transportation to a big wheat belt not touched by railroads short of 10 miles. An engineering party is now engaged in running a preliminary survey of the road to Snake river.

Commercial Law League.

(Journal Special Service.)
Detroit, Mich., July 30.—The large assembly room of the Cadillac hotel was filled this morning at the opening of the annual convention of the Commercial Law League of America. The roll call developed the fact that nearly every state and territory was represented, together with most of the provinces of Canada. Mayor Thompson and President Wilkinson of the Detroit Bar Association, delivered addresses of welcome and responses were made by Ernest T. Florence of New Orleans, E. C. Ferguson of Chicago, and A. R. Mc-Masters of Montreal.

Muslin Underwear Week

We are having what we firmly believe is a record-breaking sale of Muslin Underwear. We have placed on sale $30,000 worth of Muslin Garments. There are hundreds of styles to select from, and every garment offered in this sale is fresh from the factory, as every one knows that this is a new addition, and the oldest garment in the house can't be over two months old. Having made the largest purchase of muslins that ever came to this state we obtained reductions in price of which our customers and friends now reap the benefit. With the careful and wise buyer quality is always the first consideration. It is the quality of our offering which will sell them, and the sale is unique, because neither fire, bankruptcy nor any other calamity is the cause of it—we just want to sell the Muslin Underwear

That Is All

You will find the prices astonishingly low. When you get high quality garments at cheap muslin prices, why not? A glance at our windows will show you that there is nothing exaggerated in this statement.
