Bound 3. Nelson waded in with left to the face and at close quarters drove his right thrice over the kidneys. Both missed some forceful blows, and after some sparring, Britt nearly sent Nelson against the ropes with right and left to the face. Apparently Nelson was un-daunted, and he kept forcing the pace and made Britt break ground. Nelson jabbed a vigorous left to the face and followed it with two left swings to the same spot. Then ensued a furious rally, Nelson having the better of it. As the gong sounded, Britt sunk his left twice to the Dane's stomach, making the latter wince. The round was com-paratively even. Bound 4. Bound 13. Britt fighting carefully, landed twice with lefts on the Dane's stomach. Nel-son advanced, with Britt backing away, and battering the Dane's face at will. Britt was very cool and appeared to gain strength as the fight progressed. Then Britt shot a fearful left to the stomach and followed it with a light left to the faw. Nelson, however, forced the fighting. He was rewarded with a right swing flush to the jaw. Nelson again almost slipped to his haunches, but was quickly in fighting position. Britt landed two right swings to the jaw and then a left hook found refuge on the same spot. Nelson valnly sought to land on his antagonist, but could not locate him. "Britt. Britt" yelled the crowd in unison, as the gong closed a Britt round. Bound 14.

Bound 4.

Bound 4. Nelson, as usual, stepped quickly to the center, and after some sparring. Britt drove two straight lefts to the acce and followed it with a right to the ear. Britt bled at L.s nose from the effects of Nelson's left jabs in the previous round. Nelson forced the Cal-fornian to his (Britt's) corner, where Britt sent Nelson back with short-arm left swings to the jaw. Nelson only smiled significantly, however, and, get-ting in close, swung a left and then a right to the face. Britt covered him-melf as best he could and they mixed it furiously in the center of the ring. Nelson doing much execution with his Nelson doing much execution with his short-arm jolts. At the call of the bell, Britt rallied and drove in two terrific blows to the face. Nelson went to his corner guickly, showing no effects. It was a hard fought round, with Nelson enjoying a shade

Bound 5. Nelson forced Britt to a neutral cor-ner and the men fought shoulder to shoulder without damage. Britt swung twice with left to the face and Nelson. leaning his head against Britt's shoul-der, walloped the Californian several times with right and left uppercuts. Nelson then sent his left twice to the mouth and Britt spat blood. Britt got in two lefts to the face, but Nelson forced his man to the ropes. Clever footwork, however, enabled Britt to wiggle away from harm. Then they fought to the center of the ring and ex-cluanged a vicious fusiliade of short-

Nelson looked the stronger of the two. Bound 6. Nelson jabbed left to Britt's sore mouth and Britt sent the Dane's head back with a left hook. Then they mixed it, Britt doing much clever duck ing and smothering. Britt drove his left hard to the body and Nelson jarred Britt with three terrific left uppercuts to the jaw. Britt fought back desper-ately and in a mid-ring mix both landed fearful right and left wallops to the jaw and face. Bound 14. Acting under Nolan's instructions, Nelson, with a determined expression, forced Britt about the ring. As usual, his efforts to locate Britt were fruit-less, and Britt landed several left is wings to the Dane's head. They closed in and Britt peppered his man with right and left joits to the face. Britt drove Nelson's head back a foot with a terrific straight ri-ht. Britt then shot his left and right to the face and they wrestled for a moment, during which Nelson gave Britt the elbow and floored him. The crowd yelled its dis-approval. The men went at it, hammer and tongs, Nelson landing a hard right to Britt's body as the gong rang. It was Britt's.round. Bound 15. Round 14. Chemawa, Or., Aug. 1 .- The Chemawa Indian school commencement exercises yesterday were supplemented by ath-letic competitions, chief among which was a five-mile cross country run over a rough and hilly road. Walter Haight was the winner and, as he was not hard pressed, his time of 29 minutes 10 sec-onds is considered good. A prominent Portland man said not long ago that fortunes would be made within the next few years by those who would wisely invest in Portland real estate. Nothing could be more true. Portland is growing by leaps and bounds. And it is a solid, substantial growth. Statistics prove that the East Side is receiving fully 80 cent of this new life. Property values there are advancing rapidly and steadily, and the man who invests now in new residence property of the right sort is laying the foundation for an independent fortune. Irvington Park is the most delightful residence section on the East Side. Beside the natural demand that is making it more valuable each day, the ideal location of Irvington Park, its abundance of natural shade, ease of access and rigid building restrictions are augmenting the demand 100 per cent. It is the soundest, most profitable investment in Portland. Call at our office TOMORROW. This is certainly your opportunity-don't by any means neglect it. F. B.
