

ANOTHER CHANGE IN CAR SERVICE

Dissatisfaction Over Morrison and Mt. Tabor Schedules May Be Remedied.

DISCONTINUED TIME MAY BE USED AGAIN

East Siders Pleased With Present Arrangement But West Siders Are Complaining—Railway Company Busy on Reconstructing Campaign.

Some dissatisfaction has arisen regarding Morrison street and Mount Tabor car service, and the traction company is contemplating a change in that service. Nothing at this time has been decided as to what the nature of the change will be, but it is likely that the old service that was discontinued early in the spring may be put on again.

East side residents are well pleased with the new service, but west siders who have occasion to use Morrison street cars are complaining. In order to relieve congestion of traffic it has been necessary to put on additional cars in the afternoon and evening.

The Portland Railway company has a great deal of reconstruction work ahead. Next Monday crews will start on relaying of the First street line from Washington to Madison streets. This street which for so long has been in poor condition is to be improved with bitulithic at once.

When the section from Madison to Washington will have been improved the street will then be paved from Washington to Burnside. It has already been improved from Madison street south to Marquam's gulch. Heavy rains will be met in the place of the old track now in use, and first one track and then the other will be torn up in order to facilitate the work and interfere as little as possible with the traffic on that street. Cars will come in over the Second street line and pass out over one of the tracks on First street during the time the work is being done.

Besides this work the street railway company is preparing for four miles of improvements on Killingsworth avenue which is soon to be laid with bitulithic, the contract having already been awarded. This improvement alone will cost $50,000, according to Manager Fuller. Grand avenue is another big job that is being pushed, while there are several smaller ones in different parts of the city, as well as one of some extent in progress in Oregon City.

DEVOTED ENTIRELY TO PACIFIC NORTHWEST

August Sunset Contains Contributions by Writers of Prominence—Splendidly Illustrated.

The August number of the Sunset magazine, which is just out, is devoted exclusively to the Pacific northwest. The principal contributors are E. W. Wright of the Oregonian, who has a 30-page article on "The Fast Developing Oregon Country"; Dennis H. Stovall, who tells an interesting story of "Oregon's Diversified Farming"; William L. Finley, whose stories about "feathered foragers" are always deftly and interestingly told; C. M. H. Keel, of the Journal, whose article, "By Silver City Trail," deals in an interesting Oregon Military Road company.

Edmund P. Sheldon's "Millions in Trees," gives some idea of the forest wealth of the Pacific northwest. The pictorial work of the magazine is especially fine. The two color-page cuts of Portland are the very best views that have yet been published of this city. The two-color work illustrating E. W. Wright's story is as good a thing of its kind as has yet appeared in a western magazine.

VISITING MINISTER WILL OPEN CHURCH

Rev. Martz Selected to Preach First Sermon at New Kern Park Christian Church.

Charles Wiley Martz of Indianapolis, Indiana, for years an active minister of the Christian church, who for more than two years has been pastor in the cities of Hamilton, Montana, and Vancouver, British Columbia, will Sunday morning at 11 o'clock preach the opening sermon in the new church erected at the corner of Pitt and Midburn streets, in Kern Park.

This enterprise is the outgrowth of the faith, devotion and the recent activities of members of the Kern Park Christian church residing in that part of Portland, who have been helped forward in their work by their young minister, David E. Norcross, who will soon resume his studies in Eugene Divinity school of the Disciples of Christ in Oregon.

Mr. Norcross will deliver the evening sermon at 8 p. m. The theme of the morning sermon will be, "The Divine Foundation."

Big Crowds Expected. In a page announcement today the Hubs Clothing company of this city states that tomorrow it will place on sale the entire stock of smoke and water-damaged clothing, shoes, hats and furnishings of the Metropolitan Clothing store of Chicago. Every provision has been made by the management to handle a big crowd.

People who are really anxious not to waste their time still have plenty of time to read the ads—more, usually, than the people to whom this time is less important.

CITY WILL BUY WATER SYSTEM

Purchase of Woodlawn Underground Authorized at $4,000.

Four thousand dollars will be paid by the city for the Woodlawn underground water system, owned by private parties, the decision to buy having been reached at a meeting of the water board yesterday afternoon. City Attorney Kavanaugh will prepare the papers effecting the exchange, and it is expected that the system will be placed in operation under municipal supervision by September 1. Six hundred homes in the vicinity of Albert and Fourteenth streets on the east side were declared to be without fire protection by a delegation of residents who asked relief of the water department. Plenty of water is said to be available but there is a dearth of fire hydrants. Chief Campbell will look into the merits of the petition. Several hundred more fire hydrants are needed throughout the city, according to members of the water board, but are not to be obtained at this time, owing to a shortage of funds.

AT THE THEATRES

Close of O'Neil Engagement. This is the last week of the engagement of Nance O'Neil, America's foremost tragedienne in the new play, "The Story of the Golden Fleece," which was written for her special benefit. There will be a matinee tomorrow and the engagement will close Sunday night.

"The Undertow" Next Week. Next week "The Undertow" will be offered at the Marquam by the MacGregor-Stockwell company, and one of the most successful plays ever presented in Portland is expected. It has had a remarkable run in other coast cities and Portland is considered fortunate in securing it.

"A Royal Slave." The distinct hit of the stock season at the Star is "A Royal Slave," which is being presented this week. This is the only time the beautiful Mexican romance has been offered by a stock company or at such bargain prices.

Makes Money Disappear. Without the slightest trouble, Allen Shaw, the magician at the Grand, makes coin appear and disappear from the air. "Taming a Husband" is the laughing hit of the program. In this playlet Beatrice Moreland and Stanley Johns disclose a farcical domestic scene.

Carmen's Day at the Oaks. August 8 will be celebrated at the Oaks by employes of the street car company. An elaborate program of sporting events has been arranged and many of the leading business houses in the city have offered trophies. The carmen themselves have charge of the celebration.

"The Road to Frisco." There has seldom been such a great success offered at the Lyric as "The Road to Frisco," which the Allen stock company is presenting this week. Everybody who has seen it is more than delighted. The theatre is always cool, no matter how hot the weather.

"The Westerner" Is Next. The Allen stock company at the Lyric will appear in "The Westerner," one of

PERSONAL

State Bank Examiner James Steel returned last Saturday from a few days' outing at Seaside, since which time he has been confined to his home at 755 Irving street with a severe attack of erysipelas in his left arm. James Cole, assistant United States attorney, has returned from a week's visit at Seaside. Edgar Hofer, a well known citizen of Medford, is at the Portland hotel.
