The feast of St. Dominic, founder of the Dominican order, will be celebrated next Sunday morning at the Holy Rosary church of the Dominican fathers, 10th avenue and Clackamas street. A high mass will be rendered at 10:30 o'clock, when Right Rev. Thomas O. S. R., of Mount Angel, will deliver the panegyric on the saint. The Holy Rosary male choir will furnish music, consisting of the following members: Tenors, J. H. Cases, J. Bell, D. A. Morris, J. E. Malley, A. J. Brault, J. B. C. Lockwood, F. Barrett, G. W. Larner; basses, B. J. Alstock, B. J. Eder, J. Hoben, Dr. P. Goray and Andrew Kane. Mrs. J. B. C. Lockwood organist. The church has been especially decorated for the occasion and a picture of the Holy Rosary group by Victor LeGalle has been secured to aid in the decorations.

Detective H. H. Hawley of the juvenile court returned this morning from Tacoma, bringing with him 16-year-old Hazel Noland, with whom Charles Breckenridge, aged 17 years, attempted to elope last Sunday. The girl's father intercepted them at the depot as they were about to board the train, but they eluded him, went to St. Johns Sunday afternoon, crossed the river to Union and Little Miss Noland boarded the night train for Tacoma, while Breckenridge walked back to Portland. The girl was located at Tacoma where she had found employment as a domestic in a private residence. She offered no objections to being brought home, and was welcomed warmly by her father this morning. Noland said he would place his daughter in a convent for two years, until she becomes of age, to complete her education.

An autopsy by Dr. Wheeler performed on the body of John Carlberg, the line-man who met his death on an electric light pole at Seventeenth and Uppish streets Wednesday afternoon, definitely settles the theory that the unfortunate died from an electric shock. Claims Agent Boynton of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company claimed to have information tending to show that Carlberg succumbed to heart disease, and in order to fix the cause of death Coroner Finley ordered the autopsy performed. Robert Clemens, another line-man, who was burned and shocked on the same pole on which Carlberg met his death a few minutes previous, is reported to be on the road to recovery at the Good Samaritan hospital.

An overheated gas flatiron in the tailoring shop of Kalilo and Norman, 124 Twelfth street, started a small blaze at 1 o'clock this morning, which brought out the fire department in response to alarm from the box 63. The flames broke open the doors of the establishment and the fire was quickly extinguished, entailing a loss of about $50. The proprietors of the place had left the gas burning under the iron upon closing for the day, and in this manner the flames were communicated to the wall.

George C. Peery, aged 79 years, and a well known resident of Portland, died Wednesday at his home on Prospect avenue, Mount Tabor, after a protracted illness. He was born in 1828 and came to Portland 10 years ago. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock this morning from the family residence. In addition to his widow he is survived by the following children: L. T. Peery and Miss Georgia Peery of Portland, E. H. Peery of Havana, Cuba, and Dr. T. F. Peery of Yuba, California.

St. Johns was visited by two fires yesterday, one of which totally destroyed the residence of W. C. Adams, one of the finest homes in the city and the loss of which will be somewhat over $3,000. The other was a blaze in a drug store that did about $500 damage. The volunteer fire company was unable to assist at the first fire on account of lack of water but did good work at the second blaze.

Two hundred thousand or more people who think, who use their brains, drink Golden Grain Granules in their homes. Mothers who love their children, fight for this pure cereal coffee. Children love it. Grown-up people think it tastes better than coffee. All conscientious grocers recommend it. Pray to try it. A big package can be had in any grocery store for 25c.

By the middle of September the offices of the Southern Pacific and the O. R. & N. Co., comprising the Harriman lines in Oregon, will be moved from the present quarters in the Worcester building to the seven upper floors in the new Wells-Fargo skyscraper. The new offices will be handsomely furnished and will afford admirable quarters for the officials.

The charge of nonsupport brought against L. H. Carter by his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Carter, was called up for hearing in the county court this morning, and Judge Webster was informed that

Tale of a Traveling Bag.

Odd experience of a big consignment of leather goods. They had been ordered—a very superior grade of suit cases, traveling bags and hat boxes—for Robinson & Co.'s remodeled store, but they got here in the midst of the big anticipation sale, so they were just put out at reduced prices along with the other men's furnishings goods, neckwear, underwear, bathing suits, hats, etc. It seems that about every exacting man in town has dropped in to look them over and buy, but the stock was complete and magnificent bargains are still to be found. 289 Washington.

RAILWAYS ARE FINED

Failure to Operate Mail Trains on Time in Oregon Saves Uncle Sam Approximately $42,014—Harriman Lines Fined.

Harriman lines in Oregon have saved more than $40,000 to the federal government because the railroads could not run trains carrying government mail on schedule time. Figures compiled in the second assistant postmaster-general's office show that the gross revenue derived by the Harriman lines in this state for carrying mail amounts to $292,874.38. Because of the railway's neglect in properly handling trains they have been fined approximately $42,014 in the past year.

These figures are based upon the weighing of mail by the government every four years. The average daily weight of mail carried by the Southern Pacific from Portland to Ashland is 15,522 pounds. The distance is 32.15 miles and the trains travel at the rate of 21 miles an hour. The company's schedule for the train which arrives in Portland at 7:25 in the morning is a fraction more than 23 miles an hour, yet the train has not arrived on time for many months.

As conditions prevail the morning train seldom arrives before the noon hour. Today the train was made up in two sections. The first one reached the Union depot at 7:45, while the second section is not in yet and will not be until 8:30 this evening. Wednesday the train rolled in at 3:30 o'clock and yesterday at 1:35. The O. R. & N. train was 15 minutes late yesterday, two and a quarter hours Wednesday and two hours this morning. This train is the overland train from the east and is scheduled to arrive in Portland at 9:45 o'clock in the morning.

According to the new ruling relative to carrying government mail, the railroads are fined 15 per cent of their mail pay if 10 trains are late half an hour each in the course of 90 days. The Harriman lines are notoriously behind time and often fail to get their trains in at all, it being the rule rather than the exception last winter to cancel trains because of the poor roadbeds due to the company's neglect in improving its track facilities.
