ODAY'S MARKETS

Big Hop Bears Are Selling Short at Low Prices in Order to Scare Producers Into Bankruptcy at Once.

TOMATO MARKET BADLY GLUTTED

Poor Stock Coming From California Points Adds to Local Pressure.

Front street features;
Tomatoes badly glutted.
Local onions coming.
Bluestone is fractionally lower.
Poultry market just holding.
Salmon run never so light.
Cherries come from eastern Oregon.
Bean prices are advanced again.
Oregon "cants" are lower.
Peach market has fine demand.
Hop bears are all short.

Tomato Market Glutted. There is a very bad glut on in the tomate market at this time. Quality as badly mixed as the price. me California stock from the vicinity of Stockton has been arriving in very poor shape of late and this has added to the general confusion of the trade. Poor California tomatoes are selling as low as 40 and 50c a box today and some not over fancy Oregons are ranging close to those figures. For fancy to-matoes the general market is close to 75c today, although many sales of first-class two-tier stock are reported down to 55c. Three-tier stock in some instances sells as high as $1 a box but that is the very top of the market. But a small amount of fancy stock is being received from any locality and the few boxes of this quality that come generally bring top figures. Oregon to-matoes are improving in quality but are not yet first-class. The general opinion of the trade today seems to be that the present low prices will stop entirely the shipments from California and thus in a measure relieve the blockade of supplies.

Local Onions Coming. low as 40 and 50c a box today and some Local Onions Coming.

During the past 24 hours a number of small lots of Oregon onlons were received on the street. Thus far the stock received has been rather green; practically none being fully matured. Walla Walla onlons are coming in first-class shape and are leading the market. New potatoes are active in a local way but no business of importance from the outside is as yet reported. Quality the outside is as yet reported. Quality is improving every day and stocks will soon be ripe enough to send long dis-Raspberries arrived in this morning from Washington points in very fine condition and sold at a fractional ad-vance over figures quoted a short time Ago.

Raspberries in good demand at $1.65 and $1.75. A small amount of will stuff coming. Too small to base quota-

Peach Demand Very Good.

Peach market is showing a very fine Some Elbertas arrived in this from California and found an demand. Some Elbertas arrived in this morning from California and found an active demand at $1.50 and $1.50. Yellow freestones from the same place are arriving in only fair shape but the best are moving at $1.50. Some very choice black cherries came this morning from La Grande. Priced at $1.25 and $1.50 per 10-pound box.

Some very choice plack cherries called this morning from La Grande. Priced at $1.25 and $1.50 per 10-pound box.
Oregon cantaloupes are selling about 25c a crate lower today along the street on account of the much larger arrivals.
Quality of the "cants" improving.
There is only a small demand for California grapes, owing to the high prices ruling and the indifferent quality of first shipments.

"This is the worst salmon season I have seen since I entered the business." says Robert S. Farrell of Everding & Farrell, packers. "The run is more disappointing every day and as the season progresses the total catch shows a greater deficiency when compared with previous seasons. I see that both sides are now agitating the question and this may lead to some good. I believe, however that the only way to help the salmon industry of the Columbia river is for the legislature to close the river to fishing for fully two years."

Brie Notes of the Trade.

Brie Notes of the Trade

Large white and pink beans show a sharp advance in this market today owing to the recent rise in values in the south. Latter due to unfavorable weather and short crop prospects. All grades are firmer After many months of advancing figarter many months of advancing figures the price of bluestone has at last started on the downward grade and today quotations are off 1/2c a pound. This decline arrives just in time for the farmers to take advantage of. Creamery butter market is mixed and Eggs are holding steady with quality of local product better than eastern.

Sweet potatoes are easier; most values being down %0 a pound.
Poultry market price just holding its pwn with very liberal supplies.

HEAVY ARRIVALS IN POULTRY HURTING

"There is a very slow demand in the poultry market. Buyers are not anxious to do business, . the price seeming to cut but little consideration at this time. They are oversupplied with poultry, and unless stocks come slower they will not pay so nuch. However, thus far the market has been cleaning up at . the prices printed in The Journal, but the heavy receipts are sure to tell on the market. There is very little call at this time . for either ducks or geese."-Walter Bollam of Dryer, Bollam

HOP BEARS JUGGLING

According to mail advises received in this city Horst is offering 1906 hops to the English trade at 50 shillings or 70 a . pound Portland. This low figure . is taken by the trade here to indicate that the big operator is . about to bear the market on 1907s with more vigor than the bears used in 1966. A number of letters from bears telling of prospects for 175,000 and $200,- • 000 bale crops here were also returned to local parties from London today.

May Can Watermelons.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Freewater, Or., Aug. 3.—The Freewater cannery has been very active of late, many thousand gallons of small fruits, such as blackberries, cherries, plums having been canned. Professor McGl. is considering the canning of cantaloupes and watermelons by a process by which the fruits will not, as is usually the case, lose their original flavor. When the tomato season is fully on next week the cannery will work in full blast, which will be about the mid-

Arrivals-Good Tone in the East.

Portland Union Stockyards, Aug. 8.— Hogs. Cattle. Sheep. 125 145 1,090 • With the general good tone in hogs all over the world and the small arrivals in the east as well as on the coast, the local hog market is firmer by several degrees today and prices are advanced 25c. Best hogs are today quoted at $8,50@6.75. Today's run was 150 head. This compares with 55 head a week ago, none a year ago and 16 head two years ago.

Sheep Slightly Weaker. For some reason there is a slightly weaker tone in the sheep market and killers are not paying within 250 of the prices that ruled yesterday. All grades are affected. This action puts the price down to last week's figures, thus cutting off the early advance. There were no arrivals of sheep either today or a year ago this date.

MISSING SINCE NIGHT

the towboat Paloma fear that Fireman E. Dodds has lost his life in the Willamette river by drowning and this afternoon the bottom will be dragged at the foot of Ankeny street, where it is believed he must have lost his balance in trying to go on board last Thursday night

Columbia Digger company for several months as fireman on the Paloma, and seemed very well satisfied with his work. Thursday night he returned to the boat about 11 o'clock slightly intoxicated, but went ashore again. He went up town and, having lost his hat, borrowed one from a friend and started for his boat again. That was the last seen of him.

The hat was found the following morning on the lower dock at the foot of Ankeny street and the supposition is that Dodd must have lost his balance This is a very quiet day in Pacific coast wheat markets. Movement to warehouses is still rather slow and growers are showing no disposition to sell and at present buyers are not trying to force sales.

Weather conditions are perfect for the harvest on the coast and reports of record-breaking yields are daily received. Hacket, who will institute a thorough search of the river this afternoon. The river forms an eddy at the particular place where Dodd is supposed to have failen in, so that little trouble would likely be experienced in recovering the body. The services of Hugh Brady, who makes a specialty of recovering drowned people from the river, were sought early this morning, but Brady is rusticating down by the seaside and hence Captain Hacket will do the dragging himself this afternoon. Hacket will d

Oriental Liner Nicomedia Gets Half Cargo Only.

Owing to the scarcity of flour the oriental liner Nicomedia of the Portland & Asiatic Steamship company will go out with less than half a cargo this trip. Ordinarily she carries about 5,000 tons of flour, or 55,000 barrels, but it is a question if she will have 2,000 tons on board when she sails next Saturday morning.

There is very little flour left over, and shipments to the orient will therefore remain very light until the new crop product begins coming in. The steamship company is hopeful to be able to secure flour for the steamer Nu-mantia, which is scheduled to sail during the first part of next month, since prices will likely then be considerably reduced. Just now millers are asking $3.75 a barrel, whereas the orientals are hardly ever willing to pay more than $3.30 or $3.40 at the most.

$3.30 or $3.40 at the most.

The liners have gone filled to the hatches with flour every trip for the past year or more, and it was feared some time ago that one or more short cargoes would have to be started before the arrival of the new crop. The Nicomedia is still at the Alaskan dock dispersions inward cargo, but will compared to the started before the started the started before the started t charging inward cargo, but will com-mence loading about Monday.

WAS WORST AT SEA.

Wednesday Night's Electrical Storm Centered Off the Coast.

The electrical storm which passed to the west of Portland Wednesday night made things lively for mariners off the Oregon and Washington coasts, in the vicinity of the Columbia river and Cape Flattery. For several hours during the most vivid streaks of lightning and deafening peals of thunder terrified some of the more timid navigators. Those who were in the worst of the storm say its equal has never been seen here on the coast.

Incoming steamers bring tales of the rare electrical storm but so far as known no damage was done. Captain Johnson of the steam schooner Tiverton, which reached Aberdeen yesterday.

He declares it was a record breaker and made things anything but pleasant. The rain fell in sheets and everything awash on board. The lightning played in blinding flashes and the thunder was deafening.
