The farmers certainly do support and encourage Glenn E. Walker of Albany, son of Pioneer Cyrus W. Walker. Alta M. Wilcox of Cleone sent in one budget of subscriptions this week, in which every subscription was new to The Journal. This is proof of her force as a solicitor.

Earl Heckart, one of the enterprising contestants of Benton county, has made a very good showing in new subscriptions during the last week. Alice Grant, the resourceful contestant...

Opal Callison of Olex, the contestant of eastern Oregon who is now leading all others in her district was thrown from her riding horse on Tuesday and is suffering from a severe shaking up. For several days she had been riding for 14 hours a day over the sparsely populated region in which she canvassed. The combination of many days of strenuous horseback riding and the "shakeup" has sent Miss Callison into temporary retirement. As soon as the young lady recovers she will again mount her pony and ride across country to The Dalles and Hood River. In the latter place she once lived and has many friends who will be glad to send her and very ready to help her continue her career as leader of District No. 4.

LED BY COUNCILMAN ELECTED AS A WET

Supported by Mayor Who Was Counted by Wets as Their Man—Dr. Large and Others Have Been Fined—Dry Element Hopeful.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Forest Grove, Or., Aug. 3.—Dr. C. L. Large was fined $100 and costs by Municipal Judge Hoge yesterday afternoon for illegally selling beer to Al Dillee on July 20. Dillee was present and testified that on that date he had bought a bottle of beer from Large. The trial was the most interesting that has been held here in many a day, and the city hall was packed with people anxious to hear the argument and decision. It took from 10 o'clock in the morning till 3 in the afternoon to try the case. Both parties were represented by lawyers for the defense, and maintained that the ordinance had not been legally passed. He attacked the evidence of sale of "intoxicating" liquor, because the charge was selling beer, and he maintained that it might have been root beer. He also maintained that the ordinance was unreasonable in that it prohibits the selling, giving or otherwise disposing of...

History of Present Case. Sam Walker, shoemaker and councilman, is the man that picked up the lid which has been off for the last 30 years, and with the assistance of Marshal Joe Lenz and others, he got on and sat on top. Walker was elected on the wet ticket, and the dry citizens of Forest Grove feared he would be instrumental in the repeal of the ordinance. Instead "Sam" has been the first of the city fathers, either wet or dry, to make a move to put the lid on the illegal selling of liquor. Last week he went into the "Iron House," run by Dr. C. L. Large, and called for a glass of beer, but was refused. He then produced evidence which led to the arrest of W. A. Billinger on the charge of selling beer unlawfully to Al Dillee.

Spirits Talk with Professor. Columbia University Instructor Says He Hears From Beyond Grave. Berkeley, Cal., Aug. 3.—Dr. James H. Hyslop, former professor of Columbia university, who declared in a lecture Wednesday night that he had had communications from beyond the grave, lectured at the university again last night. At the conclusion of his address Dr. Hyslop invited questions from curious persons in the audience regarding phases of psychic phenomena.

Willamette University. Growth of School Makes Necessary Campaign for Liberal Endowment. The trustees of the Willamette university of Salem have determined to begin an earnest campaign to secure for Willamette university a new endowment fund of $100,000. The plan is as follows: The entire amount of $100,000 shall be secured by January 1, 1908. Every subscriber shall be conditioned upon securing the whole sum of $100,000. Pledges may be paid at any time within five years; but one fifth of each subscription shall be paid annually, and interest at 5 per cent shall be paid each year on that part of each pledge remaining unpaid.

Potlatch Plans for Road and New Town. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Moscow, Ida., Aug. 3.—Robert B. Swadener, a civil engineer in the employ of the Potlatch Lumber company, has filed in the town auditor's office, plans of the town of Deary on the line of the Washington, Idaho & Montana railroad, about 27 miles northeast of Moscow. The town is named after William Deary, general manager of the Potlatch company. Mr. Swadener says steel is laid on the W. I. & N. nearly every year, and so unable to present eastern terminus of the road until the company needs its extension farther east into its timber holdings.

Work Train Ditched by Heat. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., Aug. 3.—The terrific heat Wednesday was directly responsible for the ditching of a work train hauling gravel to the penitentiary. The heat spread the rails so that the engine jumped the track and was followed by the gravel cars. The train crew escaped injury.

ST. ELMO'S FIRE IN THE WHEAT FIELDS. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., Aug. 3.—Farmers in Walla Walla from Rulo station today report that a furious wind and electrical storm visited that section Thursday night. Following a twisting wind storm, the grain fields began to glow with electricity. Forks and tongues of electricity stood out like stubble and for a time the farmers were fearful of fire. The phenomenon continued for upwards of half an hour. Considerable damage was done to threshing outfits by the wind, the cook wagon and tents being blown down and demolished.

Gay Wife of Army Officer Thinks Scriptures Provide Mental Torture.

(Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, Aug. 3.—That the tongue of army gossip had not been wagging without cause for a year over the domestic affairs of Captain Ross L. Bush of Alcatraz was made plain yesterday when news reached the Press that the beautiful wife of the hermit captain had brought suit against him for divorce in far off Winnemucca. For a year the Sagebrush state has been the intermittent home of the dashing wife of the army officer, who was getting her legal residence in order to bring action which would release her from chains she found irksome.
