District Attorney Declares Order to Close Was Issued a Week Ago, but Does Not -Much Perturbed.

District Attorney Hedges and Sheriff Beattle both declare, now that the Milwankle club is closed, that they issued an order a week ago telling the club made in the face of the fact that Sheriff Beattle said to The Journal last Friday for him that he proposed to let the citizens of Milwaukie run their own business withinterference from him.
Then seen this morning the men were conferring in Sheriff Beattie's office in the court house. Asked for expressions regarding the closing of the club, Mr. Hedges said. Hedges said:

"The club is closed, and closed permanently. That is all I have to say, except that I intend to make a personal investigation of this matter."

When asked what he meant by "this matter," he replied;

Order Is Not Visible. "The manner in which the club has been closed. An order was issued a week ago telling the proprietors to close."
"Have you the order?" he was asked. "Bob (Sheriff Beattie) has it," he re-nited

When asked for it, Mr. Beattle did not get time to reply because Mr. Hedges chimed in saying that he is making a personal investigation and making a personal investigation and would allow nothing to be made public until he was ready for it, which will probably be in about two weeks, he said. Mr. Hedges also talked about having been very busy of late and expecting to leave soon for a vacation. Mr. Beattie said, "go to The Journal for anything desired in the way of information" as to his future course when asked whether he would confiscate the paraphernalia of the clubhouse.

Refers To The Journal,

All questions asked of Mr. Beattie elicited the information that the answer could be found at The Journal office or from the ministers who instigated the crusade against the Milwaukie club. He and Mr. Hedges both refused to say whether they would proceed against the club-owners or confiscate the gambling devices used there. Mr. Hedges took exception to the remarks attributed to Rev. J. C. Oakley of the Presbyterian church in which the latter is alleged to have stated that Hedges, Beattle and the club management had an understanding to the effect that the club was to be closed. Rev. Mr. Oakley said this morning that he had not made such a statement directly but said that he had been told rectly but said that he had been told that such an agreement had been

BROTHER OF DEAD MAYOR LANE DEMANDS DRESS QUESTION ON PORTLAND AND OREGON WHEAT JAP CURSES HIM ESSENTIAL MODIFICATIONS IS SERIOUS ONE VANCOUVER ROUTE

Dramatic Scene on Finding Portland's Chief Executive Determined Heating Franchise of Portland General Electric Company Shall Not Be Renewed-Good Terms Are Secured.

> Mayor Lane is resolute in his determination that the heating franchise of the Portland General Electric company, which recently lapsed, shall not be renewed until some essential modifications in its terms have been made, floations in its terms have been made, accommodate not alone its own pipes, but those of the city?
> "Portland needs a tunnel beneath her the company from charging the vent maximum price for heat during the whole 25 years for which the franchise is to run; second, because under the terms of the grant every street in the business section may be torn up to enable the company to lay its pipes; and third, because the franchise contains no provision for compensation to the city in exchange for the valuable rights bestowed.

Mayor Speaks Procly. This morning the mayor spoke freely upon what he considers exclusive privileges under the franchise granted the electric company for heating buildings in Portland by steam. He says a close examination of the franchise will show that the company may charter the may examination of the franchise will show that the company may charge the maximum rate for heat during the life of the franchise, pointing to the following provision of the permit to bear out his assertion: "The Portland General Electric company shall furnish steam for heat or other purposes at a rate of 75 cents for a quality of steam to make, when condensed into water, 1,000 pounds of water and at no higher or greater rate." 1.000 period.

but those of the city?

"Portland needs a tunnel beneath her streets large enough to permit of a man walking through. This will eliminate the necessity of continually tearing up hard surfaced streets to repair broken steam pipes. It will get away entirely from obstructing traffic while the heating system is being laid.

"The franchise in its present form gives the company large powers with no redress at the hands of the people. Exclusive privileges which amount to class legislation have been granted, perhaps unwittingly. How do we know what conditions will prevail in 20 or even 10 years? Everything might be much lower then, but how are we to know the prices for heat will be lower. There is no chance of ever having the price of heat lowered except at the option of the company, and the company pays not one cent for this exclusive privilege. Watered stock will assist in keeping the price at the same level.

when condensed into water, 1,000 pounds of water and at no higher or greater rate."

"They say they will not be able to tunnel," exclaimed the mayor. "This is all bosh. All over the world today miners are driving tunnels to operate immense mines. Every pound of freight that comes to Portland passes through tunnels. I know and every man of reasonable intelligence knows that a tunnel can be driven under the street which will accommodate all of their steam pipes.

"This company doesn't want to go to the expense of driving a tunnel that its profits may be larger. If the electric company's franchise is extended it will have the right to dig up any street in the district covered by its franchise is dead by its own limitations then the executive board could not have done otherwise than declare the permit forfeited. Personally, I don't believe there is anything we can sewer mains and even then it will have for an extension of time."

It is not my purpose to discuss the question of fashion nor institute a dress reform. There are some plain, straightforward facts, however, to be presented concerning the question of dress. I do not consider it beneath the dignity of the pulpit either to deal with this question. Some of the greatest minds the world has ever known have endeavored to solve the problem of proper dress. Carlyle in his 'Sartor Resartus' has illuminated the subject.

Consider Body Meeds.

"A person's dress should meet the needs of the body. God Almighty has bestowed upon us a physical nature. The clothes hold a three-fold relation to the body. They concern its health, its comfort and its ornamentation. A person's dress should be healthful. person's dress should be healthful. No one studying a fashion plate or, which would be more interesting, a fashionable woman can possibly be ignorant of the fact that the modern dress of woman prevents the full de-ness for dress. A person should be dressed in harmony with his own eircumstances as well as in harmony with his social environment. I love to see a man dressed for his work.

"Clothes should be the expression of the 'inner' man. When we come to study men we find that clothes are, after all, more or less an expression

MARINE NOTES

Denver, Aug. 5.—An immense crowd waited for hours last night to give W. D. Haywood a noisy welcome, on his return from Boise.

Responding to demands for a speech Haywood said that he would "tell about it later," and asked to be allowed to retire for the night. During this brief talk Haywood referred to what he said was the prediction the mineowners said that he would come back to Colorado in a pine box. "I am very much alive you see," he said, and continued:

"This great reception is the happiest moment of my life. My cup of happiness would be complete if Moyer and Petithone were by my side. One thing I am convinced of and which the last 18 months has definitely taught me, is that if unions stand together, you canthat if unions stand together, you can-not break them."
