

PHONE LINES TO MAN UNDER THE BED AT LAST THE BLUE LEDGE DISCOVERED BY HELENA WOMAN

One a Private Enterprise, the Other a Forest Service Wire.

MINE PEOPLE PLAN TRAM AND SMIelter

Joe Bar Probably the Smelter Site and Gravity Will Propel the Ore
Cars Over the Four Miles Course to the Works.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Ellen, Cal., Aug. 10.—Blue Ledge mining camp will soon be connected by telephone with the outside world. Two lines will be built into the district. The Blue Ledge Telephone and Telegraph company now has a crew at work running a line between the camp and Medford. Right of way has been cleared and is set most of the distance. Wire will be strung at once, so that telephone communication will be had with the outside in a few days. This company is composed of local people. Walter Parsons, a civil engineer of that city, is general manager.

The other line will be built by the United States government and by money appropriated for the forest service. This line will connect Blue Ledge with Grants Pass. While its purpose is to put the camp of forest rangers located in the Siskiyou reserve near Blue Ledge in close communication with the forest reserve headquarters at Grants Pass, the line will also be for the convenience of the general public. M. J. Anderson, forest reserve superintendent, has charge of the work. He says that the wire for the line is now on its way here and that he will place a constructed crew at once.

Tramway and Smelter.
The forestry department, through its local officials, has granted the Blue Ledge company permission to operate a tramway across a portion of the reserve. The tramway will connect the mine with the ore bins. From this it is evident that the company is contemplating the erection of a smelter, the plant to be located at some point between the mine and Joe Bar.

Since the construction of the new wagon road from Joe Bar to the mine the former place has become active as formerly. The stage terminus is now at the mine or at Ellen, the new town that has sprung up near the mine. It is very likely, however, that the smelter will be built at Joe Bar, since this is the nearest smelter site. There is a difference in elevation of nearly 2,000 feet between Joe Bar and Blue Ledge and this difference makes possible the transportation of ore by gravity tram from the mine to the bar, a distance of four miles.

HUGE PUMP PLANT AND POWER PROJECT

Million Dollars for a Third Great Dam in the Missouri River in Montana for Irrigation.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Helena, Mont., Aug. 10.—Helena is to have a third great dam across the Missouri river for the development of electrical power, and a portion of this will be utilized for a pumping plant which will reclaim 10,000 acres of land in the Big Lost Valley, just below this city. Positive announcement of the enterprise was made today by former Governor Houser, his return from New York, where he went to finance the matter.

The same interests which built the present dam are behind the new one and include the estate of Abram Hewitt, the Guggenheims, the Amalgamated copper interests, Governor Houser and A. J. Holter of Helena. The pumping plant will cost between $400,000 and $500,000.

The dam will cost approximately $1,000,000. The power will be utilized to a great extent in the Butte mines, East Helena, the Anaconda smelters and minor industries. The power development of Helena dams exceeds 35,000 and the new dam will swell this upwards of 50,000. Work will begin immediately on the new dam and ditches.

PHONE FRANCHISE AT LA GRANDE WILL COST

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
LaGrande, Or., Aug. 10.—The Home Telephone company has been granted a franchise for 25 years. The franchise vision is that at the end of ten years, three per cent of the company's net earnings shall be paid to the city, four per cent at the end of fifteen years and five per cent at the end of twenty years.

It is expected that both Vice-President Fairbanks and Secretary Taft will attend the Ohio home coming celebration to be held at Columbus the first of September. Both are natives of the Buckeye State.

DEAFNESS And Catarrh SUCCESSFULLY TREATED

BY "ACTINA"

Ninety-five per cent of the cases of deafness brought to our attention is the result of chronic catarrh of the throat and middle ear. The air passages become clogged by catarrhal deposits, stopping the action of the vibratory bones. Until these deposits are removed relief is impossible. The inner ear cannot be reached by blowing or spraying, hence the inability of specialists to give relief. That there is a scientific treatment for most forms of deafness and catarrh is proved by the "Actina" treatment. The "Actina" passes through the Eustachian tubes into the middle ear, moving the catarrhal obstructions (loosens up the bones (hammer, anvil and stirrup) in the inner ear, making them respond to the vibration of sound. "Actina" is also very successful in relieving head noises. We have known people afflicted with this distressing trouble for years to be completely relieved in a few weeks by this wonderful treatment. "Actina" has also been very successful in the treatment of the grippe, influenza, colds and other troubles that are directly or indirectly due to catarrh. "Actina" will be sent on trial, postpaid. Write us about your case. Our advice will be free as well as a valuable book—Prof. Wilson's Treatise on Deafness. Address: Actina Appliance Co., Dept. 54-C, 311 Walnut St., Kansas City, Mo.

At a conference to consider the work on the Klamath irrigation project at the offices of the United States reclamation service yesterday afternoon, future work on the project was the chief feature of the discussion.

The meeting was attended by Chief Engineer Arthur P. Davis, Morris B. of the legal department; D. C. Henry, supervising engineer of the work in Oregon; and Mr. O. P. Wolcott and Engineers Newell and Seamen, representing the contracting firm of Mason, Davis & Co.

The claim of Mason, Davis & Co., engineers, who have constructed much of the project for $250,000 for extra work and materials furnished in excess of the engineers' specifications, was considered. Nothing definite was decided upon and another meeting will be held in a few days and the entire matter will be then prepared in such shape to place before the engineering board in charge of the work for a final decision.

Miss Esther Senosky is spending the balance of the season at Clasp Beach. I. E. Solomon, wife and son are spending the current month at Long Beach, Calif. and Mrs. O. P. Wolcott and daughter, Owens, returned yesterday from a four-weeks' sojourn in San Francisco.

Mrs. T. W. Noddy and sister, Mrs. Charles H. Carter of California, are at Seaside for the summer. They are stopping at the Moore hotel.

The National Association of Letter Carriers will hold its sixteenth annual convention in Canton, Ohio, the week of September 2.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Helena, Mont., Aug. 10.—An agonizing cry for help and police aroused a number of residents in the fashionable west side district shortly after midnight last night, with the result that many inquiries came from opened windows as to the cause of the alarm. The telephone of the city were out of commission because of the strike of operators and linemen and the voices of the woman who gave the alarm were readily recognized by neighbors for a block distant, several of whom responded in person so soon as they could don scant clothing.

Arriving at the house they made haste to inquire the cause of the excitement and were informed by the highly frightened woman that she had heard a noise in her room and was quite positive that there was a man under the bed.

Man Also Hears a Noise.

One of the men was dispatched to a police patrol box while the others awaited the arrival of the officers and at the same time endeavoring to pacify the woman.

Before the arrival of the police the relief party was reinforced; however, and it was decided to proceed at once to her sleeping apartments. There was some parleying as to who should enter first and light the gas, which one man finally volunteered to do. Hearing a slight noise, he had hastily retired, declaring that he, too, had heard the sounds which had awakened the woman and caused her outcry to her neighbors for assistance.

It Was a Man, All Right.

With the room lighted, however, and the further fact that the nocturnal callers were duly armed, they decided to complete the task they had started. No sooner had they set foot in the room when they heard someone say, and apparently coming from under the bed, too:

"I've got her now, all right; we'll soon be off."

The neighbors recognized this voice, too. It was that of the man who had been seen in the room. It seems the gentleman in question, who is numbered among the wealthy and prominent citizens of the place, had bought an automobile, and being a practical sort of a person was taking lessons at a garage on its operation and mechanism. It took several minutes to bring him out of his dreamland escapade. He was armed with a monkey-wrench and the bed slats plainly show, his neighbors say, where he essayed to make repairs thereto.

He buys liberally for his friends now.

Mr. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Baker, whose injuries were more or less serious, was taken to her home a few steps away from where she was run over, but her injuries were found to be such that she was taken to St. Vincent's. Mr. Baker, her husband, could not be found last night.

The horses were intercepted at Fulton by members of engine crew No. 10 of the fire department. They were ostensibly on their way home. The wagon was left at the south end of the bridge where it was broken away from it after striking Mrs. Baker.

contact of the wagon with the curb is supposed to be the cause of the disaster to Mr. Fraboe. The horses then turned back across the bridge and caught Mrs. Baker between them and the railing. The tongue of the wagon struck her across the back and she was thrown down under the horses. Mrs. Baker was returning home from the butcher's where she had made a slight purchase for the morrow's dinner.

Mr. Fraboe was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cotel Drug company's store at First and Sherman and subsequently removed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he soon recovered consciousness.

Monday Sale Lace Curtains

All at About One-Half Regular Prices

Nottingham lace, Arabian net, novelty applique, French net, Cluny insertions and edges, Faille borders, Marie Antoinette edges; colors, white, two-toned, ecru and Arabian; beautiful Battenburg effects; any desirable curtain you may have in mind can be found in this great sale assortment, at about one-half and some at even less than half price. Everything from the neat and plainer laces to the very elaborate nets.

322 1/2-Pairs Curtains Go On Sale Monday Morning

No. 12778—39 pairs white Nottingham Lace Curtains, 3 yards long, 45 inches wide, pretty border, good pattern, even mesh; reg. price $1.75, sale price 97c

No. 12261—43 1/2 pairs white Nottingham Lace, similar to 12778, only in finer mesh and more elaborate border; reg. price $2.25, sale price, pair..... $1.10

No. 10423—Novelty Corded, ecru shade, richly patterned, 3 1/2 yds. long, 48 inches wide, 24 pairs; regular price $4.50, sale price, pair..... $2.25

No. 4823—Novelty Curtains, in Marie Antoinette edge, pretty faille border, very attractive; 24 pairs $4.00 values. Sale price, pair..... $2.25

No. 12277—46 pairs White Nottingham Lace, dainty trimmed border, full large size; regular price $3.90. Sale price..... $2.25

No. 4009—Novelty Applique, in white. A very pretty curtain and showy, one sure to please; only 12 pairs; regular price $3.90. Sale price..... $2.25

No. 12864—Arabian Net, just two dozen pairs in this exquisite curtain number, hardly enough to satisfy the demand there will be for them; $3.75 value $2.25

No. 58027—Beautiful ecru net, a most artistic Curtain with its Cluny edge and insertion, only 4 pairs; regular price $8.25, sale price, pair..... $4.50

No. 282—One of the very choicest numbers in the stock; fine Arabian net, with beautiful border pattern of applique, 5 prs.; reg. $7.50, sale price, pr. $4.50

No. 70084—17 pairs French net, dainty Marie Antoinette edge and heavy Arabian insertion; a richly attractive curtain; $7.50 value..... $4.50

ALL PHONE AND MAIL ORDERS GIVEN PROMPT ATTENTION

CURTAIN
SALE
HELD IN DRAPERY DEPARTMENT
ON SECOND FLOOR

"GEVURTZ SELLS IT FOR LESS"
GEVURTZ
6-SONS
GEVURTZ BLOCK BOUNDED BY YAMHILL FIRST AND SECOND STS PORTLAND

ALL MAIL
ORDERS GIVEN
OUR
QUICK AND CAREFUL ATTENTION

A SEWING MACHINE REMOVAL SALE

50--SLIGHTLY MARRED--50

Sewing Machines Will Be Sold Regardless of Cost

NEW HOMES, WHEELER & WILSON
SINGERS, DAVIS, WHITES

THE WHITE SEWING MACHINE CO.

Have secured the lease of the corner store in the new Baker building at Eleventh and Washington and are now making a clean sweep of all slightly marred sewing machines at their old location.

Fourth and Yamhill Streets, Opp. Y. M. C. A. Building

Phone Main 6102

Suggestions for the Picnic Basket

By Elizabeth Roberts.
(Level measurements must be used in all the following recipes.)

Egg sandwiches—Mash hard-boiled eggs with a fork, season with salt and pepper, and moisten with melted butter or mayonnaise. Spread between thin slices of buttered bread with the crusts removed.

Sardines and cheese sandwiches—Remove sardines and bones from sardines and mash to a paste. Season to taste with salt, pepper, lemon juice and a few drops of Worcestershire sauce. If liked, moisten with a little melted butter, and spread very thin on slices of buttered bread, over the sardine paste lay Swiss cheese cut to water-like thinness, cover with buttered bread and cut in oblongs or triangles.

Pig sandwiches—Chop selected thin-sliced white flour, one cup sugar, one half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon soda, one each cinnamon and vanilla, one half teaspoon mace, one cup butter, one egg, and four tablespoons milk.

Mix dry ingredients thoroughly, rub in butter, add egg well beaten and milk. Roll out on floured board, cut with a round cutter, and bake in a buttered pan, in a moderate oven until lightly browned.

Butter cookies—Beat to a cream one half cup sugar and three tablespoons butter, add one small egg well beaten, two tablespoons milk, one fourth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder and flour to make a stiff drop batter, about two thirds of a cup will be required. Lastly add two thirds of a cup of toasted peanuts finely chopped and a few gratings of lemon peel.

Drop from a teaspoon, on buttered tin, about two inches apart and bake in rather a quick oven. If a large egg be used more flour will be needed, and more butter may be used.

String bean salad—This can be carried conveniently in glass fruit jars