

PARSON GOVERNOR MIXES UP WITH JUDGE LINDSAY

Buchtel Declares Court Is Fice in Reply to Charges That Colorado Is Rotten and That He Is Friar Tuck of Criminal Corporations.

(Herald News by Longest Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Aug. 10.—Hostilities between Governor Buchtel of Colorado and Judge Lindsay of the Denver juvenile court reached the no-quarter point, but Buchtel declared tonight that if Lindsay attempted to carry out his intention to call on him he would shut the door of his room at the hotel in Lindsay's face. Buchtel called Lindsay a "little frowny" and Lindsay said that "The Rev. Henry Augustus Buchtel was the friar tuck of the criminal corporations of Colorado" in his capacity as governor of the state.

to intrude into the Governor Folk of Missouri class, he does me a great honor. Whatever Buchtel may say, challenges him to produce proof that my statements concerning the corruption of Colorado politics as they are at present are wrong.

"I will go over to the annex to Governor Buchtel's room and there charge him with being the head of the criminal corporations, blindly or willingly, and dare him to produce proof that the charges are not true. Says I will further, I will prove my charge to be true."

Says Guggenheim Bought Seat.

"I challenge him to disprove these two propositions:

"Two.—That the state of Colorado has not a representative government, but is in control of the criminal corporations, who are exploiting the state in the interest of special privileges."

When Governor Buchtel was told of the fact that Lindsay would go to his room and force an answer to the proposition propounded in the face of the clerical chief executive of the state of Colorado he became livid and said:

"If that man attempts to come to my room I will close the door in his face. I am governor of Colorado and the chancellor of Denver university, and as such my position is too prominent to give that little frowny the notoriety he craves."

"I will not meet Lindsay anywhere in the discussion of any topic, for he is nobody, and I could not afford to demean myself by entering into discussion with him in public or private. I will answer your queries on paper next Tuesday, when I return to the city."

FRANK ROCKEFELLER DECLARES TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE ASSUMES SERIOUS PHASE AND LOCALS LIKELY TO QUIT.

(Herald News by Longest Leased Wire.)
New York, Aug. 10.—The World this morning prints the following interview with Frank Rockefeller, which they kept secret for a year and a half under agreement with Mr. Rockefeller.

"My father is alive and well," said Mr. Rockefeller. "He is dependent upon no man. He would scorn the proposal of financial aid from John D. and would not take it from me."

"He has means of his own, ample for all his needs."

"But there is a reason why I cannot at this time tell you where he is. In a few weeks or months he will be ready to tell a story that will amaze and horrify the whole world."

"No one yet knows that I am writing the story, the real history of John D.'s life."

"I finished it secretly here in my office several months ago, but there were imperfections in the work and I am doing it all over again."

"I am sure that it will be right this time."

"Yes," he continued, in a bitter tone, "when I make John D.'s true life history public and the facts about his father, this country will be too warm for its richest citizen."

"Do not ask John D. where our father is; tell him that I sent you and that I dare him to answer."

"But the time will soon come when I can safely say. Then it will not be safe for John D. to appear upon the streets of any American city. He would be stoned by the people."

"Nothing but flight from the country to some foreign land will save him when the whole truth is known."

So serious has the telegraphers' strike become throughout the country that the Western Union company in Portland is refusing to accept messages for delivery unless the sender assumes all risk and even then only on the condition that the messages be subject to indefinite delay.

Very little business arrived from the east yesterday and the situation is becoming more critical hourly.

The local operators have not changed from the position they took at Friday night's meeting when they decided to remain at their keys until called out by President S. J. Small. Press dispatches from Chicago last night say that President Small will sanction the strike today. If he does every man in the country will quit, including the Portland men, and for the first time in the history of commercial telegraphy the entire country will be without wire service.

While the condition in Portland is critical, it is even worse in other coast cities, especially those of the Pacific northwest. Seattle has no connection whatever with the east and Portland has no wire into Helena at night.

Spokane is in worse shape for telegraphic communication than either Portland or Seattle. The only outlet from the metropolis of eastern Washington is into Portland, where nothing was taken yesterday in the way of messages save local business for California, Washington, Oregon and British Columbia points.

Short connections prevail for outside points at Spokane and farther east connections are short because of the strike. All messages from Spokane to Helena are being sent by mail, as are other messages to points in the vicinity of Helena.

The Portland operators are waiting for instructions from President Small. They are ready to go out at a moment's notice and say they will have the messengers back of them as they deal with the telegraph company. Even if the messengers should stay with the company, the men are not in command, the outcome of the strike in this city, because of the strong organization which has been perfected.

PINKERTON'S TIP OFF UNION WORK

Have Become Members of Telegraphers' Societies and Keep Companies Posted.

(United Press by Special Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Aug. 10.—Bulliet—Evidence was secured today that Pinkerton detectives have worked into the Commercial Telegraphers' union and are keeping the Western Union and Postal companies posted on every move of the strikers.

Speeches were made by union members in which it was admitted that the Pinkertons have succeeded in affiliating with the Western Union and Postal committees. Thompson said: "There is nothing to it. We have got them licked."

The union at Washington, D. C., telegraphed to President Small asking permission to go out. Their leaders explained that they want to see the action will bring the situation to the attention of the government. Twelve other unions in the district also called upon the long distance phone and requested instructions.

The Associated Press man will demonstrate a week for eight hours and 75 cents an hour for overtime.

The only wires operated under contract are those of the brokers and those of the United Press and the Hearst News service.

HARTJE CANNOT ESCAPE TRIAL

Millionaire's Cousin Declares Case Will Be Prosecuted Very Soon.

(Herald News by Longest Leased Wire.)
Pittsburg, Aug. 10.—I shall try Augustus Hartje for perjury and conspiracy, notwithstanding the fact that he is a relative of mine," This was the statement made by District Attorney Harry Goehring this afternoon when told that Hartje has fled to the coast.

Goehring is again to try for a divorce from his wife, said that Hartje would never be tried. The district attorney is a cousin of Hartje, and for this reason it is presumed Goehring felt so confident.

Hartje is under indictment for conspiring with William Hooe, a negro coachman, now serving seven years in the penitentiary for perjury and conspiracy. Hooe, it will be remembered, was the negro who swore he had improper relations with Mrs. Hartje. He admitted Hartje had listened to his first story without turning pale and kept him supplied with money to keep him away from Pittsburg.

Goehring is mad, and the indications tonight are that Hartje will be tried soon.

SHINGLE MEN IN FIGHT WITH LUMBERMEN

Will Swell Defense Fund and Join in Coming Rate Fight.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Seattle, Aug. 10.—C. F. White, chairman of the executive committee representing the Lumber Manufacturers' associations of Oregon and Washington, was today empowered to represent the shingle mills bureau in the fight against the proposed advance in lumber and shingle rates effective October 1. His appointment as chairman of the shingle mills bureau committee and giving him authority to represent the shingle manufacturers in the lumbermen's executive committee gave White half a vote in that compact organization which controls the fight against the railroads.

Coupled with the fact that he represents two of the four mill combines in the committee is the circumstance that as chairman he will have authority to direct active work and will not be hampered by other members, who at best could only tie his vote in matters of policy.

The assessment of $1 per 1,000 shingles of a single day's cut leveled against all mills in the shingle mills bureau means that the shingle manufacturers will add $40,000 to the defense fund of $148,000 already guaranteed by three lumber manufacturers' organizations.

This far the lumber associations of Puget sound, Grays harbor and the Columbia river and the lumbermen of California and Idaho have taken no action. If they make an assessment the defense fund will be swelled above the $250,000 originally set for it. A meeting of the shingle mills bureau will be called that the entire assessment would not be called immediately.

LOVERS ELUDE ANGRY FATHER

Granddaughter of Stonewall Jackson Elopes With Briefless Barrister.

(Herald News by Longest Leased Wire.)
Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 10.—After a long flight of more than 350 miles, with her angry father in pursuit not 20 miles behind all the way, Miss Julia Jackson Christian, the beautiful granddaughter of Stonewall Jackson, the Confederate general, was married at Salisbury Thursday night to E. Randolph Preston, a young lawyer of Charlotte.

The father of the bride, W. E. Christian, arrived here a few minutes behind his daughter. Miss Christian, who lives here with Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, had been visiting her father in Atlanta, where she was the recipient of attention from numerous public men, even the Georgia senate adjourning in her honor.

Thursday night he was astounded to receive a telegram from her announcing that she had taken a train for Charlotte. Suspecting what her intentions were, he dashed out and was just in time to board the special train from New York and New Orleans limited, the first section of which, with his daughter on board, had pulled out 30 minutes ahead of him.

Then began the chase, the father hoping against hope that something would happen to detain the train in front so that he might catch up. But like the true granddaughter of Stonewall Jackson Christian had laid her plans well. She had her sweetest here to meet her at the station. The young man telegraphed a college chum at Salisbury to be ready to receive her at the depot when the train arrived there. Then he boarded the train with Christian, and when the couple arrived at Salisbury they found the preacher on hand. The ceremony was performed immediately.

COMMISSIONER KNAPP WEDS MRS. GARDNER

(Herald News by Longest Leased Wire.)
New York, Aug. 10.—Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, was married today to Mrs. Mary N. Gardner of Syracuse. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Andrews, a life-long friend of Mr. Knapp. Only the immediate families were present. Following the wedding the pair left for Spring Lake beach for a honeymoon.

Both Mrs. Gardner and Mr. Knapp have been married before. The announcement came as a great surprise to their friends, as no mention had been made of the approaching nuptials. Mrs. Gardner came to New York accompanied by her mother and brother, Dr. Wayward. Mr. and Mrs. Knapp will make their future home at St. Albans court, Washington, D. C., after October 15.

The number of women employed as printers in England increases every year. At present there are 300 in London alone.

ENGINE JUMPS BUT PASSENGERS ESCAPE

(Herald News by Longest Leased Wire.)
Washington, Aug. 10.—The engine of the Baltimore and Ohio train from the west, due here at 1 p. m., left the rails going 60 miles an hour at Kennington, a suburb a few miles from Washington. The engine tore up about 200 yards of cross ties, but the coaches held to the track. The passengers were jolted, but there was no one hurt.

FIGHT HILL FOR CHICAGO TERMINAL

Harriman Plans Gigantic Campaign to Gain Control of Transfer Road.

(United Press by Special Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Aug. 10.—E. H. Harriman was in Chicago this afternoon planning a gigantic fight with J. J. Hill for the position of the Chicago Terminal Transfer railroad, over which Harriman expects to enter Chicago with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Hill wants the terminal transfer for his own entry into Chicago with the Great Northern.

The terminal was one of the properties over which John R. Walsh had control, and is presently in the hands of a facility left for any great system to enter Chicago. Through the fight over it Walsh hopes to rehabilitate his industrial properties.

Harriman left tonight for the west upon a tour of inspection of the Pacific coast railroads in which he is interested.

"JACK THE HUGGER" IS ARRESTED ONCE MORE

Ed Gee, "Jack the Hugger," who is alleged to have viciously assaulted Mrs. Nellie Averill, of 298 Eleventh street, on Morrison street Friday night and was subsequently taken into custody on a charge of disorderly conduct, was again arrested by Detective Tichenor last evening on a warrant charging him with assault and battery.

For some reason, although the warrant called for $100 cash bail, Gee was allowed to go on his own recognizance. As the matter now stands the accused must only been required to produce $100 on two serious charges, which, in view of the circumstances surrounding the case, is regarded as low bail.

The police declare Gee to be a dangerous character and it will not be at all surprising if he would fail to be on hand upon the calling of the case tomorrow morning.

OREGON'S MARKSMEN LEAVE THIS MORNING

Expert Riflemen Go in Special Car to National Shoot.

Oregon's team of expert riflemen, picked from the national guard of the state, will leave this morning in a private car on the O. R. & N. for Fort Clinton, Ohio, where the national contests will be held. The party is composed of 18 men, there being 15 sharpshooters and three officers in command. Adjutant-General Finzer commands the party. Captain Bettlemier of Woodburn is statistical officer, and Lieutenant White is ordnance officer. The

HUMOROUS THIEF NABS PAL'S BEST TROUSERS

Reynold Olson, who is now being sought by Detective John Price on a charge of larceny, can justly lay claim to being one of the most original humorous thieves ever coming to the notice of the police.

Olson, who is a teamster, rewarded the hospitality of his friend, Harry Buckles, who gave him shelter for two nights at the Butte hotel, Sixth and Glisan, by stealing the latter's best suit.

This evening Buckles received a letter from Olson in which the thief stated that he had taken the garments as security against the former leaving the city. "I took your suit old pal," read the communication, "because I like you. I want you to take a trip east with me this fall and if you haven't any clothes I know you won't go. I'll bring back the suit at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, so don't worry."

Buckles reported his loss to the bureau of criminal investigation and Detective Price was detailed on the case. At 7:45 o'clock, 15 minutes later than the time set forth in the letter when Olson was to put in an appearance, Price recovered the suit in a Third street second-hand store where it had been sold a few minutes previously.

A search is now being made for the humorous Mr. Olson.

WHAT ELSE COULD HE DO?

From Ally Sloper:
Her lips were so near.
That what else could I do?
You'll be angry, I fear,
But her lips were so near—
Well I can't make it clear—
Or explain it to you—
But her lips were so near—
That what else could I do?

STREET TREE PLANTING

How St. Louis Expects to Secure the Most Satisfactory Results.

In the general movement for civic improvement the question of trees is an important factor, and much attention has been given to the choice of the best trees for St. Louis conditions, says the Globe-Democrat. Several kinds of trees have been tested by experts, and two have been found to be capable of enduring without injury the smoke, soft coal gases and other conditions peculiar to this city. These are the sycamore and in some degree the swamp (or soft) maple.

This plan has been adopted with a view to harmony and a consequent greater street beauty. It has been found that if trees of the same species are planted together the general effect is more symmetrical and pleasing to the eye than if different sorts are grouped.

Trees of the same species have the same general form and outline, spread to about the same distance and form a more compact mass of foliage than if those of different rapidity of growth are used.

Some property owners object to what they term arbitrary action of the city in compelling a man to plant one sort of tree when he wants to plant another, but in most cases when reasons for this action are explained they see the purpose and are willing to conform to the new rules, especially since it relates to sidewalk trees only and leaves the individual free to make his own choice of trees for his yard.

Sycamores and maples are now therefore the official trees for St. Louis, and all future tree planting will be done in conformity with the new order. This is also in consonance with the fact that the street trees are planted on the city's property, not the property owner's.

NEW USE FOR BUTTER

Prevents Boiling Over.

Coffee frequently produces biliousness and all of the accompanying distress, such as loss of appetite, dyspepsia, bowel troubles, etc. A lady from Illinois says: "I had used coffee for many years and though I took great care in making it, felt its ill effects very seriously. It made me bilious and robbed me of my appetite for breakfast. I always had trouble with dyspepsia while I used it. I was told by physicians that I had catarrh of the stomach and that I believe there was no help for me. Two years ago I quit the use of coffee and began to use Postum 'Breakfast' Coffee. At first I found it stimulating, although the taste of the food coffee was delicious."

"In a few days I forgot all about my coffee in the morning, derived from Postum, and soon found that my appetite returned, the bilious condition and dyspepsia disappeared so that now I am proud to say that at the age of 75 years I enjoy my food as well as when young and all my dyspeptic symptoms and stomach trouble have gone."

"These troubles had been with me for most of my life and it is really remarkable that I am now so perfectly well. To say that I am grateful does not express it. Once in a while I find a person who does not like Postum, but I always find it is because it has not been properly prepared. There is but one way to make good Postum, and that is to make it exactly according to directions, allowing it to boil full 15 minutes, not after it is placed on the stove, but after the real boiling begins. Use a small piece of butter, about the size of a pea, to prevent boiling over." Read "The Road to Well-being" in booklet, "There's Reason."
