

ELECTION IN FRISCO

Voters Divided on Question of Reform and Six New Factions Are in the Field With Candidates Asking to Be Made Delegates.

(Journal Special Service.)
San Francisco, Aug. 12.—With the city divided into six factions of three parties, one of the most important primary elections ever held here is occurring today. Upon its outcome will hinge the future of San Francisco, for the delegates to the local nominating conventions will be chosen.

The three parties involved are the Democratic, Republican and Union Labor. Each party is divided into two factions and it is hard to predict the outcome of the reformers appear to have the situation well in hand.

Only the Democrats are not split on the question of reform. Both factions of Democracy have declared for clean politics in municipal affairs and the adherence of the graft prosecutions to the other parties this is the dividing line.

In the Union Labor party the factions are led by Egan and Schmitt, former members of the graft ring, who are making their fight on the machine ticket. Michael Casey, head of the "reformers' union," is in the forefront of the other faction, which has for its motto the retention of Francis J. Heney and municipal reform.

PIONEERS' REUNION IN WALLA WALLA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Walla Walla, Wash., Aug. 13.—Members of the Pioneers' association are laying plans for an enjoyable reunion at the Ballou farm, near the state line, tomorrow. President Blalock expects that over 150 members of the association, many who crossed the plains over half a century ago, will be in attendance. A preliminary meeting will be held at the courthouse in the forenoon. After adjournment the pioneers will board an interurban train and go to the Ballou farm, where a big dinner will be served on the Ballou lawns. The afternoon will be given over to short speeches and a general good time by the pioneers.

OREGON BOY WHO PICKED UP BALLOONING ALL BY HIMSELF

Ralph Berry and His Balloon.

Ralph Berry, an 18-year-old boy of Grant's Pass, is making regular ascensions in a balloon that he built himself. The balloon is also equipped with a parachute with which the young balloonist descends to earth after attaining a height of several thousand feet. Young Berry had the assistance of a balloonmaker in manufacturing his balloon and parachute, but the feat of ascending and returning by the parachute he learned himself. His ascensions here have been very successful; in fact, far better than any ever made by a professional. Berry will take his balloon on a tour of the country and will enter the business of "professional ballooning."

STOCKMEN USE FOREST LANDS

Many Grazing Permits Are Issued by Supervisors of National Preserves.

GREAT INCREASE IS SHOWN THIS SEASON

Pastures Are Not Being Crowded and Larger Number of Cattle Pastured Is Due to the Fact That the Area Is Greater.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)
Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—The report of grazing in the national forests for the fiscal year 1906-1907 has been completed. The total area of all the forests is over 156,000,000 acres, but sheep is not pastured in all of them. Sheep, goats, horses, and cattle are the kinds of live stock entering into the statistics. In one region, cattle and horses predominate, in another sheep and goats.

TIMBER TAX GRAFT TO BE BROKEN UP

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Chehalis, Wash., Aug. 13.—The Weyerhaeuser Timber company, the Continental and other large holders, as well as all the smaller timber owners who have timber holdings in Lewis county on which the county's cruisers have made report, will receive notice within the next two or three days to appear before the Lewis county equalization board and show cause why their valuations on timber land holdings should not be raised. Some of the raises are 50, some 100 and some 200 per cent. It has been found that certain sections which have heretofore been taxed in a ridiculously low valuation are worth vastly more than they have been represented to be worth, and it is charged against the Weyerhaeuser company that one section which their agents have represented as burned over and practically worthless has on it more than 50,000, 000 feet of fine timber. The board and Cruiser Clinton are at Seattle and Tacoma consulting with the authorities there in regard to the cruises in King and Pierce counties.

RAILWAY OPERATORS WIN THREE POINTS

(Journal Special Service.)
San Francisco, Aug. 12.—The Order of Railway Telegraphers won a victory over the Southern Pacific railroad yesterday, when Judge Van Fleet handed down his decision in the appeal from the arbitration board's report. The court's decision gave the telegraphers three out of four important points.

Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, as given by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been a boon to thousands on every bottle-wraper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, gnawing distress in stomach, periodical pains, disagreeable, catarrhal, pelvic drain, dragging-down distress in lower abdomen or pelvis, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or other derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and local treatments of the family physician can be avoided and a thorough course of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription"; it will not perform miracles; it will not dissolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given a fair chance by persevering in its use for a reasonable length of time.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this remedy of known composition. Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic. Pass to take as candy.

LATEST FIGURES ON OREGON COAL

Coos Bay Field Is Largest and Product Greatest—Little Known of Field East of Cascades—History of the State's Production.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)
Washington, Aug. 13.—The only productive coal field in Oregon is situated in the southwestern part of the state, in Coos county, and is known as the Coos Bay field, from the fact that it entirely surrounds that body of water. It occupies a total area of about 250 square miles, its length north and south being about 30 miles and its maximum breadth at the middle about 11 miles, from which it tapers regularly toward both ends.

Earlier coal fields have been prospected in different parts of the state, and some of them contain coal of fairly good quality. Among these are the upper Nehalem field, in Columbia county; the lower Nehalem field, in Clatsop and Tillamook counties; the Yaquina field, in Lincoln county; and the Siskiyou and Haast's Coast fields in Clatsop county. All of these fields lie west of the Cascade range, but none has been developed to the point of production. Another field has been located in the basin of John Day river, east of the Cascade range, but little is known concerning it. All of the fields west of the range, with the exception of the Coos bay, are of small area, the largest outside of Coos bay being the upper Nehalem, which has an area of less than 20 miles. The coal of all these fields is lignitic in character.

Coal mining in Oregon during the last two years has been adversely affected by the great increase in the production of petroleum in California and its use as fuel. All of the product from the Coos bay has been shipped by water, principally to San Francisco.

History of Production.
The increased use of fuel oil in that city has decreased the consumption of coal to a marked degree, and the effect upon Oregon's product is shown in a decrease from 109,541 short tons in 1905 to 73,721 tons in 1906, a loss of 29,910 tons, or 27.3 per cent. The value declined $70,157, or 24.8 per cent, from $282,495 in 1905 to $212,338 in 1906. An advance in prices of Oregon coal was first noted in the Coos Bay field about fifty years ago. Prof. J. S. Newberry having reported in 1855 that the cost of deposit of Coos Bay had begun to attract attention. Some mining was done there in 1855 and 1872, and in 1875 two mines, the Eastport and the Newport, were in active operation. The Newport, however, is the only one surviving. The Beaver Hill mine, opened in 1905, was at first a rather uncertain factor, but is now an important producer. The census of 1880 reports the total coal production of Oregon at 49,205 tons, this being the earliest record of production in the state. The total production has exceeded 1,000,000 tons in 1904, when it reached 1,115,640 tons.

ARCHDUKE TO PAY DAMAGES

Francis Ferdinand Ordered to Rome After Losing Suit in Court.

RAND STRIKERS ARE TO MAKE COMPROMISE

Many of the Miners Have Resumed Work and the Only Obstacle to Settling the Difficulty Is Reduced Terms of Wages.

(Journal Special Service.)

London, Aug. 12.—The Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria has lost his action, brought in the Italian courts, with regard to the famous Villa d'Este at Tivoli, and has been ordered in Rome to pay damages to Signor Nobile, the heir of the late Cardinal Hohenlohe. The facts are these: The Villa d'Este, which tourists know so well, descended from the last Duke of Modena to the present heir of the Austrian throne. During the duke's lifetime Cardinal Hohenlohe was allowed to occupy the villa without rent on condition that he paid for all the necessary repairs and reserved a suite of apartments for the owner. The villa was, and still is, in a state of great dilapidation and the cardinal during his long tenure of it spent large sums upon it. When the cardinal died Signor Nobile handed over the villa to the archduke and claimed a sum of $64,000 for extraordinary expenditure incurred by Cardinal Hohenlohe on the property. He has now won his case, but the exact amount of damages remains to be assessed by an architect appointed by the court.

According to semi-official telegraphic reports received at St. Petersburg, the crop prospects in European Russia on July 15 were not generally better owing to the weather in June. Winter wheat was medium, rye good average and summer cereals good average. Winter wheat in the southwestern government was unsatisfactory, and in some cases bad. In the Russian government winter wheat was partly unsatisfactory, in the central districts and in a part of Poland in the other governments average. A compromise is anticipated by which the strike will be declared off as regards certain mines. The Miners' Association of Johannesburg disclaims any intention of returning the financial assistance proffered by the British min-

WHAT HAPPENED SUNDAY AT HEIDELBERG!

The Future View ALL ROADS LEAD TO HEIDELBERG!

THEY surely did Sunday. Crowds of homeseekers and investors took advantage of the opening of this magnificent tract and all day long the carriages were kept busy carrying the people to and from HEIDELBERG.

The conservative business man was there looking for a good investment. The man with boys and girls to educate, looking for a cozy home-site near "Concordia" college.

The man of moderate means looking for a home within reach of his pocketbook. The young couple looking for their first home.

And last but not least the man of wealth looking for an ideal site for a mansion. They all found what they wanted, and it was an enthusiastic crowd that investigated HEIDELBERG, making plans for the future.

It is not a question of telling you through the papers what HEIDELBERG is; you must see this beautiful tract, to understand and appreciate its many important advantages.
