Oregon Prisoners' Aid Society Desires City Council to Provide Such Institution—Mayor Lane Approves Plan and Several Councilmen Like It Also.

Mayor Lane this morning received a communication from the Oregon Prisoners' Aid society asking that the city council provide a workhouse for municipal offenders instead of the proposed new jail and emergency hospital, and the mayor will present it to the council this afternoon for consideration. Mayor Lane heartily approves of the plan and believes that it will furnish an answer to the prisoner problem so far as the expense of maintenance is concerned, and in addition will tend greatly to uplift the morals of those in detention. It is also understood that several councilmen like the plan and it will probably be given considerable attention before the city council meets.

President Refuses to Take Part in the Telegraphers' Strike—Crisis to Come When Small Arrives at Chicago Tomorrow.

(Journal Special Service.) Chicago, Aug. 14.—The climax in the telegraphers' strike is due tomorrow upon the arrival of President Samuel Small at this Commercial Telegraphers' union of America, who is now enroute from San Francisco. The strikers claim that more than 10,000 men are out now and that 15,000 more will be called out should a general strike order be issued. Small is expected to call a general strike upon his arrival here. President Roosevelt has refused to interfere. The strikers are claiming a victory, but the companies insist that they are able to handle the bulk of the business. This is discredited, however, and it is reported that the congestion cannot be cleared up for weeks. Both sides spurn arbitration, claiming that there are certain of victory. There is immediate danger of a strike of 47,000 railway operators. This danger was increased today and there is a possibility of its including the telephone operators. President Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, admitted today that his mission here as an arbitrator has failed and that there is little chance of averting a general strike.

WRIGHT

Chief Clerk Wright of the Portland, Together With Others, Owns Fabulously Rich Copper Claims in Wyoming.

From hotel clerk to millionaire is the transition which Allan A. Wright, chief clerk of the Portland hotel is enjoying. Mr. Wright took up three or four copper claims near Casper, Wyoming, several months ago with several other Portland men, including Mr. Wright's father-in-law, H. C. Bowers, manager of the Portland. Several weeks ago it was discovered that the veins of the Williams and Luman property in the famous Copper district ran directly into the claims owned by Mr. Wright. This fact leaves the Wyoming people the opinion of other stopping work when they get as far as Mr. Wright's claims or buying him out.

Allan A. Wright, Whose Copper Claims Have Made Him a Millionaire.

"TONGUES OF FIRE" NOTIFIED TO MOVE HEADQUARTERS AT ONCE

Aroused by the constant complaint of residents in the vicinity of the "Tongues of Fire" tabernacle at East Twelfth and Division streets, Chief Getzmaier has officially notified the owners of that sect that they must forthwith remove their headquarters to some other place. It was Judge Cameron's strenuous complaint to the head of the police department that is really responsible for the order to move. Cameron resides near the "noise factory" and declares that the number of women in the neighborhood are now confined to their beds with nervous prostration as the result of the nocturnal devotional exercises.

CHARGE NELSON WITH PROPOSALS

Lawyer Object of Attack by Officers of Two Local Associations.

In a communication to the public, in which is expressed a determination to expose every case of girls being lured in business offices, Mrs. Constance McCorkle, general secretary of the National Finance company, and Mrs. M. J. Baldwin, director of the Travelers' Aid society, make grave charges against D. R. Nelson, aged 67 years, attorney and manager of the National Finance company whose offices are at 208 Marquam building. The communication, says, in part: "This man answered our advertisements which we placed in the papers for stenographers. Miss C., a bright, capable stenographer, arrived in Portland, coming at once to the association, as she was anxious to procure work, her money being nearly exhausted. She applied during the afternoon and went to work for Nelson the following morning, but was compelled to leave his office at noon on account of his indecent proposals. She found that she would be required to come back at 7 o'clock at night, and when she reached he said to her: 'You are hard up for money, aren't you?'

FEARS PUBLICITY WILL LOSE POWELL HIS JOB

Marshal of Nome Gets Circuit Court Judges to Have Complaint Withdrawn.

PAYS WIFE'S ALIMONY TO CONTINUE IN OFFICE

The extraordinary efforts which have been made to keep from the public all knowledge of the suit filed Saturday against T. Cader Powell by his former wife, lends strong color to the perennially recurring rumor that he is in grave danger of losing his job as United States marshal at Nome. The impression is quite general that Powell's tenure of office is exceedingly uncertain, and that his removal would be apt to follow the receipt at Washington of the department's report on his arrest to his unsavory record. There is distinct significance therefore in the fact that through the accommodating acquiescence of the judge of the circuit court he was allowed last Tuesday to withdraw from the court files the complaint which his ex-wife had lodged against him, only three days before.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Three Suits Brought Against Company for Violation of 28-Hour Law.

Assistant United States Attorney James Cole filed three suits today in behalf of the United States against the Southern Pacific Railway company for violating the 28-hour law, in which the company is asked to pay into Uncle Sam's coffers the sum of $12,000 for not giving shipments of coal, rest and food as provided for by law. The suits are in regard to three shipments from California points to Tacoma and involve 707 tons of coal. The bills of complaint show that the stock was on board the cars for 37 hours without being fed or watered. The law requires that in shipment shall be fed, watered and rested every 28 hours, except where the shipper agrees to extend the time to 36 hours. In the present cases no extension was agreed to by the consignors.

THIEVES WITH WAGON STEAL HORSHOES TO SELL AS JUNK

At last the daring thief who stole a steam saw last year has met his match. W. H. Boyd, a horseshoer at 494 North Fourth street reported to the police this morning that some one had driven a wagon to the back of his shop last night and carried away 150 pairs of old horse shoes which had been stored there. The thief was seen to load the wagon and the detectives are closely watching the junk stores in expectation that the crooks will attempt to dispose of the material in this city.

MAGIC MIRRORS TO PASS ON, SAYS COLE

Some drunken practical joker perpetrated an outrage at Seventeenth and Alder streets at 2:30 o'clock this morning which resulted in the destruction of a plate-glass window valued at $100. At the intersection of the two streets a wagon carrying one of the rear wheels rolled it down Seventeenth street. The wheel gained great momentum down the grade and crashed into the show window of Reiner's furniture, 563 Washington street. The police have a clue to the identity of the culprit and his arrest will follow.

UNUSUAL PROCEDURE SANCTIONED BY COURT UPON SETTLEMENT OF ACTION—JUDGE WEBSTER DENIES PUBLISHED STATEMENT.

In pursuance of this arrangement application was made to Judge Sears to allow the complaint to be withdrawn from the files. Unwilling to take the sole responsibility for such an unusual procedure, Judge Sears conferred with Judge Fraser, and the two judges finally entered the desired order. As a consequence the court records show only the title of the case, "Gertrude Powell vs. T. Cader Powell," and all the papers which would throw light on the character of the suit are missing. Both Judge Sears and Judge Fraser admit that it is very unusual to allow papers which are a part of the court records to be removed from the files. It is done occasionally, when the facts seem to justify it. In the present case they say that as the case had been adjourned they saw no reason why for denying the request.

BICYCLE RIDER IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Runaway Horse at Third and Couch Streets Caused Accident.

Hall Reinhard, an 18-year-old youth employed at the Centennial Iron works, 228 Gilman street, was seriously injured at 8:30 o'clock this morning by being hurled from his bicycle by a runaway horse. The accident, which caused great excitement, occurred near the corner of Third and Couch streets and Reinhard's left forearm was pierced by a cork on one of the wheels of the horse. The injured lad was taken to St. Vincent's hospital in the patrol wagon. The horse and wagon responsible for the accident belongs to Woodruff, Clarke & Co., and was in charge of Frank Burns, 16 years old. Burns hitched the horse in front of the Burns' warehouse, Fifth and Hoy streets, and while filling an order the animal took fright at a passing truck. Rushing down the city street to Third street, the runaway luckily escaped colliding with any vehicles or pedestrians. After turning down Third street in order to avoid a northbound "S" car, Young Reinhard was going north on his bicycle and before he realized the horse had come across the street, the impact threw him several feet into the air and demolished his bicycle. He was struck on the arm by one of the animal's hoofs and was considerably bruised by the fall. Patrolman John Golts was quickly on the scene and carried Reinhard to a nearby drug store after having the wound on his arm dressed the youth was removed to the hospital.

BETRAYED HIMSELF TALKING IN SLEEP

Nocturnal Conversations of D. W. Butler Get Him Into Police Court.

D. W. Butler's habit of carrying on nocturnal conversations while in the realms of Morpheus, furnished his wife with the startling information that she had been supplanted in his affections by another woman. The police court trial this morning of Butler and Mrs. Marguerite I. Gilbert, of 320 Park street, on charges of unbecoming conduct can be directly attributed to the former's "lapis lingue." The two defendants were taken into custody Sunday night by Detectives Kay and Klenin in Mrs. Gilbert's room at 320 Park street. The woman was enviously rapturous when she broke into the room and Butler explained his presence in the apartment by declaring that he had been giving Mrs. Gilbert an osteopathic treatment. The agitated wife, Mrs. Butler, was present at the time and attempted to assault her rival.

NEW SWITCHBOARDS TO BE INSTALLED

Fire Chief Dave Campbell Announces Change in Fire Department.

Improvements in the local fire department service will be made as rapidly as the city electrician can install the new switchboards and fire boxes which were received by Fire Chief Dave Campbell this morning. There are 18 boxes and when all the paraphernalia is installed the department will have the "fast time" system and will be able to get four alarms in the time the department now gets one. The old fire bell will be discarded and when the chiefs are out of their stations they will have to take a man along with them to be stationed at the nearest fire alarm box so they can keep in constant communication with headquarters. Men exercising horses will have to perform the stunt in front of the fire stations, so as to be ready when an alarm comes in. Many business men have protested against the abolition of the fire bell, because it gives them warning when they are at home where their property is on fire or not. Others favor the scheme and say that it is one of the useless nuisances of the city. Members of the fire department are in favor of abolishing the bell because of the large crowds it draws at every fire.

BOILERMAKERS WENT TO WORK AT NOON FROM AN ELEVATOR

Strike Affecting Southern Pacific System in Four States Is Settled.

A strike of all boilermakers on the Southern Pacific system in Oregon, Idaho, Nevada and California was settled this morning and the men went to work at noon today. At the East Portland shops there were 16 men out and they resumed their work under the old scale and conditions. The Portland strike was entirely sympathetic with the Los Angeles strikers, who quit work because the Harriman line was to be taken over by the Southern Pacific service. As a result of his resignation the men and the company settled their trouble at Los Angeles and the boilermakers returned to work this morning. Word was received yesterday afternoon by the Portland strikers that the Los Angeles trouble was settled and they were named by the boilermakers' superintendent, J. F. Graham, superintendent of motive power of the Harriman line, to resume work in all Portland shops. Mr. Graham was angry at the men for quitting work a week ago. He alleged that they had broken an agreement entered into when the present wage scale was adopted and treated the committee with scant courtesy. The men maintain that they had had no agreement excepting a wage scale with the present management of the Harriman line, and that the old agreement was abrogated when the present scale was adopted. This morning negotiations were resumed and the boilermakers' committee was more pleasantly received. Arrangements were quickly made for resuming work.

Mrs. Alder related the details of Gee's assault on the role of "Jack the Hugger," and positively identified him as the man who had accosted and assaulted her.
