Rops Going to Europe.

An incident that fully disproves the pearish talk sent to Oregon producers by hop dealers who are heavily short of the coming crop at very low prices, is the heavy volume of hop shipments being made from this country to Europe. The volume of exports has increased several hundred per cent during the past two months. This was due entirely in the demoralized crop conditions on the other side. With the bumper crop in England talked of by local bear dealers the Englishmen would stay out of the market for awhile, for then they could purchase supplies at a still lower figure. Only an occasional sale of a small block of hops is reported in this section, these being mostly of cheap grade at prices close to 5c a pound. Oregon hop crop conditions continue very badly mixed, some sections being slightly better than a year ago, while in other places the crop will be very small. Generally speaking, there should be good quality in the Oregon hops this season, but in some districts the quality has been hurt. incident that fully disproves the

The New York Producers' Price Current thus reviews the situation:
"The local market has been lifeless The local market has been lifeless the past week, and no inquiry is noted. Browers apparently are well stocked, and even the low prices prevailing today do not seem to tempt them into the market. The crops continue to make very satisfactory progress. Picking will commence next week in the Sacramento section in California. New York state reports are decidedly favorable, and the early varieties are rapidly ripening. Picking of the regular late hops, however, will be a week to 10 days later than usual on account of the backward spring, which delayed the growth of the vine. Fine weather has prevailed in England and on the continent, and their crops are in good condition. The German market is lower and weak, and the English market is said to be in the same position as the markets here.

"We notice the unusually large export of hops to London the past few weeks, amounting to over 9,000 bales since the first of July."

Grapes are in larger arrivals, both from the south and from local points. Best from the south selling at $1.75 a hox of four baskets. Only Sweetwaters coming from local points, which did not range beyond $1.25, some at $1.

According to reports received by Everding & Farrell from their Pillar Rock cannery, the run of salmon is slightly better. Some reports from the lower river, however, state that the run is so small that a large number of fishermen have become disgusted and have laid up their nets.

All local creameries are now asking 55c a pound for their best product, the last creamery holding out notifying its trade of the rise this morning. Supplies are no greater than demand, even at the advanced figures.

Quality of California watermelons has been so good this season that demand is very liberal and price holds well at 1%c a pound.

Local onions are very slow to arrive, and market is firmer, though unchanged in price.

is now in full blast and latest reports are to the effect that the yield is much less than was expected. It was expected that the yield in both wheat and cats would be less than the average but the shrinkage is greater by far than was anticipated. The few hot days at the time the grain was beginning to head is regarded as the cause.

The prospects for an average crop of hops are improving. Early in the season it was feared the crop would be short but prominent growers believe the yield will be not far below the average. The foliage is light but the burrs are large and plenitful and the quality is regarded Lewiston, Idaho, Aug. 15.—Grain dealers have placed the estimate of the crop yield of Nez Perce and Idaho counties that will be marketed this year at 6,000,000 bushels, an approximate increase of 25 per cent over previous years. The crop is evenly divided between wheat and barley, each representing 40 per cent of the total yield, while the oats crop will be about 20 per cent. Though up to date none of the large crops have been contracted it was rumored yesterday that the D. J. Wyatt crop of from 7,000 to 8,000 sacks of barley, grown on the Webb idde, has been purchased for 90 cents per hum.

Entire Sheep Market Is Quiet | Yield of Wheat There Now Expected to Run Close to 41,000,000 Bushels.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Tacoma, Aug. 15. — Washington's wheat crop will be in round numbers 41,000,000 bushels this season, according to grain officials. These figures are 11,000,000 hushels higher than the estimate placed upon the crop seven weeks ago by State Grain Inspector John W. Arrasmith. Since Mr. Arrasmith's prediction there has been almost ideal weather conditions producing a record-breaking crop.

breaking crop.

Chief Deputy Gram suspector S. S. King returned yesterday from the east side wheat belt, after gathering statistics of an important character relative to the present crop of cereals in this state.

to the present crop of cereals in this state.

The totals of Mr. King's figures show that Washington has 2,000,000 keres of land in wheat, which will produce this season 40,845,000 bushels.

There are 128,000 acres in oats that will produce 5,425,000 bushels of grain. Barley to the amount of 141,000 acres has been sown, which will produce 5,440,000 bushels.

Mr. King says that in addition to the 5.440,000 bushels.

Mr. King says that in addition to the phenomenal yield of the wheat acreage this year, which will amount to 13,000,000 more bushels than the crop of last season, the quality of the wheat grown is probably better than anything before seen in the state, speaking in general terms. The wheat, he says, will nearly all grade No. 1, and four fifths of it or thereabouts will be choice milling.

The figures of Mr. King's, in which the acreage of the different counties and the estimated yield are given of wheat oats and barley, follow:

There are some 100 acres over which developments are being made, and with the easy transportation and fine harbor of Rainier the commercial outlook is exceedingly bright.

Mr. Thomas has been practicing law for nearly 20 years and has recently been admitted by letter to the Oregon has any will engage in practice at three weeks is considered a good one. The increased facilities for the handling of crops and the betterment of threshing machinery has added to this and made it possible to finish the season in one half the time heretofore required. The spread of the diversified farming idea is cutting the acreage and is one of the factors in shortening the length of the harvest season.

With the introduction of the milk condenser it is thought that the farmers will sow their fields to clover and thus eliminate all the work attendant to the gathering of wheat and other like crops. It is possible that this will become distinctly a dairying community and Linn as a grain producing center will be no more.

City Council Goes on Record as Opposed to Baker Ordinance "Joker."

Portland's city council went on record yesterday as opposed to the Baker health ordinance in its present form with the "joker" permitting slaughterwith the "joker" permitting slaughterhouses to be operated anywhere in the city limits at the option of the board of health, and unanimously sustained Mayor Lane's veto. Even Councilman Baker, when his attention was called to the clause delegating the power of regulating slaughterhouses, thought it ought to be changed and took the initiative in having it referred to the committee on health and police for alterations.

The ordinance was prepared by Dr. C.
H. Wheeler when he was city health officer and introduced by Baker in the council. The mayor cited several instances where it was incomplete as a sanitary measure.

stances where it was incomplete as a sanitary measure.

Three other vetoes were sustained by the council, an unusual thing. The council voted nine to three to pass the ordinance granting a franchise to the Northern Pacific company to lay a side-track on Nicolai street. The necessary number of votes were lacking to make the measure a law.

H. F. Woodward and Dr. C. H. Chapman addressed the council in favor of adopting the workhouse system of dealing with city prisoners instead of by jail sentence. A long communication relative to the matter was referred to the committee on health and police.

R. D. Inman appeared before the council yesterday when the Baker automobile ordinance came up, and explained matters from the standpoint of the driver of the machine. He wanted to give a practical demonstration to the council and next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the council will take a free ride over the city.

Light in the discussion of the automobils ordinance an interesting colloquy took place between Councilman Concannon and Mayor Lane which caused much non and Mayor Lane which caused much amusement.

"The speed limit ought to be curtailed," suddenly announced Concannon. These fellows go entirely toe fast. Why they whiz by my store so fast it makes my eyes blink. Yes and I've seen the mayor and all of these councilmen break the speed limit. I saw them racing out on Thurman street to a ball game. The mayor was trying to beat Tom Devlin and a lot of Republican councilmen and he was in the lead, too. If I had been a policeman I sure would have had him arrested, the whole bunch for that matter."

"But, Mr. Concannon, you must admit I wasn't the driver," blandly assured the mayor. "I didn't have any say in the matter."
"It doesn't make any difference. You were breaking the law and you know you were. You should have stopped the driver and walked if he wouldn't go slower. I tell you I would have fixed you fellows, all of you."
