Work to Be Rushed on Harriman's Portland-Puget Sound Railroad.

NEWS IS EXPECTED ON TUNNEL PROJECT

Survey of New Road Closely Parallels Present Line of Northern Pacific From Tacoma to Vancouver, Touching Same Cities.

Contracts are being let for construction of the Oregon & Washington railway, Mr. Harriman's extension from Portland to Puget sound.

The survey of the Oregon & Washington road closely parallels the present line of the Northern Pacific railway from Tacoma to Vancouver.

From the Toulles river southward to Vancouver the Harriman survey runs between the Northern Pacific track and the survey of the North Coast or Milwaukee road.

The Vancouver bridge their grade levels will be practically the same as the one to be built.

Within 30 days the Oregon & Washington company will, it is said, have between 1,000 and 2,000 men at work on the grade between Portland and Tacoma.

The construction contract for Centralia to Buxton has been let to the Dible-Hawthorne company of Tacoma.

About 250 men and 150 teams will be employed and the work will be completed in three months.

OPERATORS CONFIDENT

Respondent, says the condition is critical with the big new system. William Dumars, manager of the Western Union offices in this city, however, is optimistic.

This morning the following committee was appointed to present the schedule to the Managers Dumars and Annand of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph company.

It was reported at another meeting that Adolph Schroeder, a check boy in the Western Union office, walked out today.

Charles Humphreys, who is employed in a bank on Oregon city in the day time, has been added to the list.

It is also reported that the Western Union telegraph companies are mailing messages.

From Seattle, that her husband had left in the care of a telegraph agent in the latter city.

The telegraph companies are handling only about 10 per cent of the business that is taken during times of quiet, according to the district manager.

Brains are Built

from certain kinds of FOOD Try Grape-Nuts

"America has become a land of nervous emotionalists, largely owing to our sins against the dietetic health laws of nature."

Brain workers must have different food than laborers, because brain work uses up parts of the brain and nerve centres, while physical labor uses up other parts of the body.

"Only outdoor exercise in a cold climate would enable vigorous individuals of our species to digest the viands forced upon alimentary organs enfeebled by sedentary occupations," wrote Dr. Felix Oswald.

CORDING TO THE STRIKE LEADERS, MR. DUMARS ADMITS THAT THE BUSINESS IS ABLE TO GET ON WITHOUT THE TELEGRAPHERS

Mr. Dumars says that it will give his office a great opportunity to clean out the messenger service and says that after this only the most competent and brightest boys will be given positions in the messenger department of the Western Union.

Striking telegraphers are being paid today both at the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph office. It takes considerable time to estimate the extra earnings for telegraphers and most of the day will be consumed in paying the strikers.

NEZ PERCE FARMER IS MYSTERIOUSLY MISSING

Edward Wall Disappears—Hounds on His Trail—Father Also Disappeared.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Moscow, Ida., Aug. 15.—Edward Wall, a farmer living southeast of Genesee, just across the Nez Perce county line, disappeared last Monday and no trace of him has been found.

Mr. Wall is a large farmer. He owns some land in his own right and is considered one of the best farmers in the county.

The friends and neighbors of Mr. Wall made diligent search for the missing man without avail, and it was then decided to send for Harry Draper and his bloodhounds.

Draper arrived here on the early train today and was at once driven across country to Mr. Wall's place, where they hope to be able to give the hounds the scent, so that they can track the missing man.

One suggestive fact revived by the disappearance of Mr. Wall at this time is that his father disappeared as completely and mysteriously as he.

Thereafter about 14 years ago, ten years later his bones were found in a field several miles from his home. The mystery of his disappearance was never solved.

LEGION OF HONOR BIG ASSEMBLAGE FOR WANAMAKER HEARD BROUGHER

Merchant Brought About Closer Relations Between France and America. Portland Minister Received With Open Arms by Los Angeles Churchgoers.

(Journal Special Service.) Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—In the recent promotion of Rodman Wanamaker to the grade of officer in the Legion of Honor, the president of France has recognized a remarkable achievement.

Mr. Wanamaker is the younger son of John Wanamaker. He and his brother, Thomas B. Wanamaker, who is the proprietor of the North American, have long been associated with their distinguished father in his great mercantile enterprises, notably the big New York and Philadelphia department stores.

London Wanamaker established the Paris branch and set a precedent which all other big stores in the country have been obliged to follow.

It is to Mr. Wanamaker, more than to any other man, that the present commercial relations between France and America are due.

He brought about a practical reciprocity, which never existed before, and which has worked to the advantage of both.

By making a personal study of the situation in France he found a way to supply the deficiencies of the American market by drawing upon the skill of the French workman.

He showed the Frenchman how to make goods that America needed, and that could not be bought at home.

At the same time he introduced into France goods in which America excels.

This commercial achievement, quite as much as his patronage of art, has served to win for Mr. Wanamaker one of the highest honors within the power of the French government to confer.

Ten years ago he was made a chevalier in the Legion of Honor, and for services in the encouragement of art.

After that he has been president of the American Art association of New York, and has been a member of the French society in America.

From the time he went to Paris in the interests of his business he has been patron of the French salons. He has bought and shipped to America hundreds of masterpieces.

From the season of 1893 onwards there were more than 400 paintings, all of which were exhibited in the Wanamaker stores of Philadelphia and New York absolutely free.

Thus the value of the Wanamaker galleries as a public educator has become immense. Not only that, but they have been a great stimulus to American students.

They have set before the budding neophyte the best that the world has produced and is producing in painting and sculpture.

Among the famous pictures which Mr. Wanamaker brought to this country is "The Conquerors" by Pierre Fritel, of which a critic said:

"It is the most powerful sermon ever preached on canvas, against the lust of conquest and the arbitrament of the sword, and the sermon is as pointed in the new century as it was in the old."

In addition to being a patron of art and a champion of the French commercial reciprocity, Mr. Wanamaker is a staunch advocate of outdoor culture and a prominent climber. Among the clubs which he belongs are:

Princeton club of Philadelphia, University club, Washburn club, Racquet club, Philadelphia Country club, Huntington Valley Country club, Germantown Cricket club, Bath club of London, Ivy club of Princeton, Traveler's club of Paris, Automobile club de France, Cercle Chemin de Fer, Yacht club de France, Les Anclous, Cercle Ile de Puteaux, Princeton club of New York, Turf and Field club, Tandem club.
