TONIGHT'S AMUSEMENTS

The Oaks, O. W. P. Alder, Holladay Park, concert, De Caprio's band.

The collection of bronse electrical on exhibition in the windows of enning & Sons at Morrison and cond streets, has been admired by hundreds of people this week. The fig-ures represent characters immortalized by song, literature or act, encircled by ornamental designs. These electrical statues are in great demand in older communities where the uses of elec-tricity for decorative purposes receive the fullest expression. The owners of some of the best homes in Portland are not unfamiliar with the beautiful effect that can be produced with electrical bronze statues.

An interesting parliamentary drill was conducted by Mrs. Ella G. Himes on Wednesday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Next week the meeting will be in charge of Mrs. M. L. Hidden, and some of the ladies who participated in the recent oratorical contest will give selections, Woman suffrage will be the subject of next week's program. Presentations are making for the entertainment of Mrs. Lucy Brood, who is coming to the city in September.

Further progress was made yesterday afternoon in the organization of the St. preparations for the establishment of a perpetual pioneer day to be celebrated the first time, Thursday, August 28. Several features were discussed for the celebration. It was also decided to gather funds for the erection in St. Johns of a monument to James John the first pioneer and founder of the town. All are eligible for membership in the pioneer association who came to St. Johns prior to 1889.

K. Ishii of the Japanese Foreign Office Coming to the United States to Investigate Affairs of Mikado's Subjects in America.

K. Ishil, chief of the commercial bureau of the Japanese foreign ofifce, is on his way to the United States to study, at short range, the condition of the Mikado's subjects who are residents in this country. Having investigated the situation in San Francisco, the diplomat will journey northward to Portland and Vancouver, B. C., and from there will probably go east to Washington, D. C.

On account of the recent feeling between the Japanese colony and the residents of San Francisco, and the many facts and rumors growing out of that trouble, the visit of Mr. Ishii at this time has peculiar significance and interest.

Mr. Ishii will arrive at San Francisco next Friday on one of the big liners from the land of the Mikado. He will spend a few days in the Bay City and then come north to Portland. After completing his labors here, Mr. Ishis will proceed to Vancouver, B. C., whence he will probably go east, unless he should be called upon to return to his own country.

The first intimation of Mr. Ishii being en route for this city was received yesterday morning when the collector of customs received a letter from the treascustoms received a letter from the treas-ury department authorizing him to ex-tend the usual courtesies to the traveler, including the free entry of his baggage including the free entry of his baggage without examination.

There are thousands of Japanese in this part of the country and more are steadily pouring in from the north and south. It is said by those having knowledge on the subject that Mr. Ishii will left find the general conditions among his country men here vastly superior to what they might have been had they remained at home. In recent years the Japanese have entered fields of labor here from which they were formerly gharred, and they are now not only loked upon as useful in grading railroads and running errands but are invading many by fields where it was thought they would never be found. Hundreds of them have gone to work during the past two or three years in the saw mills, especially in the country, handling lumber in the country, handling lumber in the

STREETCAR OPERATION THOROUGHLY COVERED

Councilman Vaughn's streetcar ordi-nance regulating the running time and fender equipment and providing for air-brakes on all cars was introduced in the city council yesterday afternoon. The ordinance is one that covers every phase of streetcar operation and already has the support of a number of the councilmen. Its prime object is the safety of passengers and pedestrians. The ordinance was referred to the street committee and will be thoroughly discussed in the next meeting of that body.

Albany, Or., Aug. 15 .- Teacher's examination began in Linn county yesterday and about 70 are in attendance working for the right to teach during working for the right to teach during the coming winter. The enrollment is a large one and is due no doubt to the fact that next year additional studies are required, namely, physical geography and literature. There are applications for certificates in all the grades and also work being done for state diplomas. The examination is being conducted by Professor Torbet of the college and Professor C. F. Bigbee, under the general supervision of county superintendent of Schools W. L. Jackson.

COUNCIL AUTHORIZES RENUMBERING HOUSES

Wills' resolution authorizing the mayor to appoint a committee to devise a system of renumbering the houses throughout the city was passed by the council yesterday afternoon. Mayor Lane has not yet appointed the commit-tee but will do so shortly.

An ordinance was also passed yesterday changing the names of a number of day changing the names of a number of streets on the east side. City Engineer Taylor prepared the measure and it is designed to make the streets in the outlying districts more harmonious. Confusion, the city engineer says, has resulted from extensions of streets being given different names from those of the original streets.

An echo of the paving fight in the Irvington district came when the council discontinued the bitulithic and macadam improvements on a number of streets there. Asphalt will be substituted.

treets there. Asphalt will be substi-tuted.

Two thirds of the property owners on Belmont street have petitioned for bituithic pavement and all proceedings for street improvement in that district were ordered discontinued in order that they may be satisfied. This will give Belmont street more than a mile of bit-ulithic improvement.

The want ads will bring about a good many transactions today and at least one of them should concern you.

Conkelman, Fraley's Buyer and Head Designer, Now in New York, Writes Enthusiastically of the Com-ing Millinery Modes—She Says in

"Art and ingenuity never before combined so harmoniously in the effort to make lovely woman' more lovely still. I was going to say the new fall hats are dreams; but they are altogether too substantially handsome to be designated by so illusory a term! Great drooping effects, curved becomingly away from the face, and forming a background, by their wide brims, against which a face softened by hair flufflly dressed is set off in exquisite relief! The styles are so distinctively different as not even to remind one of those of last season and yet they are so artistically modeled as not to appear at all extreme. The little Frenchy tilt backward given by the wide front bandeau is particularly fetching. The materials—soft fine felta, short napped beavers, silks, satins, velvet, velour frise—are all of superior quality; and the trimmings were never before so lour frise—are all of superior quality; and the trimmings were never before so richly beautiful; purple is a favorite color, and morning glories a favorite flower—shading from a deep rich purple to a pale pink tint, and used in the greatest profusion. Practical and exceedingly jaunty for street wear are the medium sized hats, some with double brims, trimmed in handsome wings in pairs directly in front, also ribbons, bunches of tips, the tree ostrich and marabout. Violet-toned roses are another of the seasons' dainty conceits. I could write pages but I shall soon be bunches of tips, the tree estrich and marabout. Violet-toned roses are another of the seasons' dainty conceits. I could write pages, but I shall soon be home with a complete stock, representing the best taste and style in these beautiful new modes, and then you will see for yourself that I have not exaggerated. I have had a most delightful trip, stopping in Detroit for a visit with my people, renewing old friendships, etc., but I am eager to be back in Portland and see the new stock opened.
