Fritz Theatre Will Be Closed Unless Improvements Are Made at Once.

Unless Fred Fritz complies with the fire requirements in Fritz theatre in the north end within 14 days his house will be closed by the executive board. This action is the result of a special investigation conducted by Fire Chief Campbell, Fire Marshal Roberts and Building Inspector Spencer. These officials reported that the Fritz theatre, which is located on Burnside street between Second and Third, gives no protection to the lives of its patrons, Narrow aisles, absence of exit lights, standpipes and automatic sprinklers and standpipes and automatic sprinklers and unsafe wiring are charged in the report. Because the Beck building on the northwest corner of Seventh and Oak streets, is constructed on the fire-proof principle with closed elevator shaft. D. L. Williams does not think another fire escape is necessary. He says the building is constructed on the same plans as the Wells-Fargo building. The matter was referred to the fire committee for settlement.

Complaints were also made against the condition of the building occupied by the Crans Bottling works. This structure, which is located at the northwest corner of Fourteenth and Couch streets, is alleged to be in an unsafe condition. The matter was referred to the fire marshal, fire chief and building inspector.

New Source of Gold.

In the southern part of Utah there has been discovered one of the richest placers that may ever be recorded in history. The ground has all been located and is being worked by companies organized in the several quarters of the United States. The free gold is deposited mainly in gigantic bluffs of sandstone which gives assay values from 45 cents to over $5 per ton. The Gold Dredging Company of America is the lucky possessor of over 4,000 acres of this deposit. See ad elsewhere in today's Journal.

State Labor Commissioner Carrying on Quiet Investigation Here.

IMPOSITION ON WOMEN MOST FLAGRANT ABUSE

Openly No Infraction Is Apparent, But Under Cover Claim Is Made Many Establishments Compel Workers to Labor After Hours.

O. P. Hoff, Oregon's labor commissioner, is after violators of the state 16-hour law who are said to be found in Portland and has been in the city for the past several days making an investigation of conditions. Last night he returned to his office at Salem, called there by an accumulated surplus of work, but will return in a short time to resume his inquiries here. According to Mr. Hoff it has been reported to him that there are a number of places in the city where the provisions of the 10-hour law, as applied to women, are not being observed but on the other hand are being violated carefully and systematically.

Openly, there is no violation of the law, but under cover there is. Employers are said to ask their women help to return after the stores or other institutions are closed in the evening and there put in from one to three or four hours in clearing away the debris of the day's work and in putting the place in good shape for the coming period of business.

"I am not so much interested in those places where they make the men work more than 10 hours," said Mr. Hoff yesterday. "I am violating that provision of the law myself nearly every day and do not believe it can be helped in many cases, but I am looking into the report that the women employes of the city are cases, but I am looking into the report that the women employes of the city are being compelled to work more than 10 hours in many places.

"It has been reported to me that many employers are compelling the women and girls hired by them to return after the places are closed and there behind the curtains to prepare the stock for the next day's business. If I find that these reports are true I will see to it that the violations are stopped at once and for good.

"On the other hand," continued Mr. Hoff, "many reports come in to my office of cases where the law is being violated where investigation shows that such is not the case. The large establishments are charged with breaking the law but I have found that in most of the instances the employes report for law but I have found that in most of the instances the employes report for work at different times in the morning and by this means keep a working force for a much longer period than 10 hours. To those who do not know the system of the place it appears that the hours of work are longer than 10 hours, when in fact no individual has to work for more than that period of time."

Mr. Hoff returned to his office at Salem last night after an absence of several days. Owing to the absence of part of his office force on their summer vacations he is being worked pretty hard himself, being compelled to violate the 10-hour law in order to keep the routine of his office from piling up in him.

East Siders Turned Out to Attend Opening Performance of New Theatre.

Over on the east side last night at Burkhard hall the people of that district were given an opportunity to attend an opening of some importance to them. The Grand Union Stock com-tend an opening of some importance to them. The Grand Union Stock company, under the business management of Waiter C. Farnham, launched the career of the east side's first theatrical venture in the presentation of Sydney Grundy's comedy, "His Little Joke."

A good sized crowd witnessed the effort, and if the characters were a little stiff in their acting or their lines were taugled in places, put it down to the score that it was the first night of a new venture and therefore all the working joints were not limbered up and in good running order.

"His Little Joke" is funny and kept the audience laughing at the efforts of Felix Featherstone, the jealous husband and practical joker, to extricate himself from the maze of trouble into which his jealousy and his joke had led him. All the parts were fairly well handled and the crowd was given its money's worth. Paul Parker as Felix, Raymond Phillips as Uncle John, Edgar Withers as Harry Prendergast, Arthur McKensie as Saunders, the man servant; Miss Marion Warde as Mrs. Feathstone, Miss Agnes McKensie as Ethel Granger and Miss Florence Davenport as Penelope all showed that they could, once the newness wore off, give credible exhibitions.

It is announced that the play will continue nightly until Wednesday next, when the bill will be changed to "Caste" for another week's run. The management will change the personnel of the company during the week, strengthening the company for the future.

SATISFACTORY SITE CHOSEN FOR SCHOOL

Kern Tract Decided Upon for Location of New Institution.

Through the efforts of the Waverley-Richmond Improvement association, satisfactory site has been selected for new school building in the Kern tract. The property has been definitely decided

The property has been definitely decided upon by the city school board and a petition was signed last night by the members of the improvement association consenting to the selection.

The property on which a modern school building is to be erected at once was purchased at a cost of $4,000. It is bounded on three sides by East Grant, Habersham and East Sherman. It had been rumored that there was some dissatisfaction regarding the choice of the school board, but it was dispelled at the meeting last night held at the residence of M. J. Morse, East Twenty-eight and Taggart streets, when a petition was presented signed by 60 property-holders who were satisfied with the purchase.

Efforts will be made by the association to secure the sprinkling of Division street and also to secure hydrants for fire protection. The suggestion that the association go into politics was rejected without being voted upon.

FIRE HYDRANTS FEW AND FAR BETWEEN

Contention Is That City Has Backed Down on Promise to Help Out Volunteer Fire Department According to Agreement.

Destruction by fire this week of two mall homes in the Piedmont district have aroused to action all who live in that vicinity. A committee of 50 called upon Councilman Vaughn this morning and demanded he use some effort to seoure fire protection for the Piedmont district, where there is between $300,000 and $400,000 worth of property without the least fire protection.

Two small homes representing the entire savings of two streetcar men, each with families, were burned to the ground Thursday evening because the nearest fire company was too far away to render assistance. Had they arrived in time there would have been no water for hydrants in the territory are far and few between. C. G. Anderson lost in the neighborhood of $1.500. Edward Gordon, the other proprietor, lost slightly more. There was some insurance. The houses were located on Kerby street and Killingsworth avenue.

During the winter a volunteer fire company was organized and incorporated with the object in view of building a hall for the purpose of storing five apparatus on the ground floor and using the upper floor for the meetings of the Nolta Improvement association and for other social extharings. Two small homes representing the promise.

Those who live in the district look to Councilman Vaugh for assistance. They are dissatisfied with his efforts in their behalf and the action this morning is regarded by all in the territory to be a natural result of circumstances that have been gathering for the past year.
