

LOVE OF GIRL

A. C. Fosdick Broods Over Dismissal From Company of Pretty Bessie Purdy and Threatens to Kill Himself. Lands in County Jail.

Denied the friendship of Miss Bessie Purdy, a pretty 18-year-old girl, and her relatives, A. C. Fosdick, aged 40 years, was lodged in the county jail yesterday afternoon on a charge of insanity caused by brooding over the girl, Miss Purdy's mother is a cousin of Fosdick's wife, from whom he is separated. For a long time Fosdick lived at the Purdy home.

Fosdick's attention to the girl at last became so noticeable that she objected to them and endeavored to avoid him. Fosdick noticed this, it is said, and informed the family that he had a revolver and if he were to lose their friendship he would use it. He was alarmed at this statement, not knowing whether Fosdick intended to harm only himself, or both himself and the girl. Miss Purdy's parents reported the matter to Deputy District Attorney Gus C. Moser, who sent for Fosdick. Friday Fosdick appeared at Moser's office and told his story, but said he had only meant that he would kill himself if the Purdy family deserted him. Moser told Fosdick to return to the office again yesterday and in the meantime asked Sheriff Stevens to send one of his deputies to his office at the time Fosdick should come.

When Fosdick returned yesterday afternoon, Moser was firmly convinced that he was insane and told Deputy Sheriff Bulger, who was on hand, to take him into custody. Fosdick showed fight and Bulger placed handcuffs on him. Then Moser ordered Bulger to go past his room and get a .38-caliber revolver, which Bulger refused to do. Fosdick went to the window and threw a string around his neck and refused to part with it. He says he merely wants her to be a friend and does not want to marry her. He will be examined as to his sanity by the alienists Monday.

Has Gone Hatless Three Years.

From the Washington Herald. There is a man in Washington who for three years and a half has not worn a hat. The name of this citizen with an antipathy for headgear and a disregard for conventionality is G. L. Shorey, an employee of the department of commerce and labor.

Wearing a hat is more a habit than anything else and probably descends to us from our feudal ancestors, who wore steel helmets to prevent being knocked in the head by their warring neighbors, said Mr. Shorey. "I reached the conclusion some time ago that a hat was burdensome and have not worn one since summer or winter for over three years. I find that my health is improved and that my hair, which was inclined to fall out, is now as thick as in my younger days. I am not endeavoring to pass as an arbiter of fashion nor am I the leader of a new cult, but so far as I am personally concerned, no hat for mine."

Tuesday, the 20th, will be the last day to receive discount on east side gas bills.

PURE FOOD SHOW WILL BE HUMMER THIS YEAR

A Thousand and One Attractions in Matter of Exhibits, Amusements and Entertaining Features Being Arranged For—Fully 700 Exhibitors to Take Part.

Preparations being made for the pure food show to be held in the exposition building for two weeks, beginning September 2, give evidence that the Portland exhibition, which is the first since the passage of the pure food law, will eclipse any previous display of its kind ever held in the country.

Charles B. Merrick.

finding their way on the program, and the scores of individual exhibits will be as interesting as it is possible for human ingenuity to make them.

Altogether it is expected that not less than 700 exhibitors will have booths in the big exposition building and this number includes both the 400 Portland retail grocery firms and some 300 outside firms and corporations who have good food to sell to the epicures.

The floor space which will be utilized in Portland, is 24 by 160 feet and with the exception of Detroit and Kansas City, this is the largest exposition room in the country.

Only one trouble so far has confronted Manager Dean and Merrick, who have the bulk of the business relative to the exhibit to look after, and that is a scarcity of young women demonstrators.

EVIDENCE HEARD IN SALOON CASE

Justice Reid Listens to Argument Against St. Johns Liquor Seller.

Justice Reid of the Portland justice district listened to the evidence and the argument of attorneys yesterday afternoon in the case of Louis Richards of St. Johns, who was arrested last Sunday by Deputy Sheriffs Jones and Proebstel on a charge of keeping his saloon open Sunday. Evidence was meagre. The judge took the case under advisement until Monday.

Deputy Jones appeared against Richards and said on the witness stand that he saw a man in Richards' place drinking last Sunday. This was seen through a window and after some delay they were allowed to enter the saloon through a side door, where were Richards and his bartender, but the man during the delay had escaped through a third door.

The attention of the deputies was first attracted to the saloon when they saw F. W. Valentine, the postmaster at St. Johns, leaving the saloon by the side door by which the deputies afterwards entered and arrested Richards.

Richards admits that he opens his saloon every Sunday morning, but for the purpose of cleaning it out. He said on the stand that Valentine entered to talk over baseball matters last Sunday while the side door was inadvertently left unlocked while he (Richards) went to get a hose for cleaning out the place.

Richards was among those found guilty for the first violation of the law on the first Sunday. Deputy Jones says he has been compelled to follow this case himself, receiving very little help from the sheriff's office.
