The tail-enders did themselves proud and engendered some real regret at their departure yesterday by defeating the ball tessers from the Bay City in two one-sided games.

By capturing the Sunday doubleheader the Beavers have won three straight and have captured the series by four out of seven games.

Eddie Kinsella and Charlie Hartman pitched the first and second games for Portland, respectively. Both were in fine form. The visitors secured but five hits off Kinsella and but four off Hartman. Kinsella has the best record of the pitchers on McCredie's staff, but the has been badly "off" for the past three weeks. Kinsella is really a high-class pitcher and his return to form was gleefully welcomed by the fans. The big boy fielded his position in great style and was the hero of the first battle.

As for Hartman, he never pitched As for Hartman, he never pitched a better game in the coast league. Until the sixth inning the Seals never got a hit. The Beaver batters were right there with the big stick in both games and both Joy and Jones were pounded unmercifully. In all, Portland scored 20 safe hits, three of them being for three bases and two for two bases. The official scores:

make a double play, starting from short. But in each case the San Francisco runners were too speedy to allow the completion of the play.

Be it remarked once more that Tay Streib, the substitute second baseman secured by San Francisco from the Cal-ifornia State league, is a wonder when it comes to covering territory. Again and again he has robbed Beaver batters of hits perfectly placed between second and third. Probably the most difficult and third. Probably the most difficult individual play of yesterday was executed by Streib. It was in the eighth inning of the first game. Bassey was on third and the Seal fielders were playing in close to catch him at the plate. Donahue hit a greased-lightning shot toward the right pasture. Streib jumped in front of it and stuck out his paws in time for it to crack him on the wrist and shoot skyward. Streib grabbed the hall as it descended. Donahue was almost on top of the initial sack, but the second baseman beat him there with one of the swiftest shortarm throws ever seen on the local diamond.

SPRINTER'S DESERTION MAY NOT BE RELISHED

University Runner Has Been Corresponding With Michigan Managers for Some Time—Owes His Success to Trainer Bill Hayward.

(Journal Special Service.)
Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 19.—That Dan Kelly, champion sprinter of the world, will enter the University of Michigan this fall is now said to be assured. Kelly has been corresponding for some time with athletic managers here and the graduate manager today said that the great University of Oregon man would finish his college course in Ann Arbor. Kelly expresses the desire to run one year in an eastern university, but in order to be eligible under conference rules in view of the fact that he is a sophomore at the Oregon university, he must enter this fail.

Since the conference rules went into effect a student must have had at least one year's residence in a middle western university before he can become a member of an athletic team. Kelly would finish the Michigan course in two years and this would permit him to compete in races in his senior year. Michigan men are wild with joy over the prospects of getting Kelly. There seems now no sprinter at the university able to cope with Charlie Parsons, the California boy who is now a student at Wisconsin university. Parsons has alto run one year in an eastern univer-Wisconsin university. Parsons has already spent one year at Madison and will run for Wisconsin next spring. Kelly's two practice runs of 10 seconds at Eugene, Oregon, Saturday, show that he has plenty of speed for the Jamestown games in which he will participate.

University of Oregon graduates and students generally will regret to learn of Kelly's decision to run under Michigan colors next spring. The fleet-footed flaxen halred youth from Baker City has been popular in northwest athletic circles since he began running several years ago and has added many points to the state university record and also to that of the Multnomah club. points to the state university record and also to that of the Multnomah club, for which he ran at Spokane when he established his world's records in the 100 yard dash.

Friends of Kelly here state that Michigan has been after the eastern Oregon lad ever since his Spokane performance. Kelly is said to have informed a number of his friends that his one desire was to lower the fame of Parsons in the east. Parsons will run at Jamestown in September and next year he will sprint for Wisconsin among the big nine" colleges of the middle west. Should Kelly matriculate at Michigan he will have any number of opportunities to meet the California wonder. Kelly and Hayward arrived in Portland today from Eugene en rouge to Jamestown. From here they will proceed leisurely on their way to the Atlantic seaboard. Kelly will leave the train at half a dozen cities along the way and limber up. His two 10 seconds flat stunts at Eugene Saturday show that he is in splendid condition.

Kelso, Wash., Aug. 19 .- The Kelso Tigers yesterday increased their lead for the pennant by defeating the Woodburn Indians.

Indians.

Goins, Kelso's new pitcher recently secured from Prosser, twirled a nice game, striking out 12 men and allowing but seven scattered hits, three of which were of the scratchy order. The Tigers were off in fielding and did not give him the best of support.

Concannon for Woodburn lasted five innings, when he retired in favor of Jerman, who did no better than his predecessor. The Woodburn bunch are a gentlemanly lot of ball tossers and took their defeat gracefully.

Halbert of Kelso was the star of both Jeams with the bat, getting two singles and a three bagger out of four times up. Score:

Charlie Moore's superb twirling, Ray Hinkle's fast work in the left garden. Clark Moore's clever handling of bunts, Trowbridge's heady work at short, Philbrook's work with the bat and on the bases, Brown's hitting and Otto Moore's handling of the big mitt for St. Johns were all features that kept the excited fans on the tremble, but their work did not eclipse the steady, snappy playing Martin at second, Newell at short, Johnson in center field and Houston's work at third for the Frakes.

The first year Kelly was at the university Bill Hayward's careful tutoring enabled him to beat Smithson five yards in the U. of O.-O. A. C. meet. It was that year also, 1906, that his two records were accepted by the American Amateur Athletic union.

Just how the Eugene merchants and the Portland alumni of the university who subscribed the funds which will take Kelly to Jamestown will accept the dispatch from Ann Arbor is not known. Oregon men took it for granted that when Kelly announced that he would don an Oregon track suit at the Jamestown world's championship games he intended to finish his college course at Eugene.
