Final Arrangement for Disand Labor Unions.

It is believed that the efforts of the one local labor unions and of Lafe Pence local labor unions and of Lafe Pence to avert a fuel famine and to break the prices of the cordwood trust will be settled successfully by tomorrow. The committee from the unions met with committee from the unions met with committee from the unions met with the mayor this morning and has agreed to confer with Pence this afternoon again to arrange finally with him for the purchase of the 10,000 cords which the contract drawn up between them the contract drawn up between them ing to Pence, the only point cremains to be settled is that of elivery of the wood, the question being whether he or the unions shall furnish teams for hauling it from the dock to the purchasers. Pence does not care to go into that part of the agreement himself, but it is believed that with the aid of the teamsters' union the problem can be easily solved by the unions. The committee having the matter in charge, consisting of P. McDonald of the freighthandlers, Harry Gurr of the bricklayers, and P. D. Hall, has been looking up the matter of docks, and reports that it can secure any one of several suitable docks near the center of the city for its purpose.

They have decided to sell the wood at the docks for $5 a cord, being able to do this because of the saving of $1.50 made in transportation by fluming the wood down into Holbrooke slough. Pence and the committee say that they remains to be settled is that of

In regard to an alleged statement from Coloned Diehl, manager of the Associated Press, that the striking operators of the association were returning work, Wesley Russell, national secreta, of the telegraphers union, said: "The aport is absolutely without foundation. The obvious intent is to stampede the Associated Press operators back to work. The association endeavored to enter into negotiations with operators employed on the New York state circuit, but an emphatic protest from operators on strike in Chicago, in the south and west, puts a quietus on any such unauthorized negotiations.

"The Associated Press employes are standing firm over the entire system and with the exception of a few small offices in the east are united in the demand that wages and hours shall be the same as those of the contracts signed with other press associations.

Except at division points the majority of operators are compelled to work from 12 to 16 hours per day at salaries comparatively small. In case of a walkout the operators will demand increased pay and a working day of eight hours. The authority states that the company has foreseen the present situation and has for some time been employing young men as learners at very small salaries and in case of a strike it is his opinion that these learners will be placed in the places of the regular operators.

Worse Than Ever Before.

(Journal Epecial Service.)*

San Francisco, Aug. 21.—Storms and an attack on the Postal relay office at Ash Fork put the telegraph companies in bad shape so far as eastern lines.

The greater part of the bank's securities are bonds and stocks of uncertain value and slow of realization. Although they may have intrinsic value, under the present condition of the money market their realization will be very slow. For instance, their Home Telephone company bonds may prove to have good value. If there should develop a good market for these bonds the receiver will be able to liquidate the bank promptly and economically and pay depositors in full. Mr. Moore, the present condition.
