ELSA WILL LOAD LUMBER CARGO

Norwegian Steamer Chartered to Carry From This Port to Orient.

CONWAY CASTLE IS FIXED FOR GRAIN

Rumor Has British Steamer African Monarch Returning to Portland From Orient to Load Wheat and Flour or Lumber.

The Pacific Export Lumber company chartered the Norwegian steamer Elsa today to load lumber here for the orient next month. G. W. McNear fixed the British bark Conway Castle to load wheat or barley for Europe, and it is rumored that the large British steamer African Monarch will return from Japan to load either wheat and flour or lumber for the orient. The character of the African Monarch has not been made known.

The Elsa is now on the way for San Francisco with a cargo of coal from Newcastle, Australia, under charter to J. A. Brown of the Bay City, and she will probably not arrive here before the latter part of next month. She is of average size, having capacity for approximately 3,000,000 feet of lumber. The African Monarch left Portland during the latter part of June for the orient with 3,365,542 feet of lumber furnished by the Pacific Export Lumber company and arrived out the latter part of July. She is now at Nagasaki.

The Conway Castle, which was taken for grain loading, is discharging general cargo and cement at Greenwich dock, having arrived here recently from Europe after a very tedious voyage. She will probably be ready to receive cargo in a few weeks when the grain will begin coming in lively from the interior. She will be the second sailing vessel to take out new crop grain this season, the British ship Dalgorn at Columbia dock No. 2 having commenced lining for cargo already.

The Portland & Asiatic Steamship company today confirmed the report of several days ago that an extra steamer would be sent from here to the orient next month to relieve the congestion of traffic, but the name of the vessel had not been ascertained into this afternoon. Officials of the company say she has not been chartered yet, but that a vessel will be secured without fail. Shipping men were of the opinion this morning that the African Monarch is coming here to take the surplus freight offered by the regular China liners.

A German ship named Siam, which arrived here about a week ago with general cargo from London, is under charter to load lumber here for the orient, and it is said that the French bark Vincennes, which arrived up two days ago from Glasgow, Scotland, is under charter to load wheat for a return cargo to Europe. This leaves only one vessel, the British ship Yola, disengaged in the

The City of Panama-Alliance hearing was postponed last night until September 2 because of the sailing today of the steamer City of Panama for San Francisco. Pilot Turner, who steered the Alliance, testified that the vessel went aground as a result of the strong cross river current and fun than any of the City of Panama, will testify at the next hearing.

The American steamer Lyra will probably finish loading lumber today at the mills of the Portland Lumber company.

The launching of the steamer Bailey Gatzert from the yards of the Portland Shipbuilding company will not take place until next Saturday afternoon.

AT THE THEATRES

Kendall National Funmaker.

Without extravagance in assertion it can be said that Ezra Kendall, who comes to the Hellig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets, for an engagement of four performances in "Swallow Elegance Jones," beginning tonight, under the management of the Harry Atkin company, has given to the stage more genuine humor and fun than any one now appearing before the public. Matinee will be given Saturday afternoon. Seats are now selling for the entire engagement at box office the theatre.

"The Girl From Albany."

One of the merriest and most entertaining farce comedies ever seen on the American stage is "The Girl From Albany," which the Allen stock company is presenting this week to crowded houses at the Lyric. It has been one of the biggest hits the company has ever made. It is the show event of the week and a hummer.

"The Tie That Binds."

For popularity "The Tie That Binds" appears to surpass even "Human Hearts." Both were written by Hal Reid, and the former is now being played by the stock company at the Star theatre this week. "The Tie That Binds" is a child, who succeeds in reuniting its parents after the efforts of the villain to separate them.

Grand's Good Show.

Every act at the Grand is good this week. Sometimes "blue" act may inadvertently make its appearance, but

"The Second in Command."

There was a capacity audience at the Marquam matinee yesterday to see "The Second in Command," and last night the house was packed again. This military comedy-drama is proving the earlier prediction that it would be the most popular attraction during the engagement of the Stockwell-MacGregor company. Matinee Saturday.

"A Carnival of Love."

For the closing week of its engagement the Stockwell-MacGregor company will present "A Carnival of Love." This is a play brand new to Portland, and it has never been presented elsewhere on the Pacific coast. "The Carnival of Love" is a witty comedy of French extraction, which has been used successfully in London and New York.
