Lightning struck in a dozen different places and the rain came down in sheets. Fred Yergen's hop house was struck and burned to the ground. The house contained his 1996 crop of hops and a quantity of farming implements. G. W. Scramlin's barn at Macksburg was struck and destroyed together with a quantity of hay. Many of the wire hop yards in this vicinity were laid flat on the ground, but the pole yards escaped with little or no damage. Many of the wire hop yards in this vicinity were laid flat on the ground, but the pole yards escaped with little or no damage. It was the hardest electrical storm ever known here, say the old pioneers who have been here since 1855. In 1894 there was a severe storm, but not to compare with the one this morning. The sky was a continual flash of lightning and thunderbolts were striking every few minutes. When the full returns of the damage are received it is estimated they will sum up to a large amount. Aler the electrical storm passed to the west rain continued to fall all this forenoon.

CARLTON'S REPORT.

Grave Apprehension of Damage Should Rainfall Continue.

Should Rainfall Continue.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Caritoh. Or., Aug. 24.—An electrical storm, followed by a fall of rain continuing for hours commenced here at 3 o'clock this moraing.

If the rain should continue for any length of time it will cause an immense amount of damage to all grain crops as well as the seed crop of clover. Threshing in this section has only just commenced and there is considerable acreage of spring cats still uncut. Grain that has been harvested is fully up to the yield of former years and in a good many instances far better.

The hop crop will also be injured if the rain should continue, as the crop is nearly ready for harvest. Picking would have commenced by the middle of the coming week. The hop yield in this locality will be fully as large as in former years and the quality will be exceptionally good.

former years and the quality will be exceptionally good.

There is some talk that a good many of the yards will not be picked in this section, owing/to the fact that there is no price offered. A large number of the renters are finding it a hard matter to get picking money advanced as there is nothing doing in contracts and the banks are refusing to furnish money on the hops alone and are demanding additional security.

The prune crop, which is also very rain and lightning storm visited this section last night. Lightning struck a harn of George Scramling and the hophouse of J. Gergens, both of which were destroyed. The house of F. Fensky was also struck, but not much damage was done. Numbers of trees and telephone poles were also struck. The heavy rain has done no particular damage except to open stacks of grain. The hops are not hurt unless the rain continues.

FOREST GROVE CAR

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Forest Grove, Or., Aug. 24.—Because of the heavy travel on the Forest Grove Transportation electric line, connecting the depot with the town, the stockholders have decided to put on another passenger car. From the time the line has been in operation until the present the business of the company has grown steadily until now the passenger car is carrying hundreds of persons dally. Much larger motors have been ordered so the cars will be able to run with the same speed as city cars. Beginning Monday the mail will be carried by the passenger car, as the contract of Hute Johnson with the covernment expires on that date. The line has been in operation over a year and despite the direful prophecies of many it has succeeded beyond the hopes of the most singulae.

UP THE VALLEY OUT ON PETITION

Terrifying Display Opens at Clerk Refuses to Accept Application for Liquor License Until Advertised.

> Fred Merrill called at the courthouse yesterday to tender a petition for a liquor license, but he was informed that the law required publication on his part and that five weeks must clapse before he could hope to have the same granted, and that it could not even be filed with and that it could not even be filed with the county court prior to the time it was advertised. County Clerk Fields said today:

"I had very little discussion with Merrill about the license he desired. He said he wished to file the petition, and I asked him if he had advertised the fact as the law demanded in order to permit any person or persons to file remonstrances. He said no, and I told him to do so before he filed any petition."

This latter stipulation has been added by the county court to the original law and the court interprets the matter to mean that no person convicted of such offense is eligible to license.

Unofficially Merrill claims that he has 120 voters of the last register as signers of his petition for license to sell liquor at his 12-mile house on the Base Line road extension, or 29 more than is needed by law. He will have to wait at least five weeks before he can secure any license, provided there is no remonstrance against his application.

In the meantime Sheriff Stevens announces that he will not permit the sale of liquor at the place, and if he finds the law is being violated he threatens to bring Merrill into court.

Merrill, on the other hand, contends that he never sold liquor without a license and will not do so until he is granted permission by the county court.

WIFE'S SUITS GOT TOO NUMEROUS SO DEFENDANT LEAVES STATE

When the case against George A. Moore, a prominent caftle-buyer of Oregon City, formerly a resident of Portland, was called this morning in the county court, the defendant failed to put in an appearance, although previously, through his attorney, O. D. Eby of Oregon City, he entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of non-support.

An interesting story developed today as a result of the non-appearance. When first arrested, Mr. Moore was under the impression that he was being sued by his former wife, from whom he was divorced several years ago.

Under the law he could not be sued for non-support, and he placed $100 in the hands of his attorney and told the latter to notify the court that he would be on hand to defend himself on a plea of not guilty.

One day last week it is said a lump conferred by Moore as a final settlement.

No definite decision has been arrived at with reference to the proposed improvement of the Gas company corner at Fifth and Yamhill streets. The architects will meet at an early date with W. C. Alvord, representing the Falling estate, to decide upon the character of building to be put up there. It is probable that a very heavy foundation will be put in, but it is not at all likely that more than six stories will be run up now, as announced some time ago in The Journal.

The Portland Gas company will vacate the one story frame building occupying that corner and move into the quarters now occupied by the Wells-Fargo Express company at Fourth and Yamhill streets. It is understood that upon the completion of the new Failing structure that the Gas company's offices and salesroom will occupy the ground floor. 100.00 at with reference to the proposed im-

ARRANGING ARRIVAL OF NEW OPERA TROUPE

Fred G. Andrews, advance manager of the Californians' opera company, which is to begin a six weeks' engagement at the Marquam, commencing September 2, is in the city making arrangements for the arrival of his company. At present the company is at San Jose, where it is meeting with crowded houses and Mr. Andrews expects the reception to be duplicated here.
