

DORMITORY READY FOR YOUNG LADY STUDENTS

Hall of Residence at Pacific University Model of Its Kind—Will Be Ready for Occupancy This Fall—Tuition Free to Journal Contestants.

Women's Dormitory at Pacific University Which Replaces Herrick Hall.

The new home for young ladies of Pacific university at Forest Grove is being hurried to completion. It will be furnished and ready for occupancy on the opening of the fall term. This building replaces Herrick hall, which was burned in March, 1904.

The new building is three stories high in addition to a good basement with cemented floor. The equipment is modern in every detail. A hot water heating plant, electric lights, bath and toilet rooms on every floor, hot and cold water in each room, and fire escapes insure both comfort and safety.

Building With Home Surroundings. On the ground floor are the dining hall, parlors, music and art rooms. Easy stairways lead to the upper floors where both single and double rooms are arranged. In a few cases connecting doorways make it possible to use two rooms together. The rooms are furnished with single beds which can be made up like lounges to give a more homelike appearance. All the furniture is new and attractive. In addition to the furnishings which the institution provides, the occupants

BLOOD HOUNDS FIND THEIR MAN

Demonstration Is Given the Visiting Sheriffs During Downpour of Rain.

CONVENTION FINISHES WORK AND ADJOURNS

Washington Authorities Meet at Vancouver—Will Attempt to Secure Legislation Which Will Again Give Them Service of Papers.

As a fitting close to the convention of the sheriffs of Oregon and Washington held at the county courthouse yesterday, A. G. Vaughn, manager of Vaughn's Detective Agency of this city, gave a very thrilling and satisfactory test of how bloodhounds effect a capture of criminals. The demonstration was arranged for Sheriff Stevens as a sort of feature event to the day's events, and as Detective Vaughn owns the only pair of genuine bloodhounds in Multnomah county he was called upon to give the demonstration.

The test was made in the heavy downpour about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and as it is decidedly difficult to track when rain is falling, those who witnessed the demonstration are very loud in their praises. Vaughn acted as the individual in person, and Deputy Sheriff Archie P. Leonard held the dogs on strap during the search.

The chase was made from the county courthouse. Vaughn started out in advance of the hounds and made a circuitous detour of the building, coming in and going out again, and finally going by a roundabout way through the plaza.

Months Locate Orvans. The bloodhounds, two in number, and only 4-months-old pups, kept the scent through the rain and finally brought their man to the door of the building. Vaughn was the first to see the dogs, and he was the first to see the man.

One of the visiting sheriffs, who has been connected with the state penitentiary of Washington and who has had a good deal to do with bloodhounds, pronounced the pair among the best pups of their character he has ever seen. The owner is training the dogs himself and allows nobody to touch them. He intends raising them for criminal purposes and will use them when older in the prosecution of detective work.

The joint meeting of the Oregon and Washington Sheriffs' associations was decidedly successful from every standpoint. The meeting was held entirely for the purpose of getting better acquainted and interchanging ideas which would work to the betterment of handling criminals between states.

Entertained at Dinner.

Yesterday afternoon the visiting sheriffs were the guests of Sheriff Stevens at a dinner given at the rooms of the Commercial club. After luncheon the delegates were shown over the principal office of the Home Telephone company. The workings of the automatic system were carefully inspected by the sheriffs from Washington, because the new company is figuring on thoroughly covering that state.

A vote of thanks was tendered Sheriff Stevens for his entertainment, after which the convention adjourned. Some of the delegates accepted the invitation extended by Manager Freeman and attended the Oaks last night. Others departed for their homes. Sheriff E. D. Gilson of Adams county, Washington, an old Oregon resident, will visit with his parents at Salem before going home.

Mr. Gilson is an ex-newspaper man, and before his recent election to office was business manager of the Adams County News, published at Ritzville, Washington.

Object to Present Law.

The sheriffs of Washington held their first business meeting on Friday at Vancouver. The sheriffs of that state are attempting to have legislation passed which will secure the service of all legal papers in connection with insanity and other criminal cases in their hands again. As the law now stands, it is alleged that persons outside the state are taking advantage of the law which works to the detriment of the fee system.

Resolutions against this practice were passed at the Vancouver meeting. Friday night the Washington delegates were guests at a banquet tendered by the Commercial club of that city.

The officers of the Washington Sheriffs' association are: E. D. Gilson of Adams county, president; Harry K. Knowles of Everett, secretary.

In all 23 sheriffs of both states were in joint session yesterday in this city. This was the third annual meeting of the two bodies, and for the first time since organization Sheriff Law Smith of Seattle was present. He is the father of the Washington organization and his presence was missed. He sent word that urgent business made it impossible for him to attend this year.

I AM RESTING TODAY—AN APPRECIATED REST I CAN TELL YOU

But I'll be back at it at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning ripping and tearing at this Boston Store stock with a vigorous determination characteristic of the noble beast whose name I carry and my appetite for bare walls and empty tables, shelves and suit racks will not be appeased till the last item of this enormous and excellent stock of Men's, Women's and Children's Summer and Fall Wear has been penciled on a sale check.

Help me do it in a hurry, people

I don't ask you to do it for nothing. It's a business proposition and an unparalleled one from your standpoint. Aren't you getting yours when I offer you

NORWEGIANS WILL SING AT ASTORIA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Astoria, Or., Aug. 24.—The Norwegian Saengerfest of the Northwest, which is to be held in Astoria from August 30 to September 3, in conjunction with the regatta and county fair and the annual outing of the State Educational association, will be the most important held by that body in the history of the Astoria theatre and only a limited number will be able to hear them.

All the voices are trained and have been selected from a large number by Professor Sperati, who is drilling them every day and will do so from the present time until the opening of the big celebration. The competition will take place in the Astoria theatre and only a limited number will be able to hear them.

At an enormous expense, Madame Norrell, the famous singer, Dr. Sma, the pianist and other noted artists of world-wide reputation have been secured for the program. Numerous other interesting features have been provided by the Saengerfest, notably the Viking ship and King pageantry.

MUSLIN WINDOWS

Their Use in Dairy Barns May Help to Prevent Tuberculosis.

The experiment of using muslin curtains in place of window glass, which has proved so successful in poultry houses all over the country, is now being extended to dairy barns.

The problem of ventilation has long been one which dairymen have found difficult to solve, says Suburban Life. The new plan is the same of simplicity. Several windows are removed and replaced with muslin curtains which contain muslin cloth has been tightly stretched. Experiments have shown that even in the coldest weather the temperature of the stable is lowered only two or three degrees by the use of these curtain windows while the barns actually have seemed very much warmer. This result is due to the fact that the air is kept dry.

Where this plan has been adopted the cattle have shown less evidence of suffering from the cold and the attendants have admitted that the barns have been more comfortable places in which to work than when the glass windows were in use. It is the excess of moisture in the air which causes the feeling of dampness and chill which prevails in many dairy barns. Although the outside air is able to pass through the muslin it is almost impossible for any one standing three feet away to detect its entrance.

It is possible that the introduction of a system of this kind will do much to prevent the spread of tuberculosis among cattle. Poultrymen have found that whereas under the old system of
