Lightweights Form Only Live Weight Division in the Country.

INACTIVITY IN OTHER EIGHT PUG DIVISIONS

Fight Experts Predict Victory of Gans Over Britt When Two Meet on Admission Day-Johnson Not Aggressive Enough for Champion.

By C. E. Van Loan.

Los Angeles, Aug. 26 .- Eyer since big Jim Jeffries tossed the gloves into the corner, put the punching bag in the attic and announced his retirement from the ring, there has been but one live weight division in this countrythe lightweights.

Fully three years ago the little fellows began to shoulder their beefy brothers out of the limelight and the welters, middles and heavies have been in the shadow ever since, with a fine, fat prospect of remaining there for sevweight under 133 pounds called himself weight under 133 pounds called himself a featherweight. Britt beat Corbett and, growing heavier, graduated into the lightweight class and Abe Attell, who came along about that time, proceeded to do 122 ringside and ask for customers. He got the title without a struggle. The 130-pound feathers quietly slid into the lightweight class where they belonged and the squad was full to overflowing. Think over the large purses and big splits of the past three years! Who got the money? Why, years! Who got the money? Why, Young Corbett Britt, Nelson, Gans and a few more of the little fellows.

the light heavyweight class has practically ceased to exist—with Jeff out of the game there is no longer reason for its existence—and the heavies are floundering around trying to attract a bit of the kind attention and secure a few matches.

Three Victims for Burns.

There are three men for Burns to the First comes Jack Johnson, whose fight. First comes Jack Johnson, whose middle name is Gamboge, or anything else that means yellow. Then comes Mike Schreck, who has been challenging Burns until he was threatened with writer's cramp, and last of all—don't laugh now—Jawn Twin Sullivan of Boston. There's only one reason why Burns should fight Sullivan. The Twin bolds a 20-round decision over him holds a 20-round decision over him.

The public has little interest in a match between Burns and Schreck or Burns and Sullivan, but there is a growing desire to see the husky Canuck step into the ring with J. Gamboge Johnson. Tommy Burns was in Los Angeles a few days ago. He lingered long enough to nail the canard that he was again challenging Jeffries and expressed him-challenging Jeffries and expressed himself as very well pleased to have the big fellow remain in retirement.

"How about Johnson?" he was asked. Tommy lit up at once.

"Show me the coin," said he. "Let me see the money and there won't be any trouble about making the match. I don't bar Johnson or any other man. All I want to see is the money."

This sounds well enough, but it recalls an interesting bit of by-play becan Burns and Johnson which took place list December in Los Angeles.

Burns and O'Brien were dickering with several clubs in an attempt to get some big money for their return match.
J. Gamboge, accompanied by his manager, blew into town while the stately negotiations were being carried on.
Johnson was on his way to Australia, but he was only too willing to be

O'Brien. McCarey Won't Stage It.

Burns knew that Johnson was in town and due to put in his appearance. Tommy questioned McCarey and asked the manager if there was any chance to put Johnson on in Los Angeles.

"Not on your life," said McCarey. "I never want to use him again in this town."

A little later Johnson entered the room, flashed his plate glass exhibit, showed his teeth, shook hands all around and sat down to nurse his cane. If ever a black man was anxious to please, it was the big smudge from Gal-

"If McCarey will stage it," said Tommy, as he shook.

Of course McCarey vetoed the proposition as soon as Johnson submitted it, but for a few minutes Johnson really thought he had a match in sight.

Other Eight Divisions.

Just at the present time there is a remarkable lack of activity in all the other eight divisions. It is true that Abe Attell is trying to get another crack at Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan, the man who beat him in St. Louis several years ago. Freedy Weeks, the Cripple Creek phenomenon, is crying for a chance at Attell, and Harry Baker, the western featherweight, who has been campaigning in the Sleep City, says that he would like a third crack at the champion 122-pounder. Outside of these matches there is nothing stirring with the gilt-edge grade of the featherweight fighters.

There is a faint whisper from Boston which may mean a little activity in the welter class. Mike Twin Sullivan having survived Old Home week, would like to fight Joe Thomas. Mike now ecalls himself the welterweight champion. He has distinguished company, for both Mellody and Thomas claim the distinction. Kid Ketcheli may drop in and make it a foursome. He is the unknown who gave Thomas such a lacing last Fourth of Juiy, He has not, as yet, claimed a title, for the referee decided that a draw was about all for him.

Two years ago on September 9 the native son received his tember 9 the native son received his first knockout at Colma. That night it was predicted that Britt was done and would never again figure in a top-notch fight. The McGovern battle in New York strengthened this opinion.

Resurrection of James Edward, When Britt went into training, over six months ago, the sports took it as a joke. They regarded James as already sealed up in his little sarcophagus and ticketed "Died, Colma, Sept. 9, 1905."

Now, such a strange thing is public or the same man who said Britt.

Now, such a strange thing is public opinion, the same men who said Britt would never come back are talking about the punch which they say he has developed and wondering whether he will be able to land it on Gans.

Britt is now a public idol. Never a popular fighter in the past, he is now on the creat of the way. They point him the crest of the wave. They point him out as the man who licked Nelson and they are trying to twist the dope around to make him win from Joe Gans. It is claimed that Gans suffered a great loss of vitality in the Nelson fight. This is undoubtedly true, for Joe left the ring weighing 128 pounds. He was a very tired man after the fight and he lost a great deal of blood from the mouth and nose, but he did not receive a dozen clean punches in the whole afternoon

Gans says that he has trained once since that fight without noticing any ill effects of the Goldfield affair and he certainly looked right and ready when he was in Los Angeles last week training for Memsic. Britt's only chance to win lies in Gans' physical condition. The introduction of athletic and gymnasium work into the public schools of this city was regarded as an experiment, but has now developed into one of the most useful branches of the curriculum. The interest taken by the pupils in raising the money to build and equip the gymnasium, and the enthusiasm with which they have entered into athletic sports and games have done much to sports and games have done much to create and foster a school and class spirit which has proved a valuable fac-tor in all lines of school work.

STATE SHOOT WILL BE HELD AT SPOKANE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 26.—The Washington state trapshoot has been changed from Walla Walla to Spokane, by mutual consent of the Walla Walla sportsmen. The reason is that the Pacific coast shoot, which will be held in Spokane on the 12th, 14th and 15th of September, would have all the good shots and there would be none at Walla Walla By the present arrangement all can attend both shoots without inconvenience, as the state shoot will follow the coast handicap and be held on the 13th.

About 125 sportsmen are expected here to attend the meets from the shoots at Ogden, Denver and Boise. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Not the least of the good points gained by having the automobile shows come early is that the manufacturers have been forced to start in earlier on their 1908 models. Many prominent companies have already their 1908 models for sale.

At the present time there is much controversy over the relative merits of four and six cylinders. The following comment on the subject from J. D. Maxwell, vice-president of the Maxwell-Briscoe Motor company, is of more than passing interest, since it shows what one authority thinks on the subject. In speaking of the matter, Mr. Maxwell said:

speaking of the matter, Mr. Maxwell said:

"The question seems to be largely one of power desired. If 30 to 40 H.P. is enough, then four cylinders will fulfill all requirements. If, on the other hand, a 50 to 70 H.P. motor is desired, then six cylinders will be found generally more satisfactory.

"The question resolves itself entirely into keeping each unit or cylinder within practical limits. This has been the policy of the Maxwell company, and the 2-cylinder car of 20 H.P. seems just as popular today as when we introduced it back in 1905."

Slaps Ball Away From Mott While Umpire's Asleep and Wins Game.

(Journal Special Service.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 26 .- A sly play which failed lost yesterday's game to Portland, after the northerners had a lead of 3 to 1 as late as the eighth inning.

There were two Angels out in the last haif of the eighth inning. Cravath was on third and Brashear on second, when the ball was sneaked to Mott in the hope that he would catch the big right fielder napping. Even the umpire was fooled, and like the fans, he watched Groom intently as he wound up his arm.

watched Groom intently as he wound up his arm.

But Cravath was not fooled and, taking advantage of the situation, he slapped the ball out of Mott's hand. The sphere rolled 50 feet to the grandstand, while Cravath and Brashear ran home and tied the score.

Of course the Beavers howled, but the busher umpire, Kelley, did not see the "dirty" play and he allowed the runs. The Portlanders went on the field and wanted to quit the game and it was all McCredie could do to line them up for a finish.

Los Angeles made the winning run in the ninth on a double by Gray and Fay's muff of an infield fly. The official score:

Be a Perfect Man

With No Back Pains-No Nervousness-No Waste of Power-No Loss of Ambition—But With Plenty of Life and Energy and the Viger of Youth.

To be strong and manly is the aim of every young man, and yet how many we find who are wasting the vitality and strength which nature gives them. Instead of developing into the strong, vigorous, manly young fellows that nature intended them to be, they find themselves weak, stunted and despondent—no ambition to do anything. They struggle aimlessly along, sooner or later to become victims of that dread disease, nervous debility; their finer sensibilities blunted and their nerves shattered.
