

SALOONKEEPERS EVADE SUNDAY CLOSING LAW

Eight Barmen Taken Into Custody Yesterday for Selling Liquor, the Most of Whom Plead Guilty—Sabbath Wet Goods Responsible for 41 Inebriates.

At no time since the promulgation of District Attorney Manning's order to the liquor dealers of the county that they must close their establishments on Sunday in conformity with the state law has there been such a universal disregard for the statute as yesterday. Incidentally the number of drunks gathered in by the police shows an alarming increase over previous weeks, 41 intoxicated persons being lodged in the city prison from 6 p. m. Saturday until 4 a. m. today.

Eight saloonmen who sought to secure a little "easy money" by dispensing liquor on the Sabbath in spite of the district attorney, police and sheriff, landed in the toils and five of the octet contributed some of their profits to the municipal treasury this morning for their recklessness.

Saloonkeepers Plead Guilty.
Harry Lord, proprietor of a cafe at Tenth and Hoyt streets, arrested at 11:50 a. m. yesterday by Patrolmen Wellbrook and McCullough, upon a plea of guilty in the police court was fined $15. H. Goodger, who presides over a "thirst parlor" at 51 North Third street, taken into custody by Detectives Kay and Kienlin at 3:50 p. m., likewise admitted his guilt and paid a $20 fine.

Grant Lyons, of Thirteenth and Marshall streets, who, to oblige a number of customers, opened his place 10 minutes before midnight and was caught by patrolmen Gittings and Bigelow, increased the municipal court receipts by $10. Monroe Bolich, said to be the owner of the Capital saloon on Burnside street, who was generously dispensing whiskey from a five-gallon demijohn on Third street, entered a plea of guilty and separated himself from $15 upon order of Judge Cameron.

DRILL FINDS LOGS FAR UNDER GROUND
Flowing Well Near North Powder Acts Much Like a Geysier.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
North Powder, Or., Aug. 26.—Visitors returning from the scene of the well-boring now in process at the Al Hutchinson place near here say the drill is showing borings suggestive of a time in the history of this section of the great Inland Empire when a vast forest of pine and fir covered it as thickly as it does now the valley of the Willamette.

At a depth of 245 feet, with the promising flow of water at its base, its action became unaccountably intermittent. It would flow steadily for hours, then

What Western Financiers Say of HOME TELEPHONE BONDS

"At the request of the Home Telephone company of Portland, we beg to say, regarding the bonds which they have issued on their plant in this city, that after a full investigation of same, we have taken $50,000 in bonds, which shows better than words how we regard them."
J. Frank Watson, President Merchants' National Bank, Portland, Oregon.

"I have followed closely the course of the market on the securities of the Home Telephone companies of southern California, and they have invariably shown a steady increase in value. After careful consideration, we invested in the bonds, underwritten by the National Securities company, of the Home Telephone companies building in the Pacific northwest."
M. P. Snyder, President California Savings Bank of Los Angeles.

"I have been familiar with the Independent Telephone movement in this city and vicinity. The services rendered by the Independent Telephone company have been so much superior to what the public has been accustomed to receive that the system and its securities became and have remained deservedly popular. I have handled both the stocks and bonds of the Home Telephone company with great satisfaction and profit."
W. C. Patterson, Vice-President First National Bank of Los Angeles.

"I have invested considerable in both bonds and stocks of the Home Telephone company of this city, Southern California and also of Portland, Oregon, and I think they are certainly a safe and excellent investment."
Herman W. Hellman, President Merchants' National Bank, Los Angeles.

"Our investments in Home Telephone securities have proven remunerative and satisfactory. We consider them among the most promising securities in our utilities."
O. F. Brant, Vice-President Title Insurance & Trust company of Los Angeles.

"This bank has purchased from time to time for clients and for its own account bonds of the different Home Telephone companies of Southern California, and they have, without exception, proven a profitable investment."
W. C. Durgin, Cashier of Central Bank of Los Angeles.

"It gives us pleasure to state that we think very well of the bonds and stocks placed in this market by the various Home Telephone companies. A number of our customers and friends have invested in them to a considerable extent and they all appear to be highly pleased with their investments. The local company is well established and the system is very popular with its subscribers."
W. R. Rogers, Cashier Merchants' National Bank, San Diego, California.

THIS WAS MALE WILLS MEMBER SHANIKO SALOON SCENE OF MID-NIGHT TRAGEDY—HALE A PRISONER.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
The Dalles, Or., Aug. 26.—A telephone message to District Attorney Menefee that reached this city this morning gave the first news of a tragedy at Shaniko at 12:30 last night.

Thomas Hale, a well known gambler, came into the Columbia Southern hotel bar at Shaniko somewhat intoxicated, flourishing a revolver and using threatening language. The bartender became alarmed and went out to call the marshal, leaving only Hale and a shepherder, Tom McConnelly, in the saloon. Two men passing the saloon heard Hale tell McConnelly that he had nothing against him and would not hurt him. Soon after they heard three shots fired and entered the saloon and McConnelly dead, shot three times.

An inquest was held this morning and Hale was held for the crime. He will arrive in this city on the local train this afternoon. Hale is considered a desperate character. McConnelly had been working some time for the Baldwin Sheep & Land company. He bore a good reputation for being orderly and for attending to his own business.

HARRIMAN DRIVES
"I can't tell you anything, and I won't tell anything," declared Curtis G. Sutherland, who is an official in the office of General Manager J. E. O'Brien. Mr. O'Brien, accompanied by three automobiles and Fred S. Stanley, of the Deschutes Irrigation and Power company, left suddenly last evening for the O. R. & N. for Shaniko. Immediately there was built upon this incident a story to the effect that they were going to make a trip over the road to Shaniko to Klamath Falls and fetch Mr. Harriman back. The maps show no wagon road from Klamath Falls to Shaniko, but one exists nevertheless.

Ignorance All Around.
Chief Engineer Boschke, who usually is one of the official party of Harriman officials who visit central Oregon, today professed total ignorance of the movements of Mr. O'Brien and his intentions concerning Mr. Harriman. General Freight Agent Miller, also invariably one of any O. R. & N. company official to go to Shaniko, said Madras, is pursuing his ordinary duties somewhere up north.

So far as can be learned today Mr. O'Brien is the only railroad official who went with the automobiles. Mr. Stanley was in charge, it is said, and took his Royal Tourist car. Two other cars of the same make were secured from the Cook Motor company. Each car will accommodate seven persons.

ATTORNEY NAMED
as the attorney for S. A. D. Pater, and later for Seward Mitchell and Congressman Williamson.

Active in Oregon Politics.
Judge O'Day was born at Goshen, Connecticut, in 1862, and is consequently 45 years of age. His parents emigrated to Illinois while O'Day was yet very young and he spent his boyhood in that state. Until 20 years of age he worked upon a farm in Illinois and from that time his parents having gone to Iowa, he worked upon a farm during the summer and attended school in the winter time, thus securing his education.

Later he taught school for four years and with the money thus earned attended the Iowa State university, graduating from the law department there in 1877. Admitted to the bar, Mr. O'Day began the practice of his profession in the office of H. M. Crimms, who is now judge of the district court of Nebraska. In 1879 he went to Neligh, Iowa, where he taught school for a year, and then began once more the practice of his profession.

In 1887 Judge O'Day was a candidate for the supreme bench of Iowa on the Democratic ticket, but was defeated, and in 1889 he moved to Oregon, making his residence in Portland. Since that time he has been actively engaged in the practice of his profession and in state politics.

He was chairman of the Democratic county central committee of Multnomah county from 1894 until 1896, and was also a candidate for election to the circuit bench in the fourth district and to the supreme bench of the state, being the Democratic nominee three years ago against Frank A. Moore, present chief justice.

Appointment is Satisfactory.
In speaking of his appointment this morning Judge O'Day was appreciative both of the honor conferred upon him and also of the many expressions of good will which were tendered to him by the members of the bar upon the fact of his appointment being made public.

"I feel very grateful for the appointment and for the very friendly recognition and reception from the members of the bar as soon as my appointment was made public. I will be intimately associated for a great many years," said Judge O'Day. "I will assume the duties and responsibilities of the new office as soon as my appointment arrives from Salem in order that I may at once give my assistance in as many cases as possible towards the transaction of the court's business. I will be required to have some time for the arrangement of my private business affairs preliminary to giving my attention to the duties of the judgeship, but hope to have done this prior to the opening of the next term of court on Tuesday next.

The appointment of Judge O'Day came as acceptable news to a large majority of the members of the Portland bar, as he has been known for some time to allow himself to be placed before the governor for appointment. He had declined to allow himself to become a candidate, however, until after the general election of Judge Sears, feeling that it would be unseemly for him to take any steps in that direction prior to that time.

JUDGE ALFRED SEARS
non-political activities, being the president of the Oregon State Humane society and director of the library of the Portland Free Library association, one of the promoters of the Multnomah law library, and other organizations of similar good offices for the public weal.

Of late years Judge Sears has not been in rugged health, but it was thought at any time that his life was near to its end. Saturday he seemed to be in his usual state of health and during the afternoon discussed his plans for the future with friends at the courthouse. He talked over the coming year's work as he has in equity in the University of Oregon law school and stated to Judge Gantenbein his desire to have more time allowed to him for his course of instruction. He retired Saturday evening a little earlier than usual, but not as he had in his usual condition.

Game From Furrier's Stock.
Judge Sears was the descendant of Purdie's stock, his ancestors having fled on Cape Cod during the stirring days when those old forefathers of the first settlement were driven from their great grandfather, Zachariah Sears, was a lieutenant in the Massachusetts militia in 1775, while his grandfather, Captain Zehebe Sears, was captured by the Spaniards in 1816 while in command of the brigantine Neptune and after trial

Facts and Figures

Yesterday's excursion to the mines of the Consumers' Coal Company was a huge success from every point of view. The party of over 125 people will agree with us in the statements that follow:

Engineer Myers says that we have 8,250,000 tons of coal. There are 25,000 shares of stock. This means that every share is secured by 330 tons of coal. Every ton of coal has been sold at a profit of $1.50 per ton. This means that the total earnings of the company, from coal that is already known to exist, is $12,375,000. Carried still further, the earning capacity of one share of stock if purchased at $16.00 is $495. This is OVER THREE THOUSAND PER CENT.

If you wait until tomorrow and buy this stock for $17.00 a share, your profit will be 100 per cent. less. This difference in the percentage of profit alone amounts to enough to BUY 187 SHARES OF STOCK AT $16.00. Why not let that ONE DOLLAR be earning 3,000 per cent. as well as the balance of the money you put into the investment. There is one certain way to do it. BUY YOUR STOCK TODAY AT $16.00 INSTEAD OF WAITING UNTIL TOMORROW, WHEN IT WILL BE RAISED TO $17.00. Coal is a necessity; it is bound to increase in price; money invested in coal cannot fail to return greater profit in the Northwest than it ever has anywhere else in the nation. Be sure and call at our office today and arrange for the purchase of a block of the stock before it is taken from the market. Office open every evening this week until 9 o'clock.

ALL NATURE FAKERS KOTOW TO THIS VERACIOUS SOLDIER

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Helena, Mont., Aug. 26.—A remarkable tale of instinct, intelligence or sixth sense, whatever the nature fakery wish, was told in Helena today by a recently discharged soldier of the Sixth Infantry, who had just come up from the Yellowstone Park.

One morning as the men were sitting down to breakfast on hardtack and coffee, they were startled by a crashing noise and a moment later a fine buck burst into camp. The animal sniffed about the fire and then walked over to where the men were grouped and stood still.

The swallows were too surprised to move and as they stood watching the animal it raised its left forefoot. Then the soldiers observed there was a bandage about the deer's leg, just above the knee joint. It was loose, only partially concealing a bad cut. The surgeon tumbled to what the animal wanted.

In Spain was sentenced to life imprisonment on the Moroccan coast. Because of his affiliation with the Masonic fraternity, however, the committee of five allowed to escape and managed to reach his home in Boston three years after his capture.

North Carolina, September 4, 1852, during the temporary residence of his parents in the south. He spent his early boyhood in various parts of the United States with his parents, his father being a civil engineer in the employment of the United States.

Attended Many Colleges.
After preparation for college in Exeter, New Hampshire, Judge Sears entered Harvard in 1871, remaining in that institution for one year. He then entered Dartmouth college and graduated in 1873 with the degree of bachelor of arts. In 1875 he entered the law department of Boston university and graduated in 1875 with the degree of bachelor of laws.

Joined the Practice of Law.
In 1875 Judge Sears came to Portland in 1879 and began the practice of law with Henry E. McGinn, the former being at that time the senior partner. He was later merged into the firm of McGinn, Sears and Simon and finally became the firm of Paxton, Sears, Beach and Simon.

Appointed District Attorney.
In 1885 Judge Sears was appointed assistant district attorney for the fourth judicial district, while previously he had been the representative of the third ward. He was president of the council in 1885.

Ascended Bench in 1898.
Deceased ascended the circuit bench in 1895, having defeated George E. Chamberlain, present governor, who ran against him on the democratic ticket. His majority was over 1,000 and in 1900 the republican convention nominated him for re-election by acclamation. He was re-elected without opposition. In 1905 Judge Sears again was re-elected, this time defeating Olesbough Young, who was the nominee of the democrats, by a large majority. His term of office expires on the 1st of January next.

Lawyers Frame Memorial.
Two hundred members of the State Bar association met at the courthouse this morning and a committee of five was appointed to frame resolutions expressing the sentiments of the bar over the death of Judge Sears. Presiding Judge Charles G. Carter today presided at the bar association meeting. He named the following committee: Simon, G. G. Cameron, V. V. Beach and Frederick W. Holman. It was resolved that the association meet at the courthouse at 1:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon for the time of the funeral, and attend the funeral services in a body. Whitney L. Boise was appointed marshal.

PEACE IS EXPECTED IN OPERATORS' STRIKE

President Small's Visit to New York Is Said to be Significant.

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, Aug. 26.—Confident that the telegraph companies will recede from the position they assumed at the beginning of the strike operators are secretly electing representatives to arrange terms of peace. Details of the peace plan are being worked out in New York, where President Small is now, ostensibly on a tour of inspection. It is admitted that Small had a definite mission in view when he left for the east and the talk of peace became more pronounced.
