O. W. & K. Sewing Machines

Get ready for the fall sewing and prepare for it in the most practical common sense way possible, by purchasing an O. W. & K. machine to do your work. Pay only about half what you would to the agencies and have as good a machine that is equal to any made. Back of these machines stands OUR guarantee. The guarantee of a firm that you know you can place implicit confidence in. The O. W. & K. has every advantage that modern skill and inventive genius has devised. Here are some of the special points; others will be thoroughly touched upon in

All Running Parts Are Ball Bearing

The bearings of this machine make it the lightest running machine possible to produce, as all parts that bear any friction are ball bearing These bearings are not the ordinary sort, but are carefully tempered in oil. This gives them a foughness added to the hardness that insures almost absolute freedom from breaking, grinding or wearing. The stand is of tough gray steel and the finished parts are highly nickel plated. The O. W. & K. comes in three styles. Prices as follows:

Smart tailord costumes for fall wear are plentiful here now. The models for autumn, 1907, show decided changes from the lines for last spring and the suits that were worn a year ago. The long coat seems to be much in favor—the Redingote, the three-quarter and the seveneighths length being among the new models we are showing. The ever popular Eton is strong as ever in the short jacket models, and is sure to be popular because of the opportunity it provides for elaborate trimming effects. Another short jacket suit that has already met with favor is the thirty-inch semi-fitting coat, in the tailored effect. The materials in these suits are velvets, in many shades, broadcloth in plain weave and chiffon finish, cheviots, serges and many patterns in fancy wool suitings. Trimmings used are laces, Persian braids, silk braids, appliques, etc., on the Eton and trimmed models, and straps and pleats on the tailored styles.

Come to see the display on Tuesday in the second floor suit salons. The biggest and best suit store in all Portland ready this season with the best assortments in its history for the opening of the

Store Closed All Day Labor Day

We're all going to take a holiday here Monday—going to rest up and enjoy ourselves and be ready to serve you all the better for it Tuesday morning. Store closed TIGHT, no customers will be waited on no one here to wait on them. But watch the papers tomorrow and Tuesday for the news of the specials we'll have on sale Tuesday. We'll have to make up for that day we lose, and we'll go at it in the right way to bring results-by whole-hearted special sales that will bring the thrifty to our doors in swarms.

We Want Twenty Bright Boys

To apply here Tuesday morning bright and early. We have several places for them on our delivery wagons, want them to go with the drivers and act as helpers. Fine, manly, cleanly fellows, from 16 to 18 years of age—that's what we're looking for. We want them to be courteous, active, pleasant and willing. And for that sort of a boy—several of him—we've some of the nicest out-door positions in Portland.

King of England Praised for Quitting Theatre Where Indelicate Song Was Sung -Offending Actress Is Fined and Dismissed.

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.) Marienbad, Aug. 31 .- Mile, Mara, who sang an indelicate song, causing King Edward and his party to quit the vaudeville theater last night, was fined $12 this morning for violating the rules set by the theatrical censor for the preservation of public morality. Herr Laska, manager of the theatre, has dismissed her, proving that he did not know the chanteuse intended interpolating the offensive song. The king declares he will not go to the theater in Marien-bad again.

After his majesty, when Prince of Wales, had been named as co-respondent in the famous divorce suit of Sir Charles Morduant, the nonconformists in England denounced him roundly. Later, when his majesty's name was connected with the Tanby Croft scandal, nonconformists were again shocked. Now his majesty's worldly views have changed and he has become the moralist. It is probable that at the autumn meeting of the clergymen and laymen the nonconformist churches will shower the king with congratulations at his changed attitude toward morals of the stage.
