

NEW YORK SIGHTS ASTONISH PRINCE

Wilhelm of Sweden Pays a Second Visit to Coney Island.

SATURDAY NIGHT CROWDS AMAZE HIM

Says America Is Land of Contentment—Words He Likes Best to Use About this Country Are Lovely and Beautiful.

(United Press by Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Aug. 31.—Prince Wilhelm of Sweden says he is no different from any ordinary individual who comes to the metropolis to see the sights. He liked Coney Island so well on his visit that he had a return engagement tonight. On his visit earlier in the week the prince was assured a Saturday night crowd would far exceed the throng he then saw. Wilhelm was skeptical, but he learned his error tonight. He was fairly carried off his feet by the enormous crowd. The prince, however, had to hurry back to keep a late dinner engagement.

His highness spent another busy day. He visited the North German Lloyd lines, Hoboken docks, and went through the liner Kaiser Wilhelm II. Then he autographed along the Jersey shore to Fort Lee, lunched at the Claremont as a guest of the Swedish consul and visited Grant's tomb, where he left a wreath. Later he visited the Swedish orphan asylum in Brooklyn.

Praises Everything.
He had only words of praise for everything. The skyscrapers, women, American workshops, Coney Island, railroads, entertainments, all came in for his commendation.

"You must excuse me," he said, "if I have no words but 'nice' and 'lovely' and 'beautiful,' but they are the words I like best to use about this country. It is the land of contentment," he said. "I know there must be poor people, but I have not seen them. It seems to me that everybody works hard and is happy."

He has been most impressed with the opportunities which this country gives people to work cheerfully, and to live such cheerful, happy lives.

OFFICER IS PROBING TUCKER'S PAST LIFE

Lieutenant—Sent to New Mexico to Investigate Colonel's Record.

(United Press by Special Leased Wire.)
Denver, Aug. 31.—Under orders from General Earl D. Thomas of the department of Colorado, Lieutenant George Spaulding of Fort Logan has gone to Raton, New Mexico, to gather all available information in connection with the William F. Tucker sensation and upon his report will depend much whether or not the war department will further investigate and act upon the charges made by Mrs. Tucker and her mother, Mrs. John A. Logan. Colonel Tucker is attached to the department of the great lakes.

The exact nature of the charges brought by Mrs. Tucker against her husband before the war department are not known here, but they are said to be of a sensational nature.

Colonel Tucker's whereabouts were a mystery for some time as far as the public knew until he was discovered to be in Raton. Two days ago the officer suddenly left Raton, ostensibly for Washington to face the charges brought by his wife and her mother.

Lieutenant Spaulding spent today with C. M. Frey and secured his signature to a number of official looking documents, but beyond this no information is available at this time.

ANOTHER ULTIMATUM SERVED ON SULTAN

Powers Warn Ruler of Turkey That He Must Change His Ways For Better.

(United Press by Special Leased Wire.)
Constantinople, Aug. 31.—What amounts to an ultimatum has been served upon Sultan Abdul Hamid by the German ambassador here. While couched in diplomatic language, the message, coming straight from Prince Von Buelow, the German chancellor, warns the sultan that he must immediately decide upon a program for reforms within his domain. Failure to do so, it is believed will cost him the throne.

In delivering the message it is believed the German ambassador acted in a way as the mouthpiece of all the European governments. Kaiser Wilhelm has in the last few years been recognized as the closest friend of Abdul Hamid among the old world monarchs.

Von Buelow's advice, therefore, is like a tip from a well-wisher that it is time for the sultan to manifest some regard for European opinion. In view of the regard Abdul Hamid has always shown for the Kaiser's advice, it is believed the "ultimatum" will have the desired effect.

CZAR'S NERVE FAILS HIM AT LAST MOMENT

Fails to Appear at Dedication of Church Built In Ancestor's Memory.

(United Press by Special Leased Wire.)
St. Petersburg, Aug. 31.—Czar Nicholas' nerve failed him today. He did not attend the dedication of the church erected in memory of his grandfather, Alexander II.

Whether as a result of yesterday's two terrorist outrages, with the deaths of four officers and the wounding of five others, or the memory of the fate of his grandfather, assassinated with a bomb, Nicholas weakened at the last moment and decided to head his advisers' warnings not to visit the city he has not visited in two years.

Instead of going, a royal yacht trip was taken. It was stated in St. Petersburg that the health of the emperor forbade his visit.

Gevurtz

Best Furniture House in the Northwest

Introducing Features of Our Larger Growth

Thirty years ago, Mr. I. Gevurtz, in a very modest way, started what was destined to grow into the greatest furniture business in the Northwest. Today if you were to ask Mr. Gevurtz to what he owed this tremendous growth, he would tell you that it has grown through honest business methods. Today the same fundamental principles govern this great establishment as ruled that little store room thirty years back—Good treatment, Good furniture, Reasonable price. We now take occasion to give special mention to a few of our many Capable Managers who have helped materially in the advancement of this great house

MR. J. R. MORSE

Generally accepted as being the best looking man in the house, Mr. Morse is manager of our Furniture Department. He is without a doubt the best judge of furniture, and the most capable furniture man in the west. Mr. Morse numbers his friends by his acquaintances and he knows more people than does a senatorial candidate.

MR. CLARENCE WHEELER

For years with the old H. C. Breeden Co. Mr. Wheeler probably has a greater following of friends than any carpet man on the coast. It is with much pleasure that we are able to announce the securing of the best and highest-priced carpet man in the northwest for this house. Mr. Wheeler takes immediate charge and will welcome his old and new friends at his new post, our modern Carpet Department, second floor. The adman interviewed Mr. Wheeler a day or so ago, and was much impressed by his jovial, pleasant manner. Mr. Wheeler will find here as fine a stock of carpets as ever graced the floor of a carpet house. Watch tomorrow night's papers for our Carpet News.

MR. E. B. WAGAR

The popular manager of this very important department of "Eclipse" Ranges, Heaters and Stoves. Mr. Wagar, the "willing worker," is a gentleman of most pleasing personality, with a thorough understanding of stoves. His characteristic attitude is that of a professor teaching the fine points of the "Eclipse."

Eclipse The Range of Excellence

The range that made the dinner what it was. If every home had in it an "Eclipse" there would be fewer men stay down town to dinner. When a man tells you he can sell you a range as good as the "Eclipse," he is talking ahead a long ways. Maybe he can, one hundred years from now, but not while you are here to enjoy it. The range of now, and of highest perfection, is "Eclipse." A fifteen-year guaranty—fifteen ironclad proofs of supremacy.

$1 Down $1 a Week

ENTIRE BLOCK ON YAMHILL, FIRST AND SECOND

ELABORATE FURNISHINGS

For the home, the hotel, lodging house, office and theatre. The most elegant showing in the whole northwest. The prices on "Gevurtz" quality are less than those commanded by furniture of a much inferior grade at other stores. We would call particular attention to our exquisite pieces in Dining and Bedroom Furniture, in every conceivable wood and finish. Prices always less at "Gevurtz."

Sold on Small Weekly Payments

MR. H. E. WOODIN

In charge of the Department of Upholstered Furniture. A gentleman who has made a host of friends mainly through being a gentleman and a good salesman. Mr. Woodin is today one of the very best furniture men in the west. A man whose word is reliable, and whose friends bank upon that word.

MR. S. L. KAFKA

The manager of the Department for Men—Clothing, Furnishings and Shoes. The little man with the big smile. Mr. Kafka has been connected with some of the leading houses in the country, but it is doubtful if he ever made more friends than he has right here in Portland. This busy little clothing manager has mapped out a big selling campaign for the coming weeks.

MR. R. E. WORRELL

The head of our metropolitan Section for Ladies. It is indeed a pleasure to watch this conscientious, hard-working manager about his department. Never too busy for a word of greeting and a smile. Mr. Worrell has made this Women's Shop what it is today, the favored place of Portland's careful buyers of women's garments, the most up-to-date stock in Portland.

MR. FRANK BROCK

The energetic manager of the Drapery Department is a man of smiles and courtesy, which have made him many friends. He has surrounded himself with as fine a collection of Curtains, Draperies and Decorative Fixtures as could well be gotten together. Upon the second floor, Mr. Brock and his cozy department have made extensive preparations for the September trade.
