

NOW FOR THE FINISH OF THE CONTEST RACE

Final Dash For Bags of Gold and Splendid Scholarships In Oregon Schools and Colleges—Score Count No. 21 Shows Changes.

CLOSING DATE ANNOUNCED.

The second annual scholarship contest of The Journal will come to a close on Tuesday, September 10. No votes or subscriptions to apply to the contest will be accepted after that date.

Subscriptions to be voted in favor of contestants may be put over the counter of the circulation department of The Journal up to 8 o'clock of September 10. Portland city contestants must turn in their last votes before that hour.

Contestants living outside of Portland must make their final remittances by the last mail departing for Portland before September 11, or they must bear postmark of September 10.

Three days will be allowed after the close of the contest for returns from distant places to come in, but no remittance to apply to the contest will be accepted after September 10 unless the postmark or other evidence favors conclusively that the remittance was made before the closing hour of the contest.

The final score and names of the prize winners will be announced as soon as ascertained and the prizes will be awarded as soon thereafter as all contestants have made known to The Journal their final choice of the scholarships.

- 3—Helen Coss, Medford, Oregon 28,400

Last Week Begins.

The last week of the educational contest has begun with a rush. The more thrifty of the contestants are making strenuous efforts to move up a little higher in the line of progression toward the goal of their laudable ambitions.

Beasia Gaylord, the peerless hustler of the Blue Mountain region, has increased her score to 122,865 votes and she is trying to make certain of the $200 in gold and her choice of any scholarship in The Journal's list.

Mattie Fenley, also in the same district, came back to Portland last week to gather votes. It will be remembered that Miss Fenley was a leader in the first part of the contest and it was difficult for the others to wrest from her the first place of honor. She still has residence in eastern Oregon but of course she may gather votes in Portland or anywhere else for that matter.

The eastern Oregon district (No. 4) has a new name, Willie Fitzgerald of The Dalles. Willie has many friends, especially among the Catholics and he wants the scholarship in Columbia college.

Makes Good Advance. In district No. 2, Alice D. Grant has made a creditable advance and nearly every other contestant in that district has made a gain.

In district No. 1 John Kanno has moved up in front of and above Cecil Spiter and Oscar Haugen. But Haugen has gone forward two paces during the last week and for a boy who holds a situation in a factory he is doing nobly.

In the southern Oregon contest district (No. 3), Cecilia Wessala of Gardiner has regained the lead. She has gone above Audrey Russell, the popular daughter of Josephine county's sheriff, by 4,000 votes or two new yearly subscriptions.

Drives Through Country. Miss Russell has been driving through Josephine county and has been kind-

More Than 400,000 Leaflets Advertising the State for Eastern Distribution

RUSH ORDERS COME FROM ORGANIZATIONS

Campaign of Publicity to Get Home-seekers to Visit This Section is Started By Commercial Club—Meets With Hearty Cooperation.

Widespread interest is being awakened over the state in the campaign started by the Portland Commercial club to secure distribution throughout the east of the leaflets announcing the colonist rates and urging home-seekers to visit Oregon during the month of September. The club has printed 50,000 copies, and rush orders are being received from a score of commercial organizations and many individuals over the state, asking for bunches of the leaflets. They will be inserted in correspondence that is sent east during the next week.

In the Commercial club's mail Saturday were requests from Astoria, Astoria, Ashland, Medford, Hood River, Salem, Eugene, Irrigon and many other points. Professor Ackerman, superintendent of public instruction, sent for a bunch of leaflets to be inserted in the correspondence of his office. Portland stores, factories, jobbing houses and individuals are using enormous quantities.

Pre-eminence in the consideration of a Pacific coast trip by eastern people at this time is the fact that the colonist rates during the month of September, 1907, will be the last rates of this kind granted by transcontinental railroads. Never again will they, it is said, voluntarily give the people opportunity to travel from the Missouri river to the Pacific coast for the sum of $26. The eastern home-seeker who has any intention of visiting this coast because of the cheap rates must come now. Later on he will have to pay the full fare.

The colonist rate allows passengers all the privileges of a first-class train except a berth in a standard Pullman sleeping car. Instead of the standard Pullman, he is carried in a first-class tourist sleeping car, which contains every needful convenience of travel. He has the same access to the dining car that the Pullman passenger enjoys. He has in the tourist car men and women who are traveling westward on the same mission he is on, and who are interested in the same things and interested in.

The all-important thing to remember in purchasing a colonist ticket is to have it designate the town in Oregon to which the traveler wishes to locate. The price is the same for all destinations in the state, from Astoria to Ashland, but the ticket must be purchased to final destination.

AT THE THEATRES

Georgia Minstrels Tonight.

The famous Georgia negro minstrels will be the attraction at the Hellig tonight. The troupe of black-face fun makers delighted a crowded house last night. Concert in front of theatre tonight. Seat sale at theatre, popular prices prevailing.

"The Prince Chap" Wednesday.

Edward Peple's comedy, "The Prince Chap," now enjoys the distinction of being a big instructional success. At the Criterion theatre in London the original production, and the best of the principals seen in New York will enact the play at the Hellig.

Opera Season Tonight.

Tonight is the opening performance of the opera season at the Marquam. "The Californians" will inaugurate the season with the ever popular opera "The Serenade." This is one of the most useful of modern operas and there are the catchiest of melodies strung through it. The Californians were organized by Tom Karl of Bostonian fame and he is directing the company in person. The principals are among the best in light opera and there is no better organization of the kind in the country playing at popular prices. There will be matinee Wednesday and Saturday. Seats now on sale.

"The Liars" at Baker.

The opening of the Baker and the Baker stock company for the season was a most auspicious event in Portland theatricals yesterday, and it is easy to prophesy a prosperous season for this always popular place of amusement. The attraction this week is "The Liars."
