Professor C. Larsen, formerly assoclain with President Kerr of the Ore-an Agricultural college at the Utah in-situation, is making an inspection of the dairy conditions in Oregon. He will soon take up his new duties at the South Dakota Agricultural college in Brookings but is studying the advant-ages of dairying in Oregon previous to has assuming his position. Professor Larsen finds the conditions very favor-able, especially in Washington and Til-Iamook counties, where he has visited. The especial advantage of Tillamook county is its uniform climate and small valleys where grass is green the year round. He found Washington oounty well provided with good build-iness started on scientific principles. with President Kerr of the Ore-

Brooklyn Republican Club Produces

Ordinance Which Companies Promise to Respect.

As the result of the efforts of a committee appointed last week by the Brooklyn Republican and Improvement club an ordinance has been found prohibiting the whistling of steam engines in the city limits except in the case of danger. It was introduced and passed in 1891 by Councilman S. G. Richardson. The ordinance which has slept so long was trotted out and displayed before the Southern Pacific and Portland Rail-way officials yesterday. Orders were issued in the presence of the committee that the ordinance be compiled with. Shrieking of electric cars as well as the whistling of locomotives in the southern part of the east side—that has been very approving—will how cease. been very annoying—will how cease. Manager Fuller treated the citizens very courteously and promised relief in other matters such as the crowded condition of cars in the morning and

Mr. Frank Hemstreet, Celebrated Baritons, of New York City, Who Will Appear in This City, Thursday Evening, September 12.

The recital to be given in this city Thursday evening, September 12, at Taylor-street Methodist Church, corner Third and Taylor streets, under the auspices of Sherman, Clay & Company, in which Mr. C. Arthur Longwell and Mr. Frank Hemstreet, of New York City, will appear, will be an artistic event and one which should appeal to the music lovers of the city. The two artists have been before the musical public in New York for a number of years. Mr. Longwell as a concert organist, and Mr. Hemstreet as one of the most popular concert baritones of the me-tropolis. Their program will be a varied one and will be thoroughly artistic in every sense. artistic in every sense.

The artists have been engaged by the A. B. Chase Company to demon-strate the qualities of the Artistano Player, which has been the most highly praised of any of the players of recent years. It is said to be the consummation of every ambition in the player plane, and the great ar-tists of the plano have been unstinting in their praises of its possibili-

Standpoint of Artist

In the recital Mr. Longwell will make no effort to demonstrate the mechanical features of the instrument, but has simply been engaged by the manufacturers as a musician, and the advertising feature will be kept secondary throughout. He wil play the Artistano just as any other artist uses the ordinary plano, as a channel through which to convey his interpretation of the compositions he plays. In accompanying Mr. Hemstreet in some of the more difficult arias he does so with the most delightful abandon, a feature in accompaniments which is so often lack-

In the many recitals in which these two artists have appeared, the verdict of the press and critics has been most flattering, and Portland should have a treat in store when they appear here. Sherman, Clay & Company are mailing hundreds of invitations to the recital, and it is planned to assemble all the lovers of good music of the city when the recital is given. There will be no charge for admission, as the recital is given under the auspices of Sherman, Clay & Company.
