The Journal's fifth anniversary number will be issued next Sunday, September 8. This special number will be the greatest publication ever attempted in Oregon, showing as it will the immense resources of the state and the commercial importance of Portland as a metropolitan center, it will be of incalculable benefit to the advertiser who has representation in it.

Thousands of copies will be circulated broadcast, and Portland will get the best publicity in its history through this medium. Real estate dealers particularly will get great results through this number.

As the time is drawing close it behooves you to get busy now-today-and to put forth your greatest effort in the preparation of a business-pulling announcement for this great number.

To insure insertion copy will have to be at The Journal office not later than Friday night. Later copy, however, will be taken care of to the best of our ability, but it will not be wise to defer handing in your copy later than Saturday morning.

All the wise advertisers will be in the fifth anniversary number of The Journal. You, of course, are one of them. Nuff sed.
