Portland vs. Oakland, 2 p. m.

Damages in the sum of $2,750 were awarded to J. J. Brown from the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company by a jury in Judge Frazer's department of the circuit court yesterday afternoon.

The matter of clothes is one of enough importance to any man to warrant more than a hasty thought. All we ask is the opportunity to show you—have you inspected our large line of woollens and workmanship we put in each suit. And remember, the price, $15 for any suit in our line.

Dr. Samuel Johnson, whose bail of $150 was forfeited by Judge O'Day in the circuit court yesterday morning because he failed to appear to stand trial on the charge of beating his wife, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Archie Leonard yesterday afternoon on a bench warrant issued by Judge O'Day.

Special music will be a feature of the services at Taylor Street Methodist church this morning and evening, the choir being assisted by Mrs. E. S. Miller, Mrs. A. M. Smith, Mrs. T. Davis, Miss Cora Barker, violinist, Mrs. Walter W. Bruce, euphoniumist, and others. The evening service will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Portland's birth record for August shows an increase in population of 112 males and 83 females. The record falls short 11 of the record of last year, when the birth rate was 21. The death rate shows an increase of but one over the corresponding month in 1906, the records showing 131 deaths this year, seventy-one of those were of males.

The feast of the birth of the virgin will be celebrated today at St. Michael's church with great solemnity. High mass will be said at 10 o'clock and Angelo De Dominicis, one of the soloists of Chiapparelli's band, will play a cornet solo. Mr. Cecconi, tenor, will sing a sacred song. After mass solemn benediction will take place.

Sunday outings by trolley on the O. W. P. to Gresham, 45 cents to Boring, Barton, Eagle Creek and Estacada, 75 cents round trip. Tickets must be purchased on 11:30 a. m. in waiting-room, First and Alder streets. Cars leave 7:15, 7:30, 8:15, 8:30, 11:30, 1:30, 2:45, 4:45, 7:15 p. m. Dinner at Hotel Estacada 50 cents.

Articles of incorporation of the Skat club were filed in the office of County Clerk Fields yesterday afternoon by J. A. Spady, M. M. Cavanaugh and A. H. Anderson. The objects of the club are social and literary. It now has property, the value of which is estimated at $100.

It is in everybody's mouth. Children just love it. It is the talk of the town. It makes the weak strong. Everybody is talking about it. It is good enough for the White House. What? Of course, "Golden Grain Granules" the 100 per cent pure cereal coffee.

Councilman L. E. Walker of St. Johns pleaded guilty in the municipal court yesterday afternoon to a charge of gambling and was fined $15 by Judge Esso. Walker had previously forfeited $200 bail and had to be summoned the second time by a bench warrant to compel his appearance this afternoon.

A free lecture will be given Sunday night on "The Origin of the Family and the State," by William Vandergoot at Alisky hall, corner of Third and Morrison streets under the auspices of branch 5 of the Socialist party. All are welcome.

At the morning service at 10:30 today at the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church.

copal church, at Ninth and Pine streets, A. Musgrove Roberts, the celebrated English baritone who has just recently taken up his residence in Portland, will be heard for the first time in public, in this city. Mr. Roberts has been secured by the church as musical director, and under his leadership a large chorus choir will be organized with a view to the rendering of special music.

Fearing that her husband, John Monsinger, has lost his mind by worry over losing the savings of a lifetime in the defunct Oregon Trust & Savings bank, Mrs. Mattie Monsinger, of Shelton, Washington, has written to the police to find her husband if possible and inform her. With her letter she enclosed a mother to be given to the husband in case the detectives are able to locate him. The exhibit was thus 5 feet 4 inches tall; black hair, mixed with gray; short gray whiskers, dark complexion.

President Josselyn of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, left last night for the east to be absent about two weeks. He will attend the semi-annual meeting of the directors and discuss plans for future development in Portland. The building of four club houses for the street-car employees will be considered, and President Josselyn will inspect the street railway depots at Indianapolis and Los Angeles to get ideas for the Portland depot.

One of the horses of fire engine No. 3 was killed on Sherlock avenue yesterday by a shock of electricity from the fall of the street car. The other horses were so badly crippled as to be practically worthless by stepping on the highly charged rails. The Portland General Electric company operates the Sherlock avenue line to haul saw-logs and other fuel to its power plants. Fire Chief Campbell has notified the company that he would hold it responsible for the death of the horse.

The aster show, which has been conducted in the city hall for the past two days by the Multnomah county society, came to its close last night, when all of the bouquets were sold to defray the expenses of the fair. County Superintendent Robinson said that the exhibit was most successful one and that next year the pupils would be encouraged to make an even better display than the one just closed.

Plumbing Inspector Hey yesterday made a trip along the waterfront and took notes on half a dozen or more buildings, which must be brought to a complete sanitary condition or be torn down. The inspector, accompanied by a ficer, plumbing and building inspectors and other city officials are working together in cleaning up the water front. It will be a determined effort to get noisome shacks along the river.

Charles G. Bailey, who killed himself after shooting his wife and 12-year-old stepdaughter, Rhoda Bradley, was buried in the potter's field at the county poor farm yesterday. Bailey was penniless, and the potter's field was the only place for his body, where it was interred at the expense of the county. Mrs. Bailey is still alive at St. Vincent's hospital, though she has a bullet in her brain.

Coroner Finley received a telegram last night from Bonneville, Oregon, saying that the body of an unknown man had been found in the Columbia river near the shore, about a mile above Bonneville. Nothing was said of the manner in which the unfortunate man met his death. The coroner will go to Bonneville this morning to investigate the matter.

Water through hose for sprinkling yards or sidewalks or washing porches or windows must be paid for in advance and used only between the hours of 8 and 8 a. m., and 1 and 3 p. m. It must not be used for sprinkling streets if used contrary to these rules, or wastefully, it will be shut off.

IRON WEIGHTS ARE IN DEMAND

Grocery Men, Meat Dealers and Others Need Them for Halter Hitchers.

DEALERS' SUPPLY HAS ENTIRELY PLAYED OUT

Everybody Can Get on Good Side of Family Venders Since Aldermanic Caution Does Not Cease by Denoting Old Scraps.

All persons having old pieces of iron, old weights of any kind or bricks that can be tied together into good halter weights can make friends with the family groceryman, the meat dealer and the various other men who are harassed by the recent act of the council and the city authorities in compelling all horses to be tied when left standing. There are not enough weights to go round and consequently every man affected by the ordinance is having a hard time to comply with the law.

Not long ago the city authorities took it into their heads to see to it that all horses left standing in the streets of the city should be either tied up or restrained from sudden flights by a weight of sufficient size to be a reminder to the driver. The men who use horses in their business thought the authorities were joking but after a few days and the city treasury they came to the conclusion that it was cheaper to obey the law than to take chances with the police, accordingly they began to purchase weights.

These weights have been more or less common sights for a long time and are composed of a large and heavy piece of iron with a ring attached. To this ring is hooked a long rope or strap and when the horse is left standing one end of the rope is snapped to the bit and the weight put on the ground, thus serving as an anchor to the horse. The weight will weigh a determined amount and not have but a few on hand and in a short time the supply was exhausted. Since that time all kinds of makeshifts have been resorted to by the drivers. Bricks in sacks, lead pipe coiled up in bunches, sacks of sand and all sorts of inventions resorted to the feet of the drivers. The little books given their throne upon the hurricane decks of their wagons.

There is no indication of eccentricity therefore to see such things now days, it is only the result of aldermanic caution.

FIRST PLACE THEY STOP

And the Last Place They Leave Is the Booth Where Government-Inspected Meats Are Exhibited.

The Pure Food Show is a tremendous success, everyone seems at last aroused and interested in the subject of pure foods, and the women especially examine the exhibits with an interest that suggests a change in their habit of ordering for the future. The Union Meat company's booth, where government-inspected meats—canned goods and fresh meats and lard—are exhibited, holds constant interest. Hundreds of people have read the letters this company has received in answer to their counts and have thus had the matter of sound meats brought home to them in a personal manner not to be forgotten. The little books given away at this booth make one of the handsomest souvenirs of the season, to say nothing of their informative value.

THIS CRAFT IS OREGON BUILT

"Koo's" Constructed of Oregon Pine and Put Together by Oregonians.

LABELED IN HONOR OF OLD INDIAN NAME

Everything Connected With Craft "Was Made in Beaver State" Except Engine, Which Was Imported—Is Doughty Little Boat.

Down in the Portland harbor is a little boat built every bit of her except the engine with Oregon timber and Oregon hands. The name of the launch is the "Koo's" so labeled in honor of the original Indian name which has now been corrupted into Coos and applied to Coos bay.

The Koo's is a doughty little boat and was constructed by Holland & Lowe of Marshfield and brought around the coast to compete in the regatta at Astoria. Here the boat with no preliminary trial over the course in reality won the contest in which she was entered, handicapped as she was with a pilot unfamiliar with the course. Owing to some technicalities, however, the Koo's was only given second place in the scoring. The Koo's is of interest in Portland because it is equipped with a 20-horsepower Buffalo marine gasoline engine. She came over the Coos bay bar, up the coast and across the Columbia bar under her own power and without any assistance and entered the race at Astoria without tiring up. The launch was constructed of Port Oxford cedar which is one of the best and most durable woods for boat construction that is known to exist. The boat was built to bring to the Astoria regatta and to show what can be done with Marshfield and Coos bay materials. Messrs. Holland and Lowe will return to their home at Marshfield in their launch in a few days.
