and that, as our officers, you are not to have any more responsibility in obey-ing our instructions for the formal elec-tion and ratification of our selection and choice for our United States senator in concress than you have for the formal ratification of our selection and choice for our governor of Oregon." "The reasons for and against state-ment No. 1 and for making a mere of fice-holder, or a political party, instead of the people, the supreme power in the state, can thus be fully placed before state, can thus be fully placed before the voters through the press and on the stump, as well as in the pamphlet copy of the bills to be voted on next year. In this way the question may be ar-gued by both sides and decided by the voters comparatively free from personal bitterness and party prejudice. If the plan meets with general approval it will be possible to obtain the necessary sig-

be possible to obtain the necessary sig-natures for the initiative petition. "A candidate for the legislature can hardly refuse to file his statement promising the people of Oregon to vote for their choice for United States sena-tor in congress if this bill is approved, and to use his own pleasure 12 it is rejected. The politicians who are so conscientious that they cannot do this, might refuse to be candidates for this one time. These very conscientious political teachers of public morals will have plenty to do for one campaign without running for office, if they con-vince the voters:

without running for office, if they con-vince the voters: "First, that it is morally right that the candidate who will pay the highest price to members of the legislature shall be elected United States senator by that body, as in former years, in-stead of the candidate selected by the votes of the people, and who makes neither payments of cash nor promises of office to the conscientious legi-lators.

neither payments of cash hor pointer of office to the conscientious lead "Second, that it is morally wrong for a candidate for the legislature to pledge his honor to the people of Oregon that he will obey their instructions, when by their constitution they have ex-pressly reserved the right to instruct their representatives. "Third, that it is morally wrong for a candidate for the legislature to sign the statement No. 1 agreement with the people of Oregon. "After such a campaign of educa-tion, added to the experience Oregon had with the results of statement No. 1 in the last election, as compared with the holdups of other years, every man should be able to vote initelligently on this bill. If the majority vote against it we shall all know that the people of Oregon want to be servants of their of-ficers and of political parties. But if the bill is approved by majority vote then even the most conscientious poli-ticians will understand that the people intend to be master and hold the po-lifical parties as their servants, just as Lincoln and Roosevelt have always said."

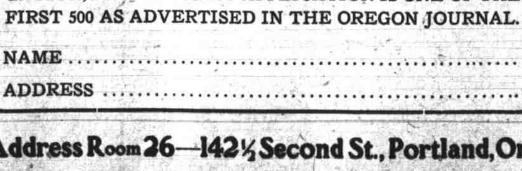

NO HOPE FOR ARBITRATION COUNCIL

(United Press Leased Wire.)

The Hague, Sept. 11 .- The belief is rapidly growing among the delegates to the international peace conference that there is no hope for a permanent arbitration court, owing to the German opposition. The delegates are greatly discoursed, although the kaiser's op-position to the plan has long been inti-mated.

Butter Must Be Marked.

Isuiter Must he Marked. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Olympia, Wash., Sept. 11.—In an opin-ion addressed to State Dairy and Food Commissioner L. Davies, Attorney-Gen-eral John D. Atkinson holds that no renovated butter can be sold in the state of Washington unless it is plainly la-beled with the printed words on the wrapper or package. "Renovated But-ter." The penalty for violation of the law on this subject is a fine of from $25 to $100 for each separate offense.
