Our New Delivery Service

Have you noticed the handsome new wagons on the street, bearing the name of this store? Fine, aren't they? On September first, we installed our own delivery equipment, heretofore having had our delivering done by an outside concern. And in selecting the teams and wagons that were to deliver packages from this store, we chose the handsomest outfits we could find. We're rather proud of them. Not only for the way they LOOK, but for the way they WORK, too. Now we can promise the very best deliveries possible to maintain. Our rapidly growing business demanded a more satisfactory system and we hope to make this one so good that it will be another attraction to make you trade at the store "Where Quality Reigns and Where Prices Are Fair."
