

JAPS SHOULD BE TAKEN AS OTHERS

Rev. Corby Believes Exclusion of Orientals From America Is Wrong.

PART OF GREAT RACE PROBLEM FACING US

Putting Up Bars Against Brown Men Sure to React, He Declares—American Institutions and Manufacturers Suffer as Result.

In the Universalist church of the Good Tidings on East Eighth street, yesterday morning the pastor, the Rev. James D. Corby, preached on "The Larger Race Problem." The text was "Whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member is honored, all the members rejoice with it." Mr. Corby said:

"The race problem is the most vital question of the hour. It is a social and political question of the most serious character and trying perplexity. It is not a new question; it confronted the tribes of the plains when the Jewish slaves under Moses were seeking a home. It was the great question before the Roman empire when the Germanic tribes swept over the Alps and thundered at the gates of Rome. It puzzled the Indians when Columbus took possession of it in the name of the Spanish sovereigns.

"It was the race problem that presented itself when the captain of the Columbia steered his ship into the great river of our state and the redskins saw the coming of the white man. The pioneers who crossed the plains with ox teams saw the beginning of that settlement of the Indian question which Helen Hunt Jackson rightly terms a 'Century of dishonor.'

Arrival of Ignorance.

"The race problem came with the negroes whom men stole from Africa and sold into slavery through our southern states. We spent millions of lives and untold treasure to settle that question but have reached no solution yet.

"When Ireland was depopulated and the brown and brain of the Emerald Isle came to America, we solved the race problem by having these men construct our public works and become Americans. Their rise to place and power prepared the way for the Italian. Seven hundred thousand Italians landed at eastern ports last year and there are more Italians in New York today than there are in Rome, Italy. Of 135,000 immigrants from the south of Italy, 76,000 could neither read nor write.

"The larger race problem confronts us today: It is the Greeks, the Russian Jews, the Armenians, the Hindus, the Chinese, the Syrians, the Poles, the Japanese, the Finns and Lithuanians. They are coming, an untrained, unappreciated populace, unused to our ways and indifferent to our life. Here are masses of ignorance and retarded growth to be dealt with.

"The men who cry 'exclude the aliens' are enough to make one laugh; many have hardly unpacked their baggage from the country that gave them birth, and the most of us need only go back a generation or two to see our parents coming through Castle Garden. When we cry 'America for the Americans' remember those only are Americans who are true to the ideals of our nation, and those ideals mean the open door and the most of us need only go back a generation or two to see our parents coming through Castle Garden. When we cry 'America for the Americans' remember those only are Americans who are true to the ideals of our nation, and those ideals mean the open door and the most of us need only go back a generation or two to see our parents coming through Castle Garden.

America Needs Workers.

"If America means anything it means a refuge for the poor and oppressed, and they who would put up barriers betray their country as surely as Benedict Arnold.

"Our own state is practically where it was when the Hudson Bay company was getting furs from the Indians. Only a tiny fraction of the marvelous resources have been revealed. We are practically without fuel, largely because we are without men to cut the wood and dig the coal. We pay exorbitant prices for dairy products because men are impossible to secure to work on the farms and do the dairymongery. We need a million immigrants who will dig and delve where no American will work. They don't come in competition with trained labor and we must have them to develop Oregon.

"This great world is growing closer all the time. London is only a few days' ride from New York as Portland is to San Francisco. With the Lusitania making 45 miles an hour we may expect boats to reach Japan in five days. The prospect of our escaping from one another is not very encouraging. Exclude the Japanese and the result will show itself in our knit goods factories. We have just put our products on their backs and it is the money earned in this land of ours and sent back that is paying for those comforts.

"We are spending vast sums to exclude the Chinese and who are the losers?"

"The 300,000,000 of China are boycotting American goods and using those of Germany and England. Thousands of students from China have entered the University of Tokio who should have entered American colleges and thus become helpful agents to boom American goods, American principles and American home life. If we don't allow the foreigner to learn our more expensive mode of living, half the factories of our land will have closed doors and the workers will walk the streets in idleness.

"These very Hindus who are being mobbed are every one of them giving employment to the makers of clothing, shoes and tools, which they would not need if they were content to continue their primitive mode of existence.

Dragged Down by Mob.

"As long as our sailors, soldiers and travelers are from land to land, the evils of the less prosperous and enlightened life will react upon the higher. Vice, disease and bad manners are great travelers.

"We must live on the earth, for a time anyway, with ignorance, depravity and backwardness. What attitude should our most selfish interest prompt us to take toward them? How can we protect ourselves from the perils they would involve us in?

"The first and best method of the strong with those they deem inferior, is to enlighten them. It is the method of the Russians with the Jews at Kishineff today. We can mob, murder and kill if we choose, but it will result in a worse judgment on us than we visit on the foreigners. Every man in a mob should realize that the men they abuse and kill drag us down with them in their death."

DISCUSSES HELL

Rev. Brougher Speaks of Future Punishment for the Wicked.

At the White Temple last night Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher took for his subject "What are Hell and Where Is Hell?" He said in part:

"There are some people who do not believe in hell. Napoleon once said to his infidel marshal, Duroc, 'It is singular how ready men are to believe everything but the Bible.' A great many people believe only the things they want to believe. Here is a man who does not like to think about hell, and, therefore, he would like to make himself believe there is none.

"The fact that I hate or despise hell has nothing to do with the question of its existence. I hate to think there is any great misery or suffering in the world, but my dislike to think of the misery does not alter the fact. Both reason and revelation declare the existence of hell.

"Hell is a necessity of law. There is no such thing as law without penalty. If there be no penalty attached for breaking the law, it ceases virtually to be a law. Just as penitentiaries are prepared for the punishment of the law breaker, so hell is the penitentiary of the future for upholding the Divine law and government.

"God will be absolutely just. The judge of all the earth will do that which is right. The punishment will be suited to the enormity of the crime. I do not expect to go there two minutes.

"Jesus Christ lived in a hell. He declared on the last great day that some should depart 'into everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels.' He said there was a hell where the worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

"Whenever you find people whose characters will make a hell in eternity, you can find hell gathering around them here on earth. If the unbeliever, the spiteful, the hateful and the selfish—if the liar, the slanderer, the robber, the worker of abominations, the debaucher and the outcast—if these shall make up the population of hell hereafter, so like wise hell can be found wherever these people congregate here on earth. Get that crowd together here in any city or spot on earth and you will find hell right here. After all, most of us carry enough brimstone around in our hearts to set hell on fire."

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

Will Discuss Passage of Littlefield Bill Prohibiting Shipments of Liquor Into Dry States.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 16.—The Anti-Saloon League of America is celebrating its tenth anniversary with a largely attended convention at the Jamestown convention. The sessions began today and will continue through the greater part of the week. Thursday will be national temperance day at the exposition with a special program of speaking under the auspices of the league.

The Anti-Saloon League, although independent of religious bodies, is indorsed by a number of them and counts among its leaders and workers men who are at the front also in their denominational relations. The increase in the strength of the organization in recent years is well illustrated by the prominence of the men who are to address the present convention. Among them is announced Governor Robert E. Glenn of North Carolina, and Governor Frank Hanly of Indiana. Senator Carmack of Tennessee is also expected to be a speaker. In C. W. Trickett of the attorney-general's office of Kansas, prosecutor of the saloonists and brewers of Kansas City.

In its business sessions the league will discuss means for securing the passage by congress next winter of the Littlefield bill, which will give prohibition states power to stop shipments of liquors from other states and territories.

MINNER UPHELD BY MAGISTRATE

Erstwhile Husband of Mrs. Yerkes Did Right Thing in Punching Offenders.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Sept. 16.—After a hearing in the west side police court, Magistrate Cornell has decided that there was not sufficient evidence to hold Wilson Minner, erstwhile husband of Mrs. Charles T. Yerkes, who, according to Henry W. Knight and Brighton C. Varden, molested them in the green room of the Hotel Rand, of which Minner is part proprietor. In the general mix-up Knight was tossed into a fountain which adorns the green room, and spent a few moments dodging turtles and crocodiles.

"The evidence does not warrant me in holding the prisoner," said Magistrate Cornell. "The facts show that the complainants were too fresh and got only what they deserved."

ENGLAND CATERS TO THE TOURISTS

Shopkeepers of London Mark Prices in Dollars and Cents.

London, Sept. 16.—A striking testimony to the magnitude of the American "invasion" is the fact that in all the large London emporiums the goods are marked in dollars and cents, as well as in pounds and shillings.

Regent street, Oxford street, and Bond street form the real centers of attraction. Of the 80,000 American visitors to this country it is computed that about 80 per cent have bought liberally of British goods, spending over $200,000. Furs are a popular purchase, whilst lace—real lace—has had an unprecedented sale.

The reason given by the manager of the largest Oxford street shop for the enormous purchases made by Americans in this country is the remarkable value they are able to obtain for their money. Dress stuffs, laces, and linens are all durable articles in the United States, and, therefore, the fair American required by the exporter and the retailer, make them far costlier to buy at home than in England. And, being wearing apparel, the fair American knows how to win her way, duty free, through the ranks of customs house officials.

The American woman has a fondness for things Irish, and particularly for the exquisite lace made by the peasantry.

DEMAND FOR IRISH LACE

"The demand for Irish lace has exceeded all previous years," said Mr. Cleaver, of Messrs. Robinson and Cleaver, Regent street, to a "Daily Chronicle" representative. This is partly accounted for by the excessive duty charged by the States, which in some instances is as much as 70 per cent.

"Apart from the question of duty, however, we keep agents constantly traveling throughout Ireland to buy the finest and most exclusive pieces of lace, many of which are only to be found in remote cottage homes, whereas the American shops have to rely entirely on the exporter.

"We have sold also a large quantity of household linen. This is somewhat exceptional, because duty will have to be paid, but even then our price plus the duty is frequently cheaper than that charged in New York.

"Our embroidered linen gowns and blouses length have been very popular, and handkerchiefs are being liberally bought. Woolen goods are among the more practical purchases, and there has been a large demand for steamer rugs.

"A popular souvenir bought by our American customers is the Belleek China—a dainty porcelain-like Belleek China—made in the exclusive factory at Belleek, Ireland, and those pieces decorated with shamrock are particularly favored.

NO WAR WITH JAPAN

Feeling Between Two Countries Too Strong Declares Dr. Wilbur Crafts.

Three addresses were delivered in Portland yesterday by Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts in the morning at the First Presbyterian church, in the afternoon at the M. C. A. men's meeting, and in the evening at the Taylor street Methodist church. Dr. Crafts is superintendent and organizer of the international reform bureau with headquarters at Washington, D. C.

The speaker declared that within 25 years the strength of China will be as great as that of the United States or Great Britain, and that there will be no war between the United States and Japan.

He said:

"In all my travels abroad I found Roosevelt a popular man, almost as popular as he is in the United States. When I was in Japan they wanted me to speak on Roosevelt when they were raising money for their Y. M. C. A. building, as they said the people would rather hear about him than anything else. There will be no war with Japan for the present, for it will take a long time to break down the good will created between Japan and the United States by our attitude during the war with Russia. We may have a commercial war, by and by, but never a clash of arms."

Mrs. Crafts, superintendent of the World's W. C. T. U., spoke to women at the White Temple yesterday afternoon. At Sunnyside Methodist church Dr. G. L. Tufts, secretary of the Pacific coast branch of the international reform bureau, delivered an address.

SPINACH—in five minutes. This favorite vegetable is usually a nuisance to prepare, yet one of the most healthful of all vegetables. It is ready to serve in five minutes if the housewife uses the Preferred Stock kind.

Hours of labor are saved by using Preferred Stock Canned Goods

The United States Government is a large buyer of Preferred Stock Canned Goods, for use at the Army Posts in the Northwest. Spinach from the market often has to be "revived" before using—but wilted vegetables are dangerous to health. Preferred Stock Spinach is gathered each morning, while the leaves are young and tender. It is as fresh as though gathered in your own garden, brought into your own kitchen and immediately prepared for your table. It is just as clean, too, for Preferred Stock Spinach is hand picked and every bit of grit washed out by a special method which thoroughly washes every leaf.

Preferred Stock Spinach is grown in the east—because there spinach is at its best. The Preferred Stock Spinach Cannery is there, also, that the spinach for this high-grade brand of canned goods may be packed immediately upon gathering. It goes into the can crisp and fresh; it comes out ready to heat and serve—all solid goodness.
