Stiff Prices in Poultry.

On account of the unusually small arrivals in the local poultry market the altuation is gaining strength every day. Supplies in the Front street commission houses are so small that they do not supply more than a quarter of the trade. It is for this reason that the trade is again resorting to eastern chilled stock in order to fill its orders. Most of the chilled stuff now being purchased consists of geese, ducks and turkeys, because in these lines practically none are arriving from local places. Fourteen cents is now easily obtained by the Frent street trade for fancy hens and even mixed coops will range around 13½c a pound. 13 %c a pound.

nggs Just as Scarce as Ever. improvement is shown in the ar-No improvement is shown in the arrivals of eggs in the local market. Receipts are so scant that few of the houses have any to offer at all. Most of them are out of the egg business temporarily so scarce are the stocks. Eastern eggs are therefore finding a brisk call and there are larger withdrawaals of local stock from storage. At this time of the year storage eggs are in first class shape. Regarding the Chittim Situation.

The situation in the chittim bark market is rather perplexing to the trade at this time. First holders or peelers are determined to hold longer and are asking from 10e to 15c a pound. According to a firm which ships a large amount of chittim annually to Europe, the demand at this time is not so enormous as some might believe. This firm is said to be offering Englishmen all the chittim they want at 10c a pound and is receiving no orders. On the other hand the eastern market is excited. One large eastern firm telegraphed a local holder if he wanted to sell his entire holdings at a certain price above the present market and the answer was that the firm was still holding for an advance.

Peach Market Sells Eigher.

With supplies of peaches very small the market is firmer today and prices are advanced. Fancy Salways are selling as high as $1.25 a box and even the poorer grades are higher.

Cantaloupe prices are advanced on Containing the larger demand. $10c.

FILE REPORT

First Statement Concerning Condition of Defunct Oregon Savings Bank Will

Late this afternoon or evening Receiver T. C. Devlin of the Oregon Trust & Savings bank will complete his first report to the circuit court. The document possibly may not be ready for filing until tomorrow morning. It comprises 65 pages of typewritten legal cap paper, and includes a list of every asset and liability known in connection with the bank.

The report will show a list of the bills receivable and the claims and debts, loans and discounts, bonds, stocks and all kinds of securities of the bank.

Readents have been fearful that a configuration will visit them and find them with no means of protecting themselves. Mayor Lane assured them that as soon as possible a chemical engine would be stationed in that vicinity. The committee has reason to believe they will get the needed fire service within the next month or six weeks.

According to the terms of the bank's contract with the underwriters there will also be probably $600,000 of the stock of these industries accompanying the bonds. The receiver will report total loans and discounts in the neighborhood of $750,000. Upon the character of the bank's commercial paper will mainly depend the receiver's ability to repay cash to the depositors.

FEASIBLE RAILWAY ROUTE TO LAKEVIEW

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Klamath Falls, Or., Sept. 17 .- Engineer Journey and his corps of engineers who are surveying a line of railroad from Klamath Falls east to Lakeview from Klamath Falls east to Lakeview, have just succeeded after four surveys in finding a grade of 1 per cent through Langell vailey and thence into Lakeview. The survey will be comparatively easy. Engineer Journey is quoted as saying that as near as he can determine his instructions are to finish to Lakeview and then return over the route to Klamath. Falls making the survey as kismath Falls, making the survey a permanent one. It has been presumed that this survey was simply to find out whether it was possible to find a practicable route through that settlen of eastern Oregon, but it would seem that the road might be built soon.

DANCING MASTER USES WRONG NAME 30 YEARS

The name of William H. Woodward, the dancing master, is William H. Tickner, though he has been known as Woodward for nearly 30 years, according to a petition filed in the county court this morning asking that his name be changed to Woodward. The petition says that Tickner is the son of Henry and Fanny Tickner, and that his parents separated when he was 3 years of age. Later his mother married Charles Woodward and he has used this step-father's name ever since. He The name of William H. Woodward nis step-father's name ever since. He says he desires to have his name legally Woodward because he is known to his friends as Woodward and is engaged business under that name.
