

FOOD DISPENSERS HOLD JOLLYFEST

Healthy, Appetite-Satisfied Grocers Make Merry at Banquet.

OVER ONE HUNDRED GATHER AT FEAST

Event Given in Honor of John A. Green, Secretary of National Association—Mayor Lane and Officers Respond to Toasts.

Oh they are the grocers of Portland town, They're men of worth and great renown. They dine on pure food— Does it do them good? Well, look at their girth and hunt for a frown.

One hundred and twenty-five of Portland's biggest, happiest and healthiest citizens sat down at a complimentary banquet in the Portland hotel last night to do honor to John A. Green, secretary of the National Association of Retail Grocers.

It was not so much by their number as by their size that they filled the main dining-room of the hotel until all that could be seen between the palms were the smiling faces of the grocers. If Secretary Taft had been present he would have felt entirely at home and unembarrassed. Secretary Green looked down the array of faces and figures astonished—he attributed it all to Portland's wonderful climate—taken with liberal quantities of pure foods.

President Frank Speaks. With the guests of honor at a large table near the center of the dining room were the speakers of the evening, while the other guests at the banquet were scattered around the room at small tables.

F. W. Funk, ex-president of the Portland association of grocers, was toastmaster and introduced F. J. Carney, president of the state association, who responded to the toast "The State Association." Mr. Carney spoke of the work of the association and briefly reviewed its history and aims. He was followed by Dan Kellaher, treasurer of the Portland association, who spoke on "The

RAINDROPS MAKE DONALDSON REJOICE AND SAVE CITY MONEY

While 324,999 persons out of Greater Portland's population of 225,000 souls are bewailing the generous rain of the last few days, the remaining resident is cracking his heels together for very joy of it. This sole individual is Alexander M. Donaldson, erstwhile of his majesty's dependency of Scotland, but now superintendent of the Rose City street cleaning department.

Donaldson is joyful for several reasons. The principal one is the fact that J. Pluvius has been caught asleep at the tap, and the longer he slumbers the less work Donaldson's street sprinklers will have to do. Again the copious precipitation has caused a general flushing of catch basins and gutters, such as can not be done by mechanical methods.

It is said that Alex has had so much to do with sprinkling carts that he hates the sight of them. Also Portland's street guardian has never known a season when the streets have had to be sprinkled for such a length of time, regardless of the fact that there has been no extremely warm weather for a protracted period.

The rain will mean the saving of hundreds of dollars for the city water department, and the needed water can be applied elsewhere to splendid advantage.

Portland Association." This association, although in existence a comparatively short time has been very successful and a large majority of the Portland retail grocers are members of it.

A. A. Means, secretary of the Oregon Wholesale Grocers' association, followed, his subject being "Cooperation of Retail and Wholesale Grocers—A Necessity." Not a Utopian desire—Condition Necessary to the Prosperity of Both."

Green Responds. "Portland and Oregon" were given theirs by Tom Richardson, manager of the Commercial club, and past master on all that pertains to the good things of the city and state. Mayor Lane delivered the address of welcome which was responded to by Mr. Green.

The secretary of the national association spoke at some length on "Organization," advising all grocers to organize for the benefit of their customers as well as for their own benefit. He said that they could work great changes in the public health by proper attention to the articles sold by them and the best way to secure a guarantee of this was to organize and cooperate. Among other things Mr. Green said:

"Our association, if used rightly and as it is intended, is a power for good that cannot be over-estimated. We do not seek to cripple an unfortunate, but we do seek to protect our members from the ever present 'dead-beat.' We do not wish to throttle legitimate methods engaged in for the purpose of attracting trade; we do not ask the jobber to cease extending credit, but we do ask him to see that the goods tendered is not used to cut prices and demoralize trade. We must realize, too, that one merchant can do little towards reforming existing evils, but united organization can accomplish much."

While the grocers were banqueting Mr. Green, their wives gave a smaller dinner for Mrs. Green in one of the other dining rooms of the hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Green left for Seattle this morning.

WINTER'S BLASTS CURED AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING

Chronic Stomach Trouble Pronounced Incurable by Physician Yielded to the Tonic Treatment Although Patient Had No Faith in It

For six years I suffered untold misery from stomach trouble," says Mrs. H. P. Flanagan of Canton, South Dakota, "although I was treated by four physicians. No two agreed as to the nature or cause of my disease. One said I had ulcers of the stomach, another that it was chronic stomach trouble and incurable, another called it neuralgia.

My husband read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and persuaded me to try them. When I began to take the pills I had no faith in them whatever but I had found no relief in anything else, so I tried them. I took about three boxes and am so well now that I eat everything I want to. I have no trouble with my stomach and have no doubt that my cure is complete. My general health is good and I have gained in weight. I can and do recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any one suffering from stomach trouble."

"The pain was dull, not sharp, and when I walked or rode I noticed that it was a great deal more severe. It was relieved when I rested or lay down. I had no appetite and didn't care to eat at all. I tried to eat to keep up my strength but the pain was there whether I ate or not. I was run down in strength and weight."

lakes, cascades, lights, terraces and arch bridges that will make that side of Mount Tabor most attractive. At the close of the Lewis & Clark exposition the institution acquired the Massachusetts building. It was taken apart and moved to Mount Tabor. The building is a handsome structure and was remodeled on the interior to suit the purposes of the sanatorium. The location of the building on the side of a small ravine where the springs gush forth has made it possible to carry out the improvements outlined and a force of men has been occupied most of the summer working them out. Belmont street passes this spot on its present way to the top of Mount Tabor and this improvement, it is thought, will add greatly in securing the necessary funds for carrying out the park scheme.

TRAVELERS DECLARE

"Portland Women Are the Most Beautiful in America"

The soft misty air is partly responsible, but the REAL secret is that they dress to suit the climate and the occasion. Every woman who appreciates the niceties of correct dress selects her long coat for automobiling—rainy day, and general street wear with the same regard for becomingness, suitability and distinction that she would use in selecting a hat. In Portland no woman thinks "anything will do" to wear in the rain. Appreciating this nicety of discrimination, we have brought on a most generous stock of long coats—each one carefully selected for its combination of all the vital elements of style, and altogether embracing so many different designs that every type of woman can find just the coat to suit her, individually.

Women's Long Cloth Coats

In all the season's charming styles—semi-fitting, tight fitting, plain or with fancy trimming, both lined and unlined, from $10 to $40

Rubberized Silks

These Coats are selected not alone for their style and beauty, but their durable qualities; they come in plain colors, checks and plaids; the double cape effect is particularly good for some types—$20 to $40

Cravenette Cloth

The popular everyday-wear Coat that especially appeals to the trim business woman or the little lady who goes out rain or
