

SCHEME TO OUTSIDE CATTLE EVADE LAW

Standard Oil Lawyers Hope to Escape Big Penalty Imposed by Judge Landis Through a Technicality in the Alton Case.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Sept. 18.—The $29,240,000 fine imposed on the Standard Oil company by Judge K. M. Landis in the federal court recently will be wiped out of existence on a technicality if the schemes of the Standard Oil lawyers are carried to fruition.
The line of action which may result in the big fine becoming nothing but a game revolves around the decision of Judge Landis in the Alton immunity case, which is set for hearing on September 24. In the event that the Alton immunity is granted, which it has been fully established was promised to them through agreement with former Attorney-General Moody, the Standard Oil lawyers will demand that Judge Landis' fine be set aside. The grounds for this plea will be that the Standard Oil lawyers should have been apprised of this immunity agreement in order that they might question the Alton railroad witnesses properly.

LEAGUE SESSIONS HELD AT JAMESTOWN

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Newark, Va., Sept. 18.—The eleven annual meeting of the League of American Municipalities began its business sessions today in Armory hall in this city. The gathering is a remarkable one for many reasons. The convention has no patronage to bestow, the only motive drawing the participants together being the desire to secure honest and economical administration of affairs in the cities of the country.
The subject that will overshadow all others scheduled for consideration by the convention is the question of municipal government by board or commission as compared with the old form of government by mayor and council. Among those who will participate in the discussion of this subject are Mayor Harris of Fort Worth, Texas; Mayor Elliott of Charleston, South Carolina; James G. Berryhill, the author of the Des Moines plan of commission government; Dr. W. H. Allen, secretary of the bureau of municipal research, New York city; John R. Davies, chairman finance committee of the board of aldermen of New York city; and Chief Adm. Chadwick, U. S. N.
Two other subjects that will receive the attention of the convention are "Municipal Ownership and Low Taxes for Public Service Versus Franchise Taxation." Friday will be observed as "Municipal Day" at the exposition, when addresses will be delivered by Mayor Cummings of Iowa, former Mayor Dunne of Chicago, Governor Dwanish of Virginia and others of wide prominence.

CELEBRATED AUTHOR REACHES FOURSCORE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Boston, Mass., Sept. 18.—J. T. Trowbridge, the well-known author and poet, observed his eightieth birthday very quietly today at his home in Arlington. Mr. Trowbridge is still strong and active and in excellent health. He has been at home almost all the summer and may be seen any day walking about the streets of Arlington. He attributes his good health to constant exercise.
Mr. Trowbridge is the last survivor of the famous Atlantic club and the last one of the contributors to the first issue of The Atlantic Monthly. In his earlier years he enjoyed intimate relations with many great figures of the greatest period in American literature, among them Walt Whitman, Longfellow, Emerson, Lowell and Holmes. Of the 50 books Mr. Trowbridge has written all are alive, and his boys' books have had new editions each year. At present he is not engaged in any special writing, taking up the pen "only when the spirit moves" as he puts it himself.

A Death Blow to Pretension

If merchandise were human, a majority of the Portland stores would be compelled to answer to the charge of libel. Misrepresentation is a very coarse form of dishonesty. The furniture store that misrepresents its furniture may have one defense—that there's nothing back of their goods—nothing back of their name—to injure. When a store starts in misrepresenting, and in falsifying, that store is doomed to eventual failure. A man may tell a lie and make it stick, but he never gets that lie out of his own conscience—and his own guilt will eventually denounce him. There are certain furniture stores in Portland today that are dangerously near the edge where truth falls away and is forgotten. This house has established a reputation—based on fact—or rather on truth. Every piece of furniture ever advertised by this house has been found true to its representation. Every value has been found actual and real. It is generally known, and accepted as a fact, that the quality of furniture handled by this house is in every way superior—the highest type that can be built. It is not our intention to belittle other stores, or other merchandise, but it is merely a desire to boost the merit that attaches to high grade furniture—and to the best that value can offer.

Today the house of I. Gevurtz & Sons is doing by far the greatest furniture business in the northwest. It enjoys the implicit confidence of the people of Oregon—and it sustains that confidence by honest endeavor to give the very best for the very least.

We want every person who possibly can to visit the store at least once during the remaining days of this week, and see what we are accomplishing in value giving. Values far beyond the reach and above the level traveled by the entire combined forces of competition.

TOWNE'S MINE BONDED AGAIN
Property Developed by New Yorker Falls Into Hands of Los Angeles Men.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Medford, Or., Sept. 18.—The Pacific Coal company of Los Angeles has bonded for $50,000 the coal mine situated between Medford and Ashland belonging to the Medford Coal & Mining company. A few weeks ago R. A. Towne, owner of the Blue Lodge copper mine, and a wealthy mine owner of New York, threw up his bond of $27,000 on the mine after spending $20,000 in development work. Mr. Towne's offer to renew the bond was rejected.
The Los Angeles company is capitalized at $1,000,000. The deal was closed by R. E. Dorn, manager of the California company, which agrees to thoroughly explore the entire property, to begin work within 30 days and push it with proper diligence at all times. The first payment of $25,000 is to be made in nine months and the second at the end of 18 months. Coal is to be taken out at once and put on the market, so as to prevent a fuel shortage in Medford during the coming winter.
Mr. Dorn took possession of the mine this morning. He has in transit a coal drill that takes out a six-inch core. It will be diverted from the Meadows, where other coal property has been bonded. With the drill Mr. Dorn is confident that he can within 90 days locate the extent of the coal body.
The stockholders of the Medford Coal & Mining company are: L. B. Brown, R. P. Little, A. Wines, M. Purdin, G. Miller, Roberts & Reagan, E. W. Monroé, Joseph Culp and H. E. Garnett.

Interstate Commerce Commissioner Seeing Sights in Rogue Valley.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Medford, Or., Sept. 18.—Franklin K. Lane, interstate commerce commissioner, is visiting Fred H. Hopkins and seeing the sights of the Rogue river valley. J. D. Farrell, formerly right bower for J. J. Hill at Seattle, and now occupying the same position for E. H. Harriman, was so delighted with the Rogue river valley during his brief visit here with Mr. Harriman that he is negotiating for the purchase of one of the finest orchards in the valley.
