A reception is being given this afternoon by the ladies of the First Baptist church at the residence of Mrs. S. W. Brougher to the wife of the assistant pastor, Mrs. E. A. Smith, and her mother, Mrs. Cady, recently arrived from Spokane, and also Mrs. C. M. Badgley, treasurer of the Foreign Missionary society for Oregon of the Baptist churches. Mrs. Badgley has been in Boston completing the full course of study at the Gordon Training school and is now ready to conduct mission study classes at points accessible to Portland, or to speak on various phases of home mission work of which she made special study, visiting Ellis Island and other centers of foreign population.

"North Pacific Coast Country" is the title of a profusely illustrated booklet issued by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company, descriptive of the great northwest. As a model of typographical and pictorial excellence the booklet is highly commendable. It imparts to the whole northwest traveler and to the business man a new conception of this line across Montana, Idaho and Washington. Oregon is given a chapter and Portland is well illustrated. So liberally and richly illustrated, the booklet is seldom seen even in this day of photographic achievement and its distribution should be conducive of much good to all the country.

Frank Nolan, the man arrested by the police Tuesday as Frank Williams, alias "Big Johnny," who is wanted by the federal authorities for complicity in the Bellwood postoffice robbery, was ordered released from custody this morning by Assistant United States Attorney James Cole. Nolan was identified by "Toots" Bryant, one of the men in the county jail who participated in the postoffice robbery, as not the man known as "Big Johnny." William J. Mitchell, federal employee who arrested Nolan, and ran them down, also stated that Nolan is not the man wanted.

The property known as "Uncle Sam's" hotel, located at the southwest corner of Fifth and Couch streets, was sold yesterday through the agency of Charles K. Henry & Son to Mrs. Josie McDevitt, a resident of Montana. The hotel is occupied by a two-story frame building, the lower story of which is utilized for business purposes. The property belonged to M. C. Dickinson, manager of the Oregon hotel. The rental derived from the building pays a good rate of interest on the purchase price, and it is announced that Mrs. McDevitt will acquire the property as a permanent investment.

Closing exercises of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Third Presbyterian church were held last night in the church at East Pine and East Thirtieth streets. The service was opened with a roll call of charter members, many being present who organized the church 25 years ago in the Odd Fellows' hall, which stood at that time on East Tenth and East Oak streets. There were 100 addresses and musical numbers. Refreshments were served by the Ladies' Industrial society. The anniversary has been a big event in the life of the church and has been in progress most of the week.

Arrangements were perfected yesterday by the Mothers' and Teachers' club of Brooklyn to carry on the kindergarten at the Brooklyn school. Miss Ione Townsend, a graduate of the Teachers' college at the University of Indiana, has been engaged for the winter and the school will open Monday, September 23. Sessions will begin at 9 o'clock and will continue only in the mornings. The school has to be maintained by the mothers who subscribe equally for it, and there are no provisions made for the maintenance of such a department by the school authorities.

Another carrier has been added to station A, making now three carriers in the district between Sullivan's gulch and East Clay street and between the Willamette river and Sixth street, the district commonly designated as the central east side. The improvement in the service has been demanded by the increase in the amount of mail handled in this district during the past year. The increase in the next 12 months is expected to be great also.

The United States civil service commission announces an examination on October 12 to secure an eligible to fill vacancy in the position of messenger by act of the United States Civil Service Commission. A party of men who have been engaged for the past few months installing a block signal system on the O. R. & N. W. line between 11th and 12th streets, are at the present time in the city. The men have been working under A. H. McKee, who is showing them the sights of the Rose City. Among the party are Paul Dunkel, M. Standish, E. M. Cutting, L. V. Park, Walter Dickson, W. D. Pattison, F. C. Stuart and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Slater.

This is pronounced by visitors the finest crockery shop in the United States and has over 5,000 separate pieces of crockery and art ware.

Coal oil was responsible for two fire alarms last night. At 9 o'clock the fire department was called out in response to a telephone call, to extinguish an incipient blaze at 256 Sixth street, caused by an exploding kerosene stove. By the time the apparatus arrived on the scene, the fire had spread to the second floor. The fire was extinguished by the firemen at 11:50 p. m. turned in by Patrolman Edgerton, brought out by the partment for a fire in a lodging house at 81 North Park street. The explosion of a coal oil lamp set fire to a quantity of bedding, but the quick work of the firemen prevented the spread of the flames. The building is a two-story frame and used as a Greek lodging house.

Constable Lou Wagner of the Portland justice district will leave for San Francisco this evening with the requisition papers necessary to bring back to this state M. Goldsmith, charged with the robbery of several business men in this city. Goldsmith was taken in San Francisco yesterday and will be held until the arrival of Constable Wagner.

A horse hitched to a single express wagon, driven by C. Wallin of 273 Sixteenth street, ran away at Seventeenth and Washington streets at 1:55 o'clock yesterday afternoon and collided with car No. 245 of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company. The car escaped damage but the express wagon was considerably smashed. The horse was uninjured.

A part of the steel rods that were to have been used in the concrete walls of the Board of Trade building, at Fourth and Oak streets, are being carried to the Beck building at Seventh and Oak streets and will be used to reinforce the concrete floor and walls of that structure. The Contracting Engineering company has the contracts for putting up both structures.

On the plea that they are unable to get material or men with which to complete their street improvement contracts, a number of contractors were yesterday granted extensions of time by the executive board of the committee. A fine of $20 was assessed against the Warren Construction company for alleged non-compliance with the specifications in one contract.

CLUB WANTS MORE STREET WORK DONE

Brooklyn Improvement Association Clamors for Speedier Repairs.

Street improvement was the principal subject discussed at the meeting last night of the Brooklyn Republican and Improvement club. It was asserted that street improvements are progressing more slowly in Brooklyn than in any other section of the east side. The prospects for further repairs on Milwaukee street were announced as being good, but a committee was appointed to discover if possible the reason for the delay in the improvement of other streets.

The committee appointed some time ago to secure the suppression of whistling and other noises made by Southern Pacific and Portland Railway trains in the early morning in Brooklyn announced that it had accomplished its work. The committee was tendered a vote of thanks. The committee on hydrants also reported success and that between 15 and 20 hydrants had been promised for Brooklyn. It was reported more lights could not be secured now as the supply was short.

The Brooklyn hall association reported stock subscriptions amounting to $1,800 and that one-half had been paid in. The capital stock is $4,000 and when one-half is subscribed, incorporation will follow. It is the plan to get the erection of the hall under way within the next two months.

A general entertainment and rally will be held in the Sacred Heart church on Milwaukee road, Thursday, October 3. Father Gregory has tendered the use of the hall. The city officials including the mayor will be invited to attend.

"Drusa Wayne" at the Lyric. Maxine Miles, the talented and beautiful young leading woman, will join the Lyric company, Fourth and Washington streets, tonight and will make her first appearance at the head of that organization in the title role of Franklyn Fyles' brilliant drama, "Drusa Wayne."

"All for Gold" Makes Good. One of the most interesting melodramas ever seen in Portland is offered by the Lyric stock company this week. "All for Gold" is the big story of the day that has been pleasing local theatergoers since the opening last Monday night.

THE CAFETERIA. The Ho-Tip Restaurant—A Handsome Cafeteria Open. Portland is behind other cities, especially Seattle and Los Angeles, in taking up the novel idea of the cafeteria which in eastern cities has become the principal point of attack for diners.

In Seattle and Los Angeles it has jumped into public favor with astonishing quickness, thereby demonstrating its particular features are what the people want.

Mr. L. O. Thompson has splendidly fitted and arranged "The Cafeteria" at 325 Stark street and as it is work in which he has the advantage of many years of experience, the best of everything is assured.

Thompson states he "started on Stark street, with the plan laid for opening at another location, on which lease has already been secured, the largest, best arranged, most economical cafeteria in the United States just as soon as the people understand and appreciate the service."

For the busy man there is no delay. The novelty of going directly himself and getting what he wants—not having to put in an order and lose half his noon hour waiting for it—appeals to everyone.

The quality, Mr. Thompson states, he will put to the very best and that all times endeavor to make with superior to any other Cafeteria in the city.

The economical feature will also appeal to everybody, and this demonstrates the fact that the labor in maintenance of cafe service is one of the largest, if not the largest, item of expense.

Quality and quantity considered, the prices are astonishing, as comparison with city cafes show less than one-half the cost at "The Cafeteria."

Anything is a success that provides features needed by the public, especially when it is done economically and, provided, of course, it is given proper management, and in this respect the start of the business in Portland is particularly favorable.

The East Side's Foremost Department Store Announces for Tomorrow a Grand Exposition of Autumn Values in Celebration of Its Fall Readiness

You have been urged in the past to TRADE ON THE EAST SIDE. Until recently you have had but very few substantial reasons for doing so, the limited stocks and lethargy displayed by some of our pioneer merchants have proven somewhat discouraging to the woman who wants to "be shown."

WHY WE CAN SELL FOR LESS THAN OTHERS —Because we are situated where the rents are not so high as are asked for the uptown buildings. —Because being under low rent expenses we can make as much profit as competitors and still quote prices astonishingly lower than the merchant who is under the thumb of the syndicate landlord.

—Because conducting as we do a chain of stores in three of the leading cities of the country, as well as maintaining agencies in the eastern markets, we are placed in closer intimacy with the makers of our particular lines than most merchants. And then again, we are possessed of an abnormal desire to make good to you "our patrons."
