Prosecutor Will Go to Washington To Conduct Trial as Soon as A Oregon, Cases Are Finished in Local Court.

All doubt as to the government's determination to try the Hyde-Benson land fraud case in Washington this Long Brewing Trouble at Zimmerman Intimates Suit winter was set aside when Thomas B. Neuhausen, special inspector of the interior department, stated yesterday that he and Francis J. Heney would leave for the capital immediately after the holidays to be in attendance at the Conservative estimates place the cost of the Hyde-Benson trial at $100,000. Where the remaining $88,000 is to come from furnishes more food for the speculators, but Heney has a way of getting things from the government that leaves little room for doubt as to the program adopted for the celebrated Neuhausen expects Heney to commence trying Oregon cases in Portland November 11. This date has not been definitely decided upon but is based upon careful calculations as to the time required by Heney to try the Ford and Calhoun cases in San Francisco. If the noted prosecutor finishes these cases on time, he will be in Fortland early in November.

ngly busy. All possible efforts will be made to head off the investigation, but it has progressed too far for any hope to be held out to the leaders.

That the big ten at Chicago has raised the price of these things to the consumer and made no corresponding increase in price paid for raw materials is the chief assertion of the government, and it is upon this general line that the most interesting trust fight in the country is now being planned.

most interesting trust fight in the country is now being planned.

"When the directors of the National Packing company decide upon the price to be paid for cattle, that settles it for all of the houses," is the information that has come into the hands of the government. All of the other corporations in the country, with a few unimtions in the country, with a few unim-portant exceptions, bow to the wishes of the ten leaders of the food market of the world.

Companies in Trust.

Added to the Big Four at Chicago and the long line of institutions not included in the list it will be seen that the trust has more allied institutions than the Standard Oil trust. All of them, according to the information before high officials, are subject to the direction of the Chicago combination. Evidences have come to the government that there is a split in the ranks of the trust. It is asserted that it grew so large that, it has become top-heavy and certain of the old hands are not by any means satisfied with the present strangement. It is from this split and this ill-feeling among outsiders that the this ill-feeling among outsiders that the best information has come. One of the strongest sources of information known has indicated that he has checked up the workings of the trust and that he stands ready to assist the government in its investigation.

On the Other Hand.

"Anyway," said the young widow of a year's standing, further series in the mirror, "there seems to be no public prejudice against a woman marrying her deceased husband's brother."

An interesting political development in Missouri the past year has been the rehabilitation of former Governor David R. Francis of St. Louis, who after a decade of estrangement from the rank and file of his own party in the state, is now said to be more closely in touch than he has been at any time since the close of his administration as chief executive in January, 1893.

CHARLES CROWLEY

Bert Nunn Mortally Wounded Before He Gets His Man-Richard Herold Wounded - Fight, Arises Out of Liquor Prosecutions.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Ore., Sept. 21.-In a three ornered pistol duel at Marcola, a sawmill town in the Mohawk valley, 15 miles northeast of Eugene, this afternoon, Charles Crowley was killed outright, Bert Nunn was mortally wounded and Richard Herold received a bad wound in the thigh.

Crowley was a single man aged about 30 years and lived at the house of Mrs.

Mrs. Cruzan was tried and convicted in the justice court in Eugene this forenoon on a charge of selling liquor at her place in violation of the local option law. She was fined $250. Nunn and Herold appeared as witnesses against, her, and this was the cause of the trouble that led up to the shooting.

Crowley Started the Trouble. The Cruzan woman and Crowley re-turned to Marcola on the noon train with Nunn and Herold and on the way up Crowley made threats against the latter two. Upon their arrival there to Eugene on the evening train and cared for at a hospital. Sheriff Fisk, Coroner Gordon and Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Skipworth started for the scene of the killing about ten minutes after it occurred. Crowley's body will probably be brought to Eugene for the coroner's inquest tomorrow.

probably be brought to Eugene for the coroner's inquest tomorrow.

Mrs. Cruzan's house at Marcola has been giving the officers much trouble during the past few months. She has been arrested several times for keeping a disorderly house and was arrested one day last week for violating the local option law, resulting in her conviction and the imposing of a heavy fine today. Crowley and other worthless characters have lived there since the woman removed from Eugene to Marcola and none of them has ever done anything for a living further than solicit for the house.

Overland Trains Carry Capacity Limit of West-Bound Tourists.

The increase over the business of last year is one of the most encouraging features of the year's work done by the Oregon Development league, the commercial bodies of Portland and the advertising departments of the railroads. All overland trains are carrying their capacity between the Missouri river and Oregon points. Northern Pacific trains are running in three sections, loaded heavily.

The increase over the business of last years enabled to sum of the United samong the politicians of South Carolina. Major Hemphill has never before, directly or indirectly, been a candidate for any office, and yet by virtue of his control of one of the leading papers of his state he has been a powerful factor in party affairs for years.

Little liners in The Journal cost only a cent a word. Fifteen words or leave the week ending.

The records of the O. R. & N. Co. for the week ending September 15 have just been completed and show a total of 1.561 colonists delivered from the east to this railroad at Huntington. In the same week of last year's colonist season there were 724 colonists brought into Oregon by this line. The comparison shows considerably more than double the business this year. Of the total 1.561 homeseekers, 414 had tickets to Portland, 196 to points south of Portland, 133 to Spokane, and 68 to points north of Spokane. Bridal Veil got 12, Hood River 10, The Dalles 18, La Grande 18, Baker City 25, Walla Walla 17. There were 560 colonist tickets to Sound points, these tourists being attracted, it is said, by the coming Alaska-Yukon exposition.

Zimmerman was the only one actually taken into custody, and accompanied by his attorney came to headquarters, where a bond of $600 was put up o insure the appearance of the defendants in court Monday morning.

Zimmerman stated at headquarters that he intended to continue his fight against the enforcement of the provisions of the ordinance. "The city will visions of the ordinance. "The city will have to pay dearly for this," said the butcher, after his arrest, and intimated that suit for damages would be instifuted. Pleas of not guilty will be entered by all three of the defendants Monday, and in the event of a conviction appeals will be taken to the circuit and if necessary the supreme court. This procedure will be followed in every case until the supreme court renders a decision in the writ of habeus case now decision in the writ of habeus case now

The coroner's jury in its verdict tonight held Mitchell and his wife to the grand jury on the charge of murdering Mrs. Greenhaulgh, her son Walter and her daughter Jennie and Mrs. Schmidt, Mitchell's chief exponent of the gift of tongues as accessories before the fact and B. J. Hopkins, official undertaker at Zion City, as an accessory after the fact. The jury also recommended that the license of Hopkins as an undertaker and the credentials of M. J. Larose, health officer at Zion City, be revoked by the state health board.

Post mortem examination showed that Mrs. Greenhaulgh sustained almost a dozen broken bones during the "treatment." There was a compound fracture of the left leg, the flesh of the leg was torn from the bones; the left arm was fractured in three places; the knee of the right leg had been wrenched from its socket and the leg broken; the right elbow was broken and the forearm fractured. That the neck had been broken was testified to by two doctors, but no incision was made to determine this positively. by two doctors, but no incision was made to determine this positively.

Announcement of Prize Awards

People From Far and Near Send Splendidly Comprehensive Answers to Our Question Regarding

Government Inspected Meats

All the answers showed an awakened understanding of the necessity for demanding inspected meats. In fact, so high a level of merit was reached as to make the decision of the judges a most difficult matter. List after list was selected, added to and abridged. In the end it seemed absolutely impossible to say that any one answer was the best. That justice might be done to all, the first, second, third and fourth prizes were each divided between the two most deserving. The awards were as follows:

First prize, a tie between Mrs. Sophia Jacobson, 326 Park street, and Mrs. Eunice Candy, Montavilla. The prize, a $50 meat order, is divided. Their letters covered the same point, so but one is reproduced. It follows:

"The federal stamp upon meat and meat food products means that the meat is from healthy animals, killed and prepared under proper sanitary conditions; contains no impurity nor harmful preservative, chemical, or dye, and is labeled and sold under its true name."

The second prize, a tie between Anna S. Ketchum, Woodlawn, and H. Groves, North Third street. The prize, a $40 meat order, is divided between them.

Miss Ketchum's answer:

"First, it (government inspection) extends to both domestic and foreign markets, directly benefiting the stockraiser and indirectly the whole nation. Second, it is a guarantee of purity and quality, and that the animal was killed and the meat prepared under the best sanitary conditions, thus protecting the health of the consumer. The government stamp causes inquiry, education follows, and trade consequently flows to the dealer in inspected meats."

Mr. Grove's answer:

"To my mind the middle portion of page 22 of the little blue book contains the kernel of the whole argument, though it would require a mental magnifying glass to see where one part is more logical than another. 'Meat being our most important food, questions concerning it 'from hoof to can' are the most vital problems now before the public for solution. Sanitary conditions are very important issues. Being a cook, the writer is in a position to know that there are meats on the market that are not up to the standard, and are pressed upon the unwary.'

The third prize, a $30 meat order, was a tie between F. M. Neill, 415 Fifth street, and Miss V. E. Graham, 421 East Twelfth street. The prize was divided.

Mr. McNeill's answer:

"The speech of U. S. Solicitor McCabe is moderate yet powerfully strong and convincing; the protection for foreign countries against unhealthy American food animals and meats is right and wise, and benefits our own people and our own nation. The federal stamp upon meats will stand for something. It guarantees the healthfulness, wholesomeness and purity of the product.'

"That the inspectors are forbidden to label any carcass, or any part of meat food product therefrom until the same shall have been actually inspected and found to be sound, healthful and fit for human food, to have been prepared under proper sanitary conditions, to contain no dyes, chemicals, preservatives or ingredients that render such meat or meat food products unfit for human food."

The other prize winners in their order are:

Mrs. Charles E. Kitching, Arleta, Or., $10 prize. Fred R. Reed, Failing Bldg., $10 prize.

Mrs. George Bass, Lents, Or., $10 prize. Mae Stafford, Marie Hannigan (a bright 10-yearold girl), Mrs. J. L. Misner, Mrs. E. F. Hepburn and B. F. Padrick will receive prizes of $5.00 each.
