THE BENJAMIN
Standard Sack Suit

For
FALL and WINTER
1907-1908

WHILE designed for men who are conservative in their dress, the BENJAMIN STANDARD SACK SUIT clearly defines all the style features that the best-dressed men in New York demand in their clothes.

This model particularly lends itself to the staple blue or black serge suit that every man considers an essential in his wardrobe.

But we have not confined the series we display to solid colors alone.

This suit is also made in Cheviots, Worsteds, Cassimeres and the very popular shades of Havana Brown, as well as in a diversified assortment of fashionable gray colorings in both stripes and plaids.

But the prices are altogether modest.

These suits range in price from $25.00 to $40.00.

Preferred Stock
Tomatoes

come out whole—can be served as stewed tomatoes, or any way, at less cost than fresh ones though equally as good. Notice the ordinary kind—more like soup than tomatoes; then open a can of Preferred Stock—the kind you would pick from the vine if you had your choice.

Preferred Stock Canned Goods

Packed Wherever the Best are Grown

For our tomatoes we go to the famous Santa Clara Valley, California. These tomatoes are firmer, with more meat and less water. Only the best of these are selected for Preferred Stock use; they must be just a red, firm ripeness.

We pay more for our tomatoes than most canners do, and we insist on having the first pick, accept only the best fruit, of uniform, medium size, and have it put up right where the tomatoes are grown, by one of the neatest, most expert canners in all California.

Tomatoes are a staple necessity in every household. Even the United States Government regards them as an important food from an hygienic and nutritive point of view, and is a large buyer of Preferred Stock Tomatoes and other kinds of Preferred Stock goods for use at the Army Posts in the Northwest.

Preferred Stock Tomatoes may cost a trifle more than some kinds, but look at the way they come out of the can—and mostly meat; observe the quality and the flavor—and the quantity.

BE SURE the TOMATOES are PREFERRED STOCK
