

NO DOUBT THAT PUTER WILL SOON BE RELEASE

United States Attorney Bristol, However, Says He Has Heard Nothing of It—Government Officials Have Never Been Overly Anxious to Hold Puter.

News of the effort being made to secure the release of S. A. D. Puter from service of the remaining seven months of his sentence in the Multnomah county jail has not yet reached the ears of United States District Attorney Bristol according to that official. When asked if he knew when the order for Mr. Puter's release might be expected to arrive in Portland he denied having any intimation of the possibility of such an order being made.

It has no information or knowledge on the subject of Puter's alleged release. So far as I know he will serve out the sentence given him by the court," is the way Mr. Bristol disposed of the question.

In spite of his, however, it is expected that the land fraud king and chief witness for the government will be breathing the outside air within a very short space of time.

Dialied to Punish Puter.
From the first days of the land fraud agitation in Oregon following the conviction of Puter, McKinley, Waligant, Emma Watson and Dan Tarpley in December, 1904, for defrauding the government, it was apparent that Mr. Heney and the prosecution were not anxious to inflict any very great punishment on the man who made it possible for them to bring winning indictments against Senator Mitchell, Congressman Williamson, F. P. Mays and other "big fish."

Upon Puter's conviction he was put under $4,000 bonds secured by an estate of Puter's company, but in June, 1905, United States Marshal Reed, upon the verbal order of Mr. Heney, dismissed this bond, substituting in its place a straw bond signed by L. P. Puter, brother of the defendant and another California man.

Shortly before this time Puter got into financial straits and with the knowledge of the federal officers secured $10,000 from C. P. Smith, a wealthy timberman of the east, with whom he had engaged in timber speculations and who was afraid Puter's testimony would bring him into the ever widening circle of the Oregon investigations. With this sum Puter embarked upon his spectacular career of floating forged and bogus state school land certificates, it being reported that he and his confederates cleaned up approximately $150,000 on the deal.

Chased Across Country.
This break led in reality to the incarceration of Mr. Puter. He was practically promised immunity by the federal prosecutors before he gave the testimony which resulted in the indictment and conviction of Senator Mitchell, Congressman Williamson and others. Up to the time of the state land swindles there had been no apparent inclination on the part of the government to sentence Puter or bring him to book under the conviction of December, 1904. When he floated all these forged certificates, however, public clamor became such that, fearful lest Puter's immunity from punishment would cast reflection upon the government's further cases, an effort was made to catch him.

Then began the spectacular chase of Detective Burns across the continent, the final apprehension of Puter on a crowded street in Boston and his mysterious "escape" from the most widely detective in the service of the government. Following this Puter was lost until the newspapers found him quietly resting at his home in Berkeley and he was at last arrested and brought back to Portland for sentence.

It has been the common expectation that the full sentence imposed by the court would not be served by Puter and the information that Mr. Heney is now working for his release proves that the expectation was founded on something more than theory. While nothing definite can be learned here it is believed that the order of release will come hand in hand with the conviction of the October term of the federal court, or at least by the time the land cases are well under way.

DOOBBLACK CONVICTED

Frank J. Constantine Found Guilty of Murdering Mrs. Louise Gentry—Pitiful Tale of Unrequited Love Is Unavailing.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Sept. 21.—Frank J. Constantine's plea that he was a victim of a woman's unrequited love and a chain of unavoidable circumstances has availed him nothing. The jury that heard his story returned a verdict of guilty to-night. Unless a new trial is granted the former New York doobblack and Italian Adonis will go to prison for life in payment for the murder of Mrs. Louise Gentry two years ago.

When the jury filed into court shortly after midnight, a crowd of 500 was in the room. Most of those had foregone their sleep to witness the last act of the drama. Throughout the trial women have lionized the fellow. Some have made efforts to send him flowers and notes of condolence and hope. When he took the stand they hung on his every word.

When Constantine was brought into court to listen to the verdict he was chewing gum. He did not look at the jury, but kept his eyes fastened on the ceiling. He showed no emotion after the reading and calmly signified that he was ready to return to his cell. He made no comment.

Parisian Women's Renowned Beauty

Mainly Consists of Beautiful Complexions, Specialist Gives Splendid Formula

In a recent interview Dr. Jean Vallier, the eminent dermatologist, made some very interesting statements concerning the beauty of the fair sex. He claimed the highest type of features and those which approach nearest to the Greek standards are to be found in America. Although the French ladies are world renowned for their beauty they lack the classical mold of face. But this defect is evidently counterbalanced by their matchless complexions. To this they give the most rigid care in the matter of diet and daily massages.

Dr. Vallier gave the formula for a skin food which he said had worked wonders for the society ladies of Paris and which, though a simple mixture, is probably the most effective known to science for restoring the normal rosy complexion and building up the undeveloped parts of the face, neck and bust. The formula is as follows: Two ounces of Rose water, one ounce of Cologne Spirits and four ounces Sartin (crystallized).

The Sartin is to be dissolved in a pint of hot water (not boiling), then when cooled to be strained through a fine cloth, and the Rose Water and Cologne Spirits added. This is to be used twice a day and massaged well into the skin, and if persisted in there will be no further need for powders or rouge. It is not expensive, the ingredients being obtainable from any druggist and coming from such high authority is well worth a thorough trial.

The Locker Habit.

GOEBEL VICTIM OF A FEUD, SAYS WOMAN

Mrs. Lulu Clark Makes Affidavit That One Turner Igo Was Assassin of Ex-Kentucky Governor—Story Is Denied by W. S. Taylor.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 21.—An affidavit that purports to be the basis of the defense Caleb Powers will make in his trial on the charge of complicity in the assassination of William Goebel, governor of Kentucky, was published today in the Richmond, Indiana, Item. It is made by Mrs. Lulu Clark and in it she accused Turner Igo of Rowan county, Kentucky, of firing the fatal shot. The information was that the affidavit was published that it had been procured through use of the defense fund raised by Powers and that the affidavit had been taken in the Indianapolis office of W. S. Taylor, constant with Goebel for the governor's seat in Kentucky and at present an exile from his native state.

that the affidavit had been taken in his office and said that the story should not be given credence. He also said Igo is dead.

Mrs. Clark is a niece of Judge Day, of Frenchburg, Kentucky. Her niece, Gertrude King, was a sweetheart of John Sanford of Covington, Kentucky. The day of the assassination, Mrs. Clark says in her affidavit, she and Miss King went to Frankfort and saw Sanford standing in a shadow in the state house. After the shooting she saw Igo, with a rifle in his hand, run up to Sanford and say: "I killed him." Sanford helped Igo change his coat for a pair of shoes, she charges, and both men disappeared. Mrs. Clark charges that Igo told her at Mount Sterling in June, 1900, that he intended slaying Goebel and that afterward, in Jeffersonville, Indiana, he reminded her that he had carried out his threat.

ST. MARY'S ONE OF OREGON'S BEST BOARDING SCHOOLS FOR GIRLS

St. Mary's Institute, Near Beaverton, Oregon.

St. Mary's institute near Beaverton, Oregon, is a select boarding school for young ladies. It was opened in 1903 to meet the wants of parents in this part of the country who were anxious to give their children the advantage of a good bound education.

The buildings are new and commodious, the classrooms, dormitories, etc., are arranged with a view to the comfort and convenience of the pupils. All are well ventilated and fitted up with the latest improvements. Large playgrounds invite outdoor exercises.

A fine gymnasium hall was constructed last year. Here Miss Mildred Raab, one of Portland's best teachers in physical culture, conducts classes every week.

Those students who desire special lessons in voice culture have opportunity of doing so. Miss Kathleen Lawler, the sweet songstress of Oregon fame, will be at the institute every Wednesday. Miss Lawler and her work are too well known in Portland to require further recommendation.

The curriculum is complete, embracing primary, grammar, academic and commercial courses.

Pupils are admitted at all times of the year. It is desirable, however, that they enter as early as possible.

St. Mary's institute reopened September 10, and has an attendance of 40 resident boarders. For catalogue apply to the sister superior.

COUNCIL PLANNING TO BUILD ASSEMBLY HALL

Councilman Vaughn Will Introduce the Resolution on Wednesday Providing for Immense Municipal Convention Building on Part of Market Block.

Councilman W. T. Vaughn will introduce a resolution in the city council at its meeting Wednesday proposing the building of a convention hall fully capable of taking care of municipal, state and national assemblies, and he will have the undivided support of practically every member of that body. This much was revealed last night in a canvass of the individual members and everyone who was approached seemed enthusiastic over the enterprise.

Should the city appropriate $75,000 or $100,000 for the construction of such a building as is contemplated by the Vaughn resolution it will not only provide one of the largest assembly rooms on the coast, but will be the home of the free employment bureau created at the last election, a branch of the free library and kindred organizations.

Would Base Market Building.
The city market block is bounded by Third, Clay, Market and Second streets and its location is readily accessible from the business portion. The property is owned by the city, and half of it is occupied by the People's Market association, which has erected a large building to further market pursuits.

Some trouble has arisen as to the legality of the occupancy of the square by the market people, and several of the councilmen will undoubtedly oppose granting a new franchise to the corporation, as it has requested. Some of the councilmen, in discussing the Vaughn measure go so far as to say that if the untended half of the block is not sufficient the market buildings should be razed.

NO INCREASE OF INSANITY

Figures Larger at Present Because More Cases Are Brought to Light.

(Special Cable to The Journal.)
London, Sept. 21.—Dr. Carlos F. Macdonald, the New York alienist, talked today in regard to recent statistics of the insane issued by the lunacy commissioners of England and Wales. Dr. Macdonald said:

"That there is a steady numerical increase in insanity both in the United Kingdom and in the United States is undeniable, but that there is any material increase in the ratio of insanity to population is very doubtful. While the statistics just issued by the commissioners seemed to show that the insane under their care in England and Wales increased from 37,162 in 1859 to 123,988 in 1907, a numerical increase of 237 per cent whereas the estimated increase in the general population in the same period was only 77 per cent, yet an analysis of the report proves that the percentage of increase was only slight and with a lessening tendency.

"There has been a material increase, besides, in the longevity of the insane under modern methods of care and treatment. The statistics are somewhat vitiated by the fact that readmissions appear as new cases. I know of one person who was readmitted to an institution several times. Each time the statistics marked him as a new case. Finally today there is a much more accurate register of the insane than there was fifty years ago."

Speaking of the causes of insanity, Dr. Macdonald said:

"My experience and observation lead me to attach less and less importance to so-called exciting causes and greater importance to predisposing causes."

NEW HUSBAND
Quite an Improvement on Old One.
"I have been compelled to stop drinking it," I said to a friend who asked me to strengthen up on a cup of her good coffee. "Well," she said, "that needn't bother you, for I have Postum Food Coffee here, which completely cured a friend of mine of sick headaches."

"I tried her coffee and it was very good, but when I tried to make it at home I was disappointed. I soon found that I was not making it correctly, but by putting in two heaping teaspoonsful of Postum for each person and letting it boil 20 minutes it was delicious."

"I had at that time been an invalid for several years, but did not know my trouble was caused by coffee drinking, of which I was very fond. I immediately began to feel better after leaving off coffee and using Postum, and stuck to it."

"One day I met a lady who was troubled the same as I was and whose appearance on the street really shocked me, for she was so emaciated. She expressed surprise at my improved appearance and wanted to know what I had been doing. She asked me if I had had a healer of any kind. I said, 'Yes, I have had Postum Food Coffee to work the almost complete miracle of curing me.'"

"My husband has been absent from home for some time, and has been in wretched health, having been in the hospital twice for indigestion. I wrote him to stop using coffee and try Postum—told him also just how to make it. Yesterday I received a letter from him saying he was feeling very well. I much better, thanks to you and Postum, I sleep better, eat better, and in fact, my dear, am quite an improvement on the old husband."—There's no assassin! Read "The Road to Wellville," in pgs. by

The twenty-fourth annual report of the Michigan bureau of labor shows a healthy growth of the organized labor movement throughout the state. Strikes have been less frequent, very few being reported for the period covered by the canvass. Some of these were successful and others were settled by compromise. In Detroit, the metropolis of the state, the number of local labor unions has increased 150 per cent during the past four years.
