

FUSION NOT TO LINK

Labor Party, Democrats and Republicans Wrangle at San Francisco and Taylor Will Run As Independent Candidate.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
By John Taylor Waldorf.
San Francisco, Sept. 22.—The dream of the idealists who saw visions of the Republican, Democratic and union labor parties working in harmony for one good government ticket was shattered when the labor party last Thursday night ignored the request of the Republicans for the appointment of a conference committee. As a matter of fact, the conference resolution adopted by the Republican convention last Tuesday had a sting to it, for it provided that no committee should be appointed unless both the other parties agreed to do likewise. Daniel A. Ryan dominated the Republican convention. His followers wanted to nominate him at once, but he diplomatically insisted on consideration of the conference plan. Now that the labor party has refused to stand in the Republicans are expected to nominate Ryan at their meeting next Tuesday. If this is done there will surely be three tickets in the field, possibly four, as Mayor Taylor, in the event of being denied the Democratic nomination will go on the ballot by petition. District Attorney Langdon will be nominated by the Republicans, but his chance of getting the Democratic nomination depends on whether Gavin McNab is able to find a strong man willing to make the race. If such a man appears Taylor will be turned down by the Democrats.

The labor convention was controlled by a sextet made up of F. H. McCarthy, Mayor Taylor at the head of the council, Recorder John H. Nelson, Sheriff Thomas F. O'Neill, County Clerk Harry J. Mulrevey, Deputy Sheriff Thomas J. Finn and Fire Commissioner Mario Bollo. Thomas F. Eagan, chairman of the labor party county committee, fought the combine, but Mayor Eagan's E. Seim's threw his influence on the side of the "Big Six" and Eagan's candidate for chairman was beaten more than two to one. The ballot stood: James F. Leonard ("Big Six"), 139; H. M. Alexander (Eagan), 58.

Eagan charges that the combine seeks an alliance with the Democrats. In a speech before the convention he spoke insinuatingly of corporation influence and warned his auditors against traitors in the party. He even paved the way for a bolt, saying that when the labor party forget the purposes for which it was formed he would no longer owe it allegiance.

The labor convention, after a brief session adjourned to meet at the call of the chair. Its candidate for mayor has not yet been selected by the "Big Six," but there is much talk of E. H. McCarthy. If McCarthy wants the nomination he can have it. He apparently prefers to go on with his work as chief official of both the local building trades council and the state building trades council. The Democrats who favor fusion with the laborites declare that he thinks well of such a plan, but when asked for an opinion, predicts a straight union labor ticket.

Mayor Taylor's appointment of William J. Bollo as police commissioner has held on the Democrats. Biggy was a candidate for railroad commissioner on the independent league ticket last year. He has been in politics for more than twenty years, and the Democrats say that he will do politics with the police department. Biggy's appointment, however, will deprive the opponents of Langdon of some campaign material. Biggy, who is still elisor of Judge Dunne's court and responsible for the two arrests of Rufus in the city, is informed that no more bills for the maintenance of the comfortable white prison in Fillmore street will be approved by the court. With Rufus in cheap quarters, the charge that Rufus is a guest of the city instead of its prisoner will lose its point. Taylor as a candidate for mayor will have at least one big advantage over Dan Ryan. Two or three newspapers will advocate his election. From present indications Ryan will get no newspaper support whatever. However, the situation is still so badly mixed that twenty-four hours might work a great change. An instance of the mixture is furnished by Fire Commissioner Mario Bollo. In the primaries Bollo backed two tickets in his home district. One of the tickets was Democratic; the other union labor. Both won. Now Bollo as a union labor leader opposes the holding of a conference designed to place Mayor Taylor at the head of a unity ticket, but he says that he will instruct his Democratic delegation to vote for the nomination of Taylor as the Democratic candidate.

The labor party leaders are beginning work on an elaborate plan to bring out a full labor vote. F. H. McCarthy has fifty-seven men out working in the streets to register. These recruiting agents are expected to keep busy until midnight of September 30, at which time registration closes. Thus far the Republicans have had much the better of the registration. Last Wednesday the figures for the day were as follows: Republican 775, Union Labor 78, Democrat 23, declined to give party 72, Socialist 6, Prohibitionist 1. The labor leaders say that many union labor men give their national politics when they register. These leaders also claim eighty per cent of the voters who refuse to state their party affiliations.

SIX INTER-CLUB MEETS ARRANGED

First Boxing and Wrestling Tourney to Be Held Here In November.

Schedule of inter-club boxing and wrestling contests for the coming season:
November 8—Multnomah vs. Seattle, at Portland.
November 27—Spokane vs. Seattle, at Spokane.
December 11—Multnomah vs. Spokane, at Portland.
January 24—Seattle vs. Spokane, at Seattle.
February 14—Multnomah vs. Spokane, at Spokane.
March 13—Multnomah vs. Seattle, at Seattle.

Six inter-club boxing and wrestling contests will be held this winter among the three big amateur clubs of the northwest, the Multnomah club of Portland, the Seattle club of Seattle and the Spokane club of Spokane.

Each club will go against each of the others twice. The first meet will be held at Portland November 8 and the last will come off in Seattle March 13. Following the close of the inter-club affairs will come the open tournament for the championship of the northwest.

As last year, the inter-club meets will consist of two boxing and two wrestling bouts. The meets should be much more successful this year than last, as during the coming season, each club interested will have the naming of the weight in one boxing and one wrestling contest. Last season the visiting club named the weights in all four events.

The northwest championships for 1908-9 will be held in Portland. They will mark the biggest, as well as the last of the season in amateur sports on the mat and in the ring. The tournament will be pulled off some time in April and will be open to all amateurs. Championships will be decided in eight weights both in boxing and wrestling. The weights will be 105 pounds, 115, 125, 135, 145, 155, 175 and all over 175 pounds.

The Multnomah club has started the season with large wrestling and boxing classes and expects to carry off its share of the honors. Between the inter-club meets club meets will be held for the purpose of developing material. One of the more important club tournaments at Multnomah will be held on Thanksgiving eve, the night before the Oregon-Multnomah football game.

The inter-club schedule was arranged at a meeting of representatives of the three clubs in Seattle yesterday. Edgar Frank, chairman of indoor athletics at Multnomah, represented the local club.

WHITMAN'S CAPTAIN SERIOUSLY INJURED

Hurt Himself Tackling Dummy and May Not Play Again This Season.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., Sept. 22.—Conteration was caused at the college today when it was learned that Ralph Dimick, captain of the football team, had sustained a serious injury to his shoulder in practice and may not be able to play for the rest of the season. Dimick is the 200-pound right tackle who has won renown for Whitman in the past two years and who has twice made a place on the All-Northwest team. He is recognized as one of the best football men in the northwest and the local team was counting on him to lead them to victory.

While at practice, tackling the dummy Dimick struck the ground a sharp blow with his shoulder, no pad being on his jersey, and tore loose some of the ligaments which join the shoulder blade and collarbone, as well as cracking a small bone in the same place. He will be out of the game for several weeks and the doctor states he will not be able to play again this year. This will decrease materially the efficiency of the Whitman team, but an effort will be made to find some one to take his place, although it will be a difficult task.

Co-operation among wage-earners is spreading rapidly in Switzerland. In 1901 six consumers' co-operative societies were founded; today there are 106 societies.

streetcar boycott, at the same time continuing the strike, streetcar conductors have had a sad time of it. One favorite trick of the union passengers is to ring up half a dozen or more fares while the conductor is wedged in a crowd. For several days workmen made a practice of riding on the roof of the cars, where only a daring and agile conductor would dare to go to collect fares, but Chief Biggy ended the fun by ordering his police to suppress the climbers. The reason given was a desire to prevent loss of life or injury by the breaking of trolley wires, but the climbers are angry at Biggy's interference. They say that his action is only further proof of their oft-repeated charge that Mayor Taylor is opposed to the unions.

Important Announcement to Depositors in the Oregon Trust and Savings Bank!

EVERY DOLLAR SPENT AT THE GOLDEN EAGLE THIS WEEK MEANS 50c TO THE DEPOSITORS OF THE OREGON TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK

About one half of the liabilities of the Golden Eagle Department Store, a sum amounting to a trifle over one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), is owed to the Oregon Trust & Savings Bank. The entire stock of the store is now being sold by the assignee in charge, Major J. P. Kennedy, for the benefit of the creditors. It can readily be seen that out of every dollar expended at the Golden Eagle Store one half of the amount goes to help swell the funds out of which the depositors of the defunct bank will be paid. The more money you spend at the Golden Eagle this week, the nearer the Oregon Trust & Savings Bank will come to paying its depositors one hundred cents on a dollar. Trade at the Golden Eagle this week and urge your friends to do the same, thus helping out the thousands of depositors whose names are enrolled as creditors of the Oregon Trust & Savings Bank. Get your money back. The Golden Eagle's Assignee Sale will help you do it.

Sensational Values Offered to Golden Eagle's Patrons This Week

As fast as goods are sold and lines are depleted, hundreds of lots are condensed and prices on the same mercilessly reduced. See Sunday's big ad for hundreds of special prices for this week. Thousands of lots go unadvertised, which embrace values equal to or greater than those told of in the public print. Come down and mingle with the crowds this week and do your shopping at the Assignee's Sale of the Golden Eagle's stock.

A Monster Sale of Manufacturers' Mended Gloves

Values up to $2.50 for 59c Pair

The Golden Eagle glove-buyer was fortunate in securing this "plum" for our store clientele. Numerous eastern "big store" buyers were reaching for it, but our representative "saw it first" and got the goods. It's well known among glove-makers that thousands of pairs of gloves are returned every season to the factory for repairs; a slight rip or a mite of a tear; a bit of an imperfection that has passed the scrutiny of a watchful checker is discovered when the gloves reach the purchaser, or vigilant chief of the glove department. They won't pass muster as strictly "simon-pure" perfect with our examiners, and are returned to the factory. Just so with all stores all over the country. Result is an accumulation at the factories of hundreds of pairs of slightly imperfect gloves which they are willing to give to a good year-round customer "for a song." Just before this store's financial troubles our New York buyer had secured the accumulation of a large eastern glove factory's mended gloves, splendid values up to $2.50. We shall offer them on Monday at exactly net cost to us, at Assignee Sale. Choice.

RHONIMUS' MEN SAY MYERS A BAD MAN

Defense Rests and on Monday Court and All Concerned Visit Scene of the Affray.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., Sept. 22.—The defense in the Rhonimus trial rested Saturday evening. Many witnesses testified that Myers, the man killed, was a man of bad character, and that Rhonimus bore a good name.

The judge stated that this morning the court, jury, attorneys and defendants would go to the scene of the killing at Cabbage Hill, in the Blue mountains, a drive of many miles after leaving the train at Meacham.

ALBANY TO VOTE ON A GREATER ALBANY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Albany, Or., Sept. 22.—Albany is preparing for the annual municipal election to be held the first Monday in December. It is expected that the city charter will be amended and the boundaries of the city be changed so as to include some of the outlying places. The city attorney is preparing a draft of the amendments to be voted upon and will submit it soon for the approval of the council.

For the city positions to be filled there is a dearth of candidates. Mayor, marshal, recorder and three councilmen are to be elected for two years.

Whitman Selects Managers.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., Sept. 22.—At the first meeting of the executive committee of the Associated Students, two managers for student activities were appointed. Paul P. Brainard, of the Junior class, was selected manager of the Men's Glee club. Samuel Netzer, of the Sophomore class was selected to manage tennis this season.

Carefully examine this picture, published at no small expense. It shows the perfect foundation and location on which Greater Portland will surely be built. Notice the location of the Grand Central Depot, and harbor where ocean vessels meet all railroads to the Pacific on water grades. Forever remember, business knows no friendship; that business is business, and that upon this matchless location, between the rivers, a successful battle will be fought—the building of the largest commercial and manufacturing city on the Pacific. If you are not fully posted on the facts, you may doubt this statement. I have the proofs in my office, and can and will, with pleasure, remove every doubt you may have as to the truthfulness of this bold statement.

Please notice Walnut Park's central location, and do yourself and family a kindness by visiting this sightly Park. You will find beautiful homes built and building, cement walks; no store or shack can be built, good homes or none. Its location is ideal, being the highest point between the rivers, hence commands forever a fine, unobstructed view of all the snow peaks; having best car service in city, only 15 minutes from the now business center, with that center growing closer each day. Better look this entire subject up at once. If you don't you will live to regret not doing so.

I have at this time a speculative bargain near the Grand Central Depot; one of great merit; where great changes will soon occur; greater by far than has ever yet occurred on the Pacific.

Call on W. M. KILLINGSWORTH. Suburban office, 323 Chamber of Commerce. Take any "U" car going north, will land you at my Central Walnut Park office, corner Killingsworth and Williams avenues.

WOODBURN SCHOOL DISTRICT MERGER

Woodburn, Or., Sept. 22.—At a joint meeting of the Woodburn, Blue Plains and Hall school districts it was decided that each district vote upon the question of consolidation at the annual school meeting next June. If favorable the result will be that the Woodburn and Hall districts will be made one and to this a strip of land within the corporate limits of Woodburn will be added from the Blue Plains district. This agreement was reached on account of most of the Hall district being within the city's corporate limits. County Superintendent Smith was present at the meeting.
