

METHODISTS OF OREGON GATHER FOR CONFERENCE

BAR CHINESE FROM JAMAICA

Bishop David H. Moore Will Preside at the Sessions and Mayor Lane Will This Evening Give the Welcome of the City to the Delegates.

Everything was hustle and bustle at Grace Methodist Episcopal church this morning and fully an hour before time set for the conference board of examiners to begin work delegates and applicants for examinations arrived. Promptly at 9 o'clock the Oregon conference which continues until next Monday night was officially opened. General work, however, will not begin until this evening at 7:30 o'clock when a reception will be given to visiting delegates and their wives by the Ladies Aid society of the two Portland churches.

Elaborate preparations have been made for tonight's reception and it is expected that Grace church will be crowded. Aside from the 300 visitors expected, church people from Portland and vicinity will be in attendance. Refreshments will be served and a decidedly interesting program has been arranged.

Cure of Delegates.
Two clerks were busy all day assigning delegates and their wives to the various boarding and rooming places engaged for the week. Arrangements for taking care of visitors were made some time ago and printed lists greatly facilitated matters today.

As each delegate arrived and registered today a card was filled out by one of the clerks, properly signed by those in authority, and directions were given so that all visitors might be taken care of with sleeping and eating accommodations before the actual work of the conference begins.

While this was being attended to the board of examiners went into session in a portion of the vestry rooms and this morning two candidates, Joseph Knott, of Des Moines, Iowa, and C. L. Cressy, of Bay City, Oregon, took examinations for admission to the ministry.

Others who must take examinations at this time for the first year are George Ellis, Robert H. Allen, James H. Fowler, Henry L. Grafous, William C. Stewart and C. W. Fogue. In second year work G. O. Oliver, A. J. Armstrong, E. H. Bryant and H. J. Adams are the Bishop David H. Moore, Who Presides Over the Conference.

Examinations in third year work will be taken by Richard R. Williams, J. J. Paxton, J. W. Exon and A. J. Boyd. Fourth year graduation examinations will be taken by D. L. Shrode and P. J. Rinehart.

This afternoon at two o'clock the board of examiners held a business session at which a number of bills were audited. No changes were announced on the board because of the removal of ministers to other territory.

Welcome From Mayor.
At this evening's reception to delegates, music will be furnished by the male quartet and chorus of Grace church. Mayor Harry Lane will welcome the visitors in the name of the city, and Rev. E. M. Hill will do likewise in the name of the entertaining churches.

Tomorrow morning the conference will get down to actual business routine. The program for the entire day follows:

8:30 a. m. devotional service, Rev. W. H. Selleck; 9 a. m. holy communion, conducted by Bishop Moore; 10 a. m. organization and business session; 2 p. m. statistical session and organization of committees; 3 p. m. anniversary of Woman's Home Missionary society; 7:30 p. m. anniversary of board of home missions and church extension, Rev. W. T. Kerr, president; address, Dr. J. H. Coleman.

Movements of the Bishop.
Bishop Moore announces at this time that immediately after the present conference ends he will assist President Coleman of Williams university in raising needed funds for that educational institution. The first week in November the bishop will go to Spokane, where he will attend the meeting of bishops there. Next he goes to Seattle to attend the annual meeting of the board of home missions.

Bishop Moore will then return to Portland to attend the meeting of the Board of Domestic Missions. Later he will go to Georgia and the Carolinas, and it will be late in May of next year before he returns to the Pacific coast at which time he will have the opportunity of the spring conferences.

Many very important questions will be taken up at the present conference. Bishop John W. Hamilton, who has been seriously ill notified Bishop Moore that he would be in attendance, but he had not arrived up to the closing of this report.

MOTORMAN KILLS FRENCH WOMAN
Valencia Street Car Pins Four Persons Between Vehicle and Station.

(Pacific Coast Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Sept. 24.—An accident in which the motorman of a street car was palpably to blame resulted in the death of a woman and the serious injury of two men and a boy late Monday when a Valencia street car struck a wagon at Grant avenue and Market street and pinned the four persons between the vehicle and the safety station at that point.

It was fright more than anything else, according to the hospital physician, that killed the woman, Mrs. Kate Knowlton, who died soon after reaching the hospital. Not a mark of injury was visible on her body.

Gus Gullikson and L. C. Scarff were the other two seriously injured. The former probably will die. Edward Knowlton, the dead woman's 12-year-old son, was slightly injured.

CONGRESS TO FIGHT RAILROAD CHANGES
Government Ownership Innovations of President Will Be Rebuffed.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Sept. 24.—A cable to The Herald from Kingston, Jamaica says: The influx of Chinese here is a serious matter. One section of the press is urging the government to take steps to prevent their landing, as being a detriment to local traders.

The Chinese, it is declared are responsible for the spread of the gambling evil here.

Kingston's city council has adopted a resolution calling on the government to amend the alien immigration law so as to prohibit the entrance of the undesirable class of foreigners who seek trade in this city, to the ruin of the natives and other subjects of the king. The resolution is aimed at Chinese and Syrians, who it is said, are overrunning the islands.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—Already lines are being drawn for a battle royal which will occur in congress this winter over further railroad regulation reforms, which President Roosevelt will urge. The movement on the part of certain railroad men to come to an understanding with each other and their colleagues, and with the president, has failed and there will be a renewal of the tactics of the last congress designed to take the sting out of President Roosevelt's recommendations.

In anticipation of a struggle, both sides are preparing for the campaign of education. It has developed that the president recently sent an official to Europe to investigate methods of regulating railroads in England and on the continent, and especially in Germany and other countries owning lines. It is the purpose of the president upon receipt of this information to insert it in his annual message.

Conservative forces in congress have sent men to Europe on a like mission, and the latter will be depended upon to show conditions in Europe which cause the people to halt in favoring the enactment of any legislation which might tend to the appearance of such conditions in the United States.

ROGUE RIVER VALLEY SPENDS DRY SUNDAY
Slot Machine Test Case Fizzles Because of Dealer's Cold Feet.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Medford, Or., Sept. 24.—Medford, Jacksonville, Central Point and Gold Hill spent the first dry day in their history Sunday, as the result of Sheriff Jackson's reform crusade.

The 30 years that has been off in the Rogue River valley, and the innovation was not taken kindly to by the majority of citizens. The sheriff and his deputies spent a day in the punishing of violators of the closing edict, but none were found. To aggravate the situation, the day was one of the hottest of the year.

The attempt to contest the slot machine removal order resulted in a fiasco. The cigar dealer who volunteered to make a test case got cold feet, and instead of fighting the case as agreed upon, abjectly surrendered, pleaded guilty and paid $10 fine promising to be good. The test may yet be made, because of a conflict between the city's charter and the state law.

RACING JACK FROST TO KENO HEADGATES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Klamath Falls, Or., Sept. 24.—The local federal reclamation officials are pushing the work on the headgates of the Keno canal in order to complete the concrete work before freezing weather sets in. The Keno canal is a part of the Klamath project, and will tap Upper Klamath lake on the opposite side of the river from the main canal, and continue thence toward the valley, skirting the side of a large rocky hillside. New engines and derricks are being installed at the headgates to hasten the excavating. The big steel headgates and concrete work will be put in first, and other work at the intake will be completed as soon as possible. Much exceedingly hard rock has been encountered, but the worst has been taken out, and Fresno scrapers and big plows are now at work. The work is hard on the horses, for they have to be driven over broken rock, which cuts them badly about the legs and feet.
