John M. Wall Files Fifteen Complaints Against Saloonkeepers.

PRESCRIPTION FOR COMPLEXION AND SKIN FOOD MIXTURE.

The formula given below is said to be the most effective known to science for clearing the complexion and developing shrunken or hollow parts. It is in general use among the French society women who are renowned all over the world for their exquisite complexion. Recipe from the druggist the following: Two ounces of Rose Water; one ounce Spirit of Cologne; four ounces of honey; one ounce of hot water (not boiling) and when dissolved and cooled strain through a fine cloth; then add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirit. This is to be applied daily to the face, neck and bust, and massage thoroughly into the skin. If the treatment is persistently used remarkable results will follow even for the worst complexion or roughest skin. The above formula is inexpensive and measures sufficient of the mixture to last a month.

CHURCH ROW IS STILL UNSETTLED

Home Missionary Society Believes It Has Won After Five Years' War.

After a bitter fight that has been waged in the ranks of the Methodist church in Oregon for five years, the members of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Oregon conference believe that at last they are to be recognized by the Deacons Board of Nine.

Since the opening of the conference here there has been much log rolling and pulling of wires, and the result is when the board presents its petition for official recognition it is confident that it will at last be recognized as having the exclusive right to the Oregon field.

Not a personal fight, so on the other hand the independent deaconess movement, headed by Mrs. Lucy Ryder Meyer of Chicago, has been doing everything in its power to prevent any such result, and still claims it has power enough to keep the other society from securing the sanction of the Board of Nine.

It was the members of the latter society who met last June and held a rump conference, at which they elected their own officers and declared they were the only and original leaders of the deaconess movement in the church in Oregon.

"It is not a personal fight between Mrs. Conant, corresponding secretary of the Woman's Home Missionary society, and Mrs. F. W. Brooke, president of the opposing branch," said a prominent Methodist in the morning "but is merely a local outcrop of church politics. There have been these two societies existing within the church for years, and they are rival movements.

Claims to Be Original. "The Woman's Home Missionary society claims it was first in the field and deserves recognition at the hands of the board, while the other is endeavoring to prevent this recognition. The independent movement is strongest in Washington, having homes at Seattle and Spokane, while the other side is drawing its support from California, there being a large home in San Francisco."

Mrs. Royal of the Woman's Home Missionary society read her report as corresponding secretary at yesterday afternoon's meeting. She said the society has an auxiliary membership of 706 and a total of 850. The receipts have grown from $250 the first year to $1,483. During the year $1,000 has been sent for work in the Pacific islands, and $247 for frontier work. The silver-anniversary apportionment for the conference has been completed, and amounts to $1,005, placing the Oregon conference on the "honor roll."

REALTY TRANSFERS SHOOT PAST $100,000

Largest Individual Deal Is Sale of South Portland Tract.

Realty transfers filed for record took another upward turn yesterday, reaching the sum of $111,893, representing the total consideration of 19 separate instruments.

One of the largest deals closed in the past two or three days was the sale of an unplatted tract in south Portland by James Surman to W. B. Daniels for $11,500.

Byron H. Chapman has purchased from H. L. Chase a 60x100 foot lot in block 35 of King's second addition. The property is on Flinders street, between first and second streets, and was sold for $6,250.

Two handsome east side residences changed hands yesterday. The home of Robert Thomas was purchased by Henry Harkson and sold for $8,000. The home of John Finn for $4,800; and Mrs. Anna Hendrick purchased from Henry Harkson a house and lot on Vancouver avenue between San Rafael and Tillamook streets, consideration $5,000.

Another Vancouver residence between Broadway and Schuyler streets was sold by J. R. Caples to Georgia V. Waters for $2,525.

John J. Hingey closed a deal yesterday for a lot 65x100 feet at the corner of Porter and Third streets, south Portland. The property belonged to Charles W. Nason and was sold for $5,000.

An echo of the strenuous real estate market of one year ago, when it was considered an odd day if at least two $50,000 sales were not reported, came to light yesterday with the filing of the deed conveying the Newcastle apartment house on south Third street to John Thomson for a consideration of $40,000. This is a valuable piece of income producing property and is considered to be worth at least $10,000 more than it cost its present owner.

MAYOR IS FORCED BY GAMBLERS TO RESIGN

Pullman Executive Steps Out Rather Than Sign Bill Permitting Games.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., Sept. 25.—Because the city council passed a bill allowing gambling, Mayor M. C. Gray of Pullman has resigned from office. The town is now in a state of excitement, factions having been formed, and P. W. Lawrence, a saloon supporter, has been made temporary mayor.

The city council passed the ordinance cutting the town up into divisions on the saloon question, the one being to let those that wanted a saloon in one part of the city have it and run games, and those in the other district who did not want it need not have it. When the ordinance came up to the mayor, he did not veto it, though he had his sentiments, but resigned instead. The better class of Pullman citizens claim that since their town is a college seat it should be free from saloons and gambling.

DESPERATE SCHEME OF RUSSIAN PLOTTERS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) London, Sept. 25.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail reports a remarkable plan to blow up the St. Petersburg gendarmarie department. As it is most difficult to enter that department, the plotters decided that one of them, chosen by lot, should dress in the uniform of a gendarmarie officer. This uniform was thickly wadded with pyroxyline, and the pockets of the uniform were to be filled with dynamite. The doomed man was to carry a small pocket electric battery enabling him to ignite the explosives.

SUSPECT M'CUOE OF HOLDING UP TRAIN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., Sept. 25.—Pat McCue was arrested by the police yesterday on suspicion of having had a hand in the Great Northern holdup at Rexford, Montana, recently. McCue is also supposed to have had a hand in the burglarizing of a local tailor shop last night. He has been in the hop-yard with his family and they were preparing to come home. Mrs. Clark had set the little girl on a seat near the fire, and when she returned the child was in flames and so badly burned that she died in about six hours. They could only wrap the body of the little one in a blanket, and thus they brought it to Lebonan, where it was prepared for burial, which took place yesterday in the family burial ground near Lacombe.

DETAILS OF DEATH OF CLARK CHILD

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) He has been to the hop-yard with his family and they were preparing to come home. Mrs. Clark had set the little girl on a seat near the fire, and when she returned the child was in flames and so badly burned that she died in about six hours.
