

DESPERATE RELATIVES SEEK MISSING BROKER

James Harvey, Wealthy and Prominent Vancouver Resident, Laboring Under Distressing Mental Aberration, Believed to Have Shipped From Portland.

Traveling through the country under the hallucination that he is a sailor, irresponsible for his actions owing to the peculiar mental disorder from which he suffers, James Harvey, a wealthy and prominent broker of Vancouver, British Columbia, is believed to have come to Portland this week and unconscious of what he was doing, shipped on the British steamer Conway Castle which sailed September 24 for oriental ports.

Relatives prominent in social and business circles of the British city, are making desperate efforts to locate the missing man without it becoming known that he has disappeared. Chief of Police Grizmachar has been communicated with and urged to use every effort to get some trace of the broker, the mystery of whose whereabouts is likely to remain unsolved for some time. In the event of the broker having sailed on the Conway Castle, nothing definite of his condition can be learned for several months.

Disappeared After Reaching Seattle.

Harvey boarded a train in the British Columbia metropolis over two weeks ago bound for Seattle. Since then he has dropped from sight completely despite the efforts of the police in a dozen northwest cities and private detectives employed by the grief-stricken family.

Boarded Ship With Grip.

The Conway Castle, Captain Jones, sailed from this port at 2:45 p. m., on September 24, with a cargo of wheat for the United Kingdom. The vessel loaded at Columbia dock 2, 3 days prior to her departure anchored out in the stream.

FILE LAWSUIT TO CLEAR LAND TITLE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oregon City, Sept. 27.—P. J. Henneman and Elizabeth Henneman, by their attorneys, Dimick & Dimick and U'Ren & Schubel, commenced a suit Thursday in the circuit court against Mary the missing man, unhesitatingly gave it as his opinion that the stranger in the boat and Harvey were one and the same person.

Victim of Strange Malady.

"Last Friday, September 13, a man by the name of James Harvey, a broker of this city, left here considerably under the influence of liquor, traveling by the owl train and arriving in Seattle on Saturday morning. Since then he has not been heard of nor have his relatives been able to get any trace of him in Seattle or elsewhere, although inquiries have been made and detectives employed to trace him.

Prominent in Vancouver.

"Mr. Harvey is a man about 40 years of age, 5 feet 11 inches in height, weighing about 225 pounds, thick set, very muscular, with black, bushy eyes, dark eyes and wearing a black mustache. His right arm bears marks of having been operated on for blood poisoning, there being a series of small cuts all the way up, which operation was performed some two years ago.

"Of course I trust you will keep this communication strictly private, at least from the newspapers, as Mr. Harvey's position here is a prominent one and his friends do not wish the matter to become known until it is absolutely necessary.

"There is a possibility of Mr. Harvey having lost his memory owing to the effects of the blow referred to, and if you have heard of any such case it is under his advice that I am addressing letters to the chiefs of police of several of the larger cities and towns on the coast.

"I will take it as a kindness if you will communicate any information either to me personally or to the chief of police here, Mr. Chamberlain, who is taking personal interest in the matter and it is under his advice that I am addressing letters to the chiefs of police of several of the larger cities and towns on the coast.

"Everything I eat hurts me," is a common expression. Stomach trouble throws the whole system into disorder, and nearly every organ of the body is affected.

The tonic treatment is the common sense method of curing stomach trouble

Mr. Albert J. Snell, a farmer on R. F. D. No. 60, Bemus Point, Chautauque Co., N. Y., was cured by this treatment. He says: "My stomach became out of order because of irregular meal hours and rapid eating. My appetite was poor and there was constantly a gnawing pain in my stomach. I grew so weak and shaky that I could hardly put one foot ahead of the other and my back was weak and sore.
