

RESIDENT HONORS MARTYR'S MEMORY

The president arrived at 10:15 a. m. and was immediately driven to address the children at the high school, after which he was escorted to the stand in front of the monument.

The unveiling ceremonies were witnessed by 3,000 persons from the stand and 1,000 more were seated in the public stands. The president was greeted by a youngster standing on the platform with a Teddy bear in his arms.

On the way to the school, the president rode with Major Trumbull, Secretary Loeb and two secret service men. The trip to Canton was uneventful. The president sat up until almost midnight talking with Secretaries Garfield and Wilson.

On the ride to the school James Gilchrist, a citizen who loved peace, he did his duty faithfully and well for four years of war when the honor of the nation called him to arms.

There is a singular appropriateness in the inscription on his monument. Mr. Corley, whose relations with him were of such close intimacy, gives me the following information about it:

On the president's trip to the Pacific slope in the spring of 1891 President Wheeler of the University of California conferred the degree of LL.D. upon him in words so well chosen that they struck the fastidious taste of John Hay, then secretary of state, who wrote and asked for a copy of them from President Wheeler.

The important business of the 56th annual sessions of the Oregon conference of the Methodist Episcopal church came to a close at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at Grace church with the announcement of appointments for the ensuing year by Bishop Moore. He promised many surprises and they came in pastorate were made.

In Portland proper there was a general changing about, but of far most importance, perhaps, was the changing of places of two of the most widely known ministers in the conference, Rev. W. H. Heppie and Rev. W. C. Moore. These two ministers change places, Dr. Heppie being transferred to Grace church and Rev. Mr. Moore to the pastorate of the church on the other side of the river.

Each minister expressed himself as heartily pleased with the change and offered as reason that no minister in the Methodist Episcopal church had any longer a more congenial and profitable association with the church as a whole were concerned.

The day's session of the conference opened this morning at 8:30 o'clock with an entertaining lecture on biblical history by Rev. J. T. Abbott. The business sessions of the conference were later until adjournment. Reports of various committees were read and approved. Principal among them were those on the subject of the proposed appropriations to various ministers and their widows, treasurer's report and endeavors along temperance and evangelizing lines.

Home missionary funds to the amount of $6,658 was apportioned by Bishop Moore where he thought it would do the most good.

Appeals for the Advocate.

STOP WOMAN AND CONSIDER

First, that almost every operation in our hospitals, performed upon women, becomes necessary because of neglect of such symptoms as Backache, Irregularities, Displacements, Pain in the Side, Dragging Sensations, Dizziness and Sleeplessness.

Second, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has cured more cases of female ills than any other one medicine known. It regulates, strengthens and restores women's health and is invaluable in preparing women for child-birth and during the period of Change of Life.

Third, the great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time being published by special permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

SANTA FE MUST CITY WILL LOSE NOW EXPLAIN ON NEW LICENSES

Railroad Case Opened This Morning and Will Last For Weeks.

Reduction of Tax on Vehicles Will Cost Street Repair Fund $9,574.

Should the city council refuse to sanction the recommendation of the vehicle used for transport passengers and merchandise in the scale of $20 a year for double axle and $15 a year for single rigs to $5 a year for the former and $2.50 for the latter will mean a loss of approximately $9,574 per annum to the street repair fund.

Under the present system the revenue is actually $9,320 from the 456 double rigs and $2,644 from the 272 single rigs in the city which are tax. These do not include pleasure vehicles, but are extending the license to include private delivery wagons and reducing the cost from the present figure to the proposed one, the revenue will amount to $5,910 for both double and single rigs.

Seventy-five thousand dollars is required yearly to keep the streets in repair. The loss of $9,574, it is said, will cripple the street repair department and the license department amounted last year to $26,725.60.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Pendleton, Or., Sept. 30.—The closed case in the Horsemanship today and the defense opened state made an apparently successful against the defendant, George McBroom, who is accused of killing a man, who is the climax of a feud.

Horsemanship made a remarkable statement in his own behalf this morning. He said: "I did not want them to kill me. I shot to keep them from it. I had intended killing me. McBroom had threatened me. I believed my life was in danger and I verily believe now it would have been so if I had not shot McBroom."

He held at length of his troubles with McBroom.
