Daughter of Wealthy Tacoma Brewer Files Sensational Suit.

conspiracy, Harriet F. Charging eckart, of whom sensational newsaper stories were printed several years ago in regard to her relations with Dr. Marie D. Equi, has filed suit in the United States circuit court at Tacoma United States circuit court at Tacoma against her mother, Mrs. Henrietta Speckart, and her uncle, Leopold Schmidt, president of the Olympia Brewing company, to recover, a one-third share in the $1,000,000 estate of her father, Adolph Speckart, a wealthy brewer who died at Butte, Montana, February 15, 1853.
Miss Speckart alleges in her complaint that her mother and Schmidt conspired and detranded her out of her father's estate, which he left to be divided equally among his wife, son and daughter. By the terms of her father's estate, which he left to be divided equally among his wife, son and daughter. By the terms of the father's will the estate was to have been $50,000, which he was to have been $50,000, which he was to have been $50,000, which he was to have been $50,000, which her was to have been $50,000, which he was to have been $50,000, which her talsed her majority.

The complaint alleges that Miss Speckart was also to have been pro-vided for by her mother until becoming of age when, by the terms of the will, the mother was to turn over the property left to the daughter. The cording to the complaint Schmidt and Mrs. Speckart complete Schmidt's to use the estate to further Schmidt's to use the estate to increase the value of the estate from $150,000 to about $1,00,000. This was done, alleges the complaint, with the use of the share of the estate due Miss Speckart, leaving the daughter without her rights in her father's estate. Miss Speckart alleges in her com-sign when she should have recovered the property, but that up to the grasent outher by the mother or uncle. Got Away from Montane. It is alleged in the complaint that the estate in 1899 for about $110,000. Other revenues from the estate brought the total value to $200,000 by the time Miss Speckart reached her majority in 1901. Because of an order issued by the Montana court te give an accounting of the estate, it is alleged that Mrs. Speckart, acting as executrix and with the advice of Schmidt, removed all the personal effects and the money received from the sales of the real property, outside of the jurisdiction of the Mon-tana courts to Washington, where it is alleged more than $70,000 held in trust for the heirs was invested in the brew-ery enterprises controlled by Schmidt. Th Court Once Before. Germany.

The Court Once Before. Further allegations made in the com-plaint show the effectiveness of the conspiracy from which Miss Speckart asks relief from the court and to re-store her property to her. Yesterday's suit is but an echo of the proceedings threshed out several years ago when the mother tried to have herself appointed guardian of her daughter. Miss Speckart fought the proceedings in which were revealed a number of letters which passed be-tween Miss Speckart and Dr. Equil. These letters were introduced as evi-dence to show that Dr. Equil was not a fit person to act as a companion for the daughter. The court denied the a fit person to act as a companion for the daughter. The court denied the petition for guardianship on the ground that Miss Speckart had attained her majority and was free to choose her own companions.
