BRITISH PUGS INVADE AMERICA

Three Champions of Merry Isle Are Due to Arrive in New York This Week.

EACH ONE AFTER AN INTERNATIONAL TITLE

Negro Marvel in Middleweight Division Has Appeared on Horizon and Ancient Bob Fitzsimmons Will Take Him On.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Oct. 2.—A fine line of British flat talent is due this week from London. There will be three men who will engage in international battles, which may mean the loss to America of some of her titles. Owen Moran, the best 115-pound boy of the British Isles, Pat O'Keefe, said to be the champion welterweight of Ireland, and Johnny Summers, who claims the featherweight championship of all Britain, will arrive under the management of Charley Harvey. Both Summers and Moran have been here. Summers beat Tommy Murphy, the New York light heavyweight, who was beaten by Young Ernie of Philadelphia. Moran, who was here three years ago, licked Monte Attell, Abe. There is little doubt that either would give him a harder fight than could any American boy of his weight. Attell, whose reputation in the past centered on his last fight, when he was beaten by Tommy O'Keefe in six rounds at Philadelphia, is on his way back looking for reparation and his weight, so he will get the coin and probably the reparation. He has given up his attempt to get a match with Frank, because he could not interest the Frisco promoters.

Another negro marvel stepped into the limelight the other evening in New York. Sam Langford, the Boston boy, who is blacker than that other great Boston fighter, Joe Walcott, showed remarkable science and punching ability when he encountered Jim Barry of Chicago at the Sharkey Athletic club for six rounds. It is a safe statement that Langford, fighting on the square, is the peer of any middleweight of the country. Barry is a big man and a good fighter. He weighed 135 pounds, while the negro went in at 125. He is ready to meet many New York boys of his weight, so he will get the coin and probably the reparation. He has given up his attempt to get a match with Frank, because he could not interest the Frisco promoters.

Bill Mike is now out in Frisco trying to get a match with Joe Gans, who beat him once. Joe is so great that defeat is not a word in his vocabulary. Again, the short end in a fight with him is worth thousands.

Bob Fitzsimmons will meet Langford. He is, of course, still the middleweight champion, never having lost the championship that he won from Jack Dempsey 16 years ago. He has announced that he will defend his title and will meet any one for whom the clubs will put up a good purse. But few take Bob seriously. While he has unbounded confidence in himself, his friends know that he could not stand long against such a wonder as Langford. They are anxious for him to give up all idea of fighting and go into his old business. But the call of the ring—and the need of ready money—always move Bob.

He has a beautiful place of 50 acres out at Dunellen, New Jersey, an hour's ride from New York. He lives in a fine, roomy old house, surrounded by great trees and lawns. He has a fine automobile and has been thinking of starting a gymnasium something like Bill Muldoon's sanitarium for the upbuilding of broken-down millionaires, but the venture costs money, and Bob hasn't asked.

The other day he was asked why he did not farm his land. "I don't mention farming to Bob," broke in Mrs. Fitz. "We bought $300 worth of seed corn last year and grew three bushels."

A battle that will bring together two of the best lightweights of the middleweight and east is that which may take place between Tommy Murphy of New York and Packer McFarland of Chicago at Indianapolis. Johnny Oliver, the manager of the former, received an offer from Manager Ferret of the Indianapolis club, and he is awaiting the settlement of the arrangements. It is said that Murphy would like to go to Chicago, Packer's manager, wants the match just now, for he has several other engagements. Still some weeks ago he said in Chicago that he would take on Murphy before any club that would make the battle worth while.

The retirement of Murphy will cause a scramble for his lightweight title. A contest between Murphy and McFarland would give a very good line on the successor of the champion. The winner in such a fight might with great plausibility claim that he had the right to the championship, for it is difficult to figure out just where a lightweight who could beat him.

Jack Sullivan, who fought Bill Squires in Frisco, is not half as well known to the casual follower of the ring as he should be. Here is Tommy Burns, whom he beat, standing at the head of the list of apparently little consequences. He has accomplished even more in the ring than has Burns. Yet because Burns put Bill Squires out in punch he is set up as the chief of American pugilists—always barring Jeffries. Yet who is there who believes that Burns could beat Jack? That is the big negro would fight on the square?

Both Jack and Mike Sullivan are as bold as Bob Fitzsimmons. But Jack is a better fighter. He has a head that is not. When the former got him to Cambridge, Massachusetts, last summer from California he wore a toupee.

Jeremiah Sullivan, the father, who is a contracting teamster, "didn't tell me that if you used some of that horse liniment on your head it would grow hair."

HORSE SHOW PROMISES TO BE SOCIETY EVENT OF THE SEASON

Officials of the Portland Hunt club, who are making extensive arrangements for the horse show that will be held in the Oriental building at the Lewis and Clark exposition grounds, are more than gratified with the splendid support given them by Portland's smart set. That social Portland intends to make the show the society event of the season is evidenced by the demand for boxes, and T. S. McGrath, president of the club, who is in charge of the disposal of the boxes, says that he is sorry that he has only 50 instead of 100.

A. H. Cederberg, the architect who has designed the showing and also the interior decorations of the Oriental building, submitted his plans this morning to F. O. Downing. Mr. Cederberg has so arranged the boxes and the reserved seat section on the lower floor that there will be little choice in either the boxes or the reserved seats. In front of the showing will be a six-foot promenade, planned after the promenade in Madison Square garden, where the national horse show is held. This will be one of the most popular places during the show hours, for it will afford the best vantage point for the spectators to see the horses and to catch the opportunity to make and receive calls during the show hours. It will also afford an opportunity for the women to display their horse show gowns and fine millinery.

G. A. Westgate, who is assisting President McGrath in arranging the classes and maintaining the orderly completed arrangements with the railroads for a special rate during the three days of the show. The rate will be made equal to that of the Pacific northwest. He also made special rates for the shipment of live stock. From letters which Mr. Westgate has received from breeders, this part of the show will have big entry and the display in itself will be well worth seeing.

BASKETBALL SEASON TO OPEN TONIGHT AT MULTINOMAH CLUB

The basketball season at the Multinomah club will open tonight with the organization of teams for the playing of a club league series. The 40 or 50 men who will take part in the sport will be divided into four or seven teams and a series of games will be played, the schedule being arranged so that each team will play each of the others once. The winner of the league series will be presented with a gold medal, the gift of the club.

The club first team, which will represent Multinomah in the state league, will not be selected for a month or more. It will be picked from the men making the best showing in the club league teams.

TIGERS STILL LEAD AMERICAN LEAGUE

Neck and Neck Race to Close Saturday With Chances Favoring Detroit.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Oct. 2.—Detroit and Philadelphia are still in a neck and neck race for the American league pennant, the Tigers leading by a margin of seven points, having won two more and lost one more than the Athletics. Each team won its game yesterday, Philadelphia shutting out Cleveland, and Detroit beating Washington, and the relative standing is unchanged. With six more games for each team before the season closes next Sunday, the result is bound to be in doubt until the very close, although Detroit is conceded the best chance. Not only has Detroit a lead of one game, but the teams it has to meet are presumably easy to defeat. The tigers have three more games with Washington for the final struggle of four games. Washington has been soft picking for both the leading teams, but Cleveland should give Philadelphia a harder fight than the St. Louis team will Detroit. The final series with Philadelphia in Washington and Detroit in St. Louis, the very last of the week, can be expected to tell the story.

HOW TO THROW OUT RUNNERS FROM FIELD

(United Press Leased Wire.) Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 2.—Mike Mitchell to date has thrown out 40 base runners who did not sit up and notice the fact that his arm is an up-to-date catapult with nothing to deceive one but a ball player's shift. "It is not the man who can throw farthest who does the most damage with his wing," explained Mitchell, modestly declining to be called the greatest thrower that has ever lived. "It is the fellow with the whip that can make 'em travel fast and accurately that gets the assists. I know a lot of fellows that can throw a mile, more or less; yet, when it comes to stopping base runners they don't get where near the spotlight. The recipe for getting a record for making assists from the outfield is simple. Listen: "Be in position to throw the ball before you get it. "Don't aim too high—skimmers go faster than flies. "Always make up your mind before the ball gets to you what you're going to do with it—and then do it. "Several years ago, when I was in the New York Giants, I led the outfield in assists. I hope I'll make the same record in the National league this year, for it's worth something to be able to throw out more men from the outfield than any other fellow in the business."

Rain Coats

WHEN you want a rain coat you want it good, to keep you dry and to keep you well dressed. Every well-dressed man should have a rain coat; it is the proper thing and it's useful and necessary. The rain coat serves as overcoat and water-proof garment; we put the Nicoll style into them.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT

Science Has Now Found the True Way to Cure Indigestion. A few years ago, when a sufferer from indigestion went to a stomach specialist, the result was a rigid diet list that almost meant starvation. But the first thing to do in the case of indigestion or stomach weakness is to strengthen the muscular walls of the stomach and intestines, so that they will care for the food that is eaten. In no other way can this be done as well as by taking a Mi-o-na tablet before each meal. This restores strength to the stomach muscles and stimulates the pouring out of gastric juices, so that the food is digested readily and its nourishment retained in the system to build up energy and vitality.
