

LOVE FEAST TO SUPPORT TUMORS CURED

President Diaz of Mexico in Presence of Every High Official of Mexican Government Recognized Value of American Secretary.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Mexico City, Oct. 2.—The meeting yesterday between President Diaz of Mexico and Secretary Root, took place in the presence of all the high officials of the Mexican government, developed into a love feast, in which the most cordial sentiments were voiced by all.

Secretary Root expressed his delight at meeting personally the man whom he considered directly responsible for prominence among the Latin-American nations. He also declared that he hoped for a continuance of the present cordial relations between the two nations.

President Diaz, in reply, declared that all Mexicans recognize the value of the American secretary of state's efforts to bring about a better understanding between the United States and all Latin-American countries.

In the evening a splendid banquet of state was tendered Mr. Root.

DOGS LOSE TRAIL.

too late to catch it. It was their evident intention of getting on this train. A huckster who was at the station verified this report and said that he had seen the men running and that after the train pulled out the men halted and then walked away and disappeared in the darkness. He could not get a very good description of them.

Air of Excitement.

There is a strange air of solemn determination about Baker today. The broods ill for the men who murdered Harvey K. Brown, should the assassins come within range of the people. The feeling of horror and intense anger over the cowardly killing of a popular man has increased rather than decreased, as the facts in the case have become known.

Brown fought the gamblers and gamblers, but it is sure that these elements made no combined effort to do him harm; in fact he had many friends among the liquor dealers who rather admired him for his stand. Some persons think, like Swain, however, that it might have been possible that several of the tough characters of the city plotted to kill him after the fashion of the murder of Stenstrom, and that they were carried away by a spirit of hatred engendered by the active fight Brown was making in a right way.

Mrs. Brown is in a very precarious condition. The shock has completely unseated her and the family physician will not see her, but her most intimate friends to visit her. Mrs. Brown, it is said, firmly believes that her husband was marked for death by the Western Federation and she does not put entire faith in Swain's theory although she has the greatest respect for her husband's old friend and has confidence in his good judgment.

Governor Chamberlain has been communicated with but as he is on a trip east it is not thought that the message will reach him before tonight. It is the intention of the authorities to ask for a large reward for the capture of the culprits.

Brown told several of his friends when he was on his way to the Salem fair a few weeks ago that he was afraid that something would happen to him. He was reticent about whom he suspected, but it is known that he was quietly working on a case and that he expected to make some disclosures before long. Whether these disclosures were to have referred to links in the evidence in the Stenstrom case, or whether the ex-sheriff had gained information concerning men here in Baker who have fought him, politically and otherwise, cannot be surmised. Brown did not talk much about his affairs and was given to making indirect answers to questions in the matter of some that were calculated to throw one off the track.

GENERAL McCASKEY RETIRES FROM ARMY

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—Brig. Gen. William S. McCaskey, of the Texas, was placed on the retired list today by operation of the act. Gen. McCaskey comes from Pennsylvania and was one of the first 75,000 men enrolled as volunteers in the Civil war. He served as a private throughout the war, was engaged in all the battles of the Army of the Cumberland and was on Sherman's march to the sea and through the Carolinas to Washington. At the close of the war he entered the regular service and in the Spanish war was present at the battles of El Caney and Santiago.

SWIMMING TEST FOR NAVAL OFFICERS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, Oct. 2.—Naval officers are much interested and not a little amused by an interview with Assistant Secretary Newberry, in which he is quoted as saying that a swimming test may be demanded of all officers, just as a horseback ride has been ordered for the horseback riding of army officers. Newberry's idea is to have captains and admirals dive from shore and swim to their ships.

Dyspepsia

Is an indication that the stomach and other digestive organs are weak, tired or debilitated. It causes no end of aches and pains and is most common where people bolt their meals and hurry and worry as they do in this country.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures dyspepsia—it has "a magic touch" in this disease. For a testimonial of remarkable cures send for Book on Dyspepsia, No. 5, C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

Convicted Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco for Nine Years Has Failed to Support Aged Parent and Elderly Maiden Sister.

(Pacific Coast Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Oct. 2.—For the past nine years Eugene E. Schmitz, former mayor of San Francisco, now in the county jail awaiting transportation to San Quentin for extortion, has not contributed to the support of his mother and sister, who have been living in humble fashion in a one-story cottage, supported by Herbert L. Schmitz, the brother of the convicted ex-mayor, while the latter had been living in his sumptuous home, traveling abroad and otherwise living a life of luxury, up to the time of his conviction.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation or displacements, secure a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, right away and begin its use. The following letters should convince every suffering woman of its virtue, and that it actually does conquer tumors.

Mrs. May Fry, of 336 W. Colfax Ave., South Bend, Ind., writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I take great pleasure in writing to thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I also took the Blood Purifier in alternate doses with the Compound. Your medicine removed my cyst tumor of four years' growth, which three of the best physicians declared I had. They had said that only an operation could help me. I am very thankful that I followed a friend's advice and took your medicine. It has made me a strong and well woman and I shall recommend it as long as I live."

MANDELEY TO TESTIFY

ferent times without objection from the district attorney or his associates, and sent him back to questions at issue. "We do not object to McGarry's course," interposed Bert Hayes, deputy district attorney, when the court stopped the attorney for the defense, "let him go ahead. He will hang himself if we let him have anything to say, however, held the attorney within seeing distance of the lines of material evidence."

This afternoon it is expected that the state will put L. L. Mandelay, junior (C. W. Kelly, N. Willis, Dr. W. R. Anderson, and perhaps T. C. Devlin on the stand. The defense has a list of character witnesses for Mr. Mandelay, besides the defendants themselves who are expected to take the witness stand.

When the examination was commenced W. R. McGarry and Seneca Potts appeared for Mrs. Waymire and testified that they had seen Mandelay on the stand. The state was represented by District Attorney Mandelay and his deputy, Bert E. Hayes and R. W. Montague, personal counsel for Mayor Latta.

Mayor Tells Story.
After the mayor had sworn he was asked to tell of the circumstances surrounding his meeting with Mrs. Waymire at his office, the city jail and of her subsequent visits both there and at his private office in the Hamilton building up to the including the evening of the attack upon him. He told the story without questioning substantially in the same words with which he had detailed the occurrence before.

"The lady, or this woman rather," the mayor corrected as he began his story, "came to my office during the summer, during office hours near the close of the day. She was in trouble and wanted my advice and help. She said that she was a married woman, but that she had separated from her husband and that in the separation she had signed over the custody of her child to her husband. She had then come to Portland and had found work in a restaurant, but that her heart was wrung by the separation from her child, and that she was seeking some means of securing its possession and bringing it back to Portland with her."

Witnesses Reported.
"She asked me if she would be liable to the law should she kidnap the child and bring it to Portland," the mayor continued, "I told her I was no lawyer and therefore could not advise her as to that point. I told her, however, that I would take the matter up with Mrs. Trumbull, whose connection with the board of charities put her in touch with similar cases, and would turn the matter over to her."

"Mrs. Waymire asked me not to do this," the mayor continued, "telling me that she would be able to take care of her child and that she would be able to get about detailing her troubles. In a day or two she called again and said she had a letter from the consular agent who had better leave the child with its grandparents, who had charge of it, as she was unable to get it out of the city and it was hard for a woman to live on that amount."

"Following this visit she came to the city hall again and said that she would like to discuss the question with me again, but that she was not able to talk privately with me and asked if she could see me at some other time. I told her it might be possible if she would come to my office in the Hamilton building either at noon or between 5:30 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon."

Wanted Position With Streetcar Company as Confidential Man.
E. E. Radding, one of the alleged conspirators in the plot against Mayor Latta, during the last few days attempted to secure employment with the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, as confidential man. He was engaged, even up until a few days previous to the occurrence in the Hamilton building, had frequently called on the treasurer of the company, in the hopes of convincing him that he could do a great deal of good employment. Later he was given employment. He was employed in this capacity.

Radding Informed Mr. Reed that if he were given employment with the company, but to the union men as well in bringing about amicable settlement of all labor disputes.

When Radding first appeared at the office of the company he merely asked that he be given employment. Later Mr. Reed asked what kind of work he wanted. Radding explained that he could hardly go to work as a platform

FOOD STOPPED IT

Good Food Worth More Than a Gold Mine.
To find a food that will put an absolute stop to "running down" is better than finding a gold mine.

Many people who begin to run down go from one thing to another without finding a food that will stop the progress of "running down." The most nourishing food known and will set one right if that is possible.

"The experience of a Louisiana lady may be interesting. I received a severe nervous shock some years ago and from that and overwork gradually broke down. My food did not agree with me and I lost flesh rapidly. I changed from one kind of food to another, but was unable to stop the loss of flesh and strength.

Overwhelming Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, tumor. The growth of a tumor is so insidious that frequently its presence is wholly unsuspected until it is well advanced.

So called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain from the abdomen through the groin and thigh.

"I take great pleasure in writing to thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I also took the Blood Purifier in alternate doses with the Compound. Your medicine removed my cyst tumor of four years' growth, which three of the best physicians declared I had. They had said that only an operation could help me. I am very thankful that I followed a friend's advice and took your medicine. It has made me a strong and well woman and I shall recommend it as long as I live."

Mrs. E. F. Hayes, of 86 Ruggles St., Boston, Mass., writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I have been under different doctors' treatment for a long time without relief. They told me I had a fibroid tumor, my abdomen was swollen and I suffered with great pain. I wrote to you for advice, you replied and I followed your directions carefully and today I am a well woman. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system."

Mrs. Perry Byers, of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, writes: "I was told by my physician that I had a fibroid tumor and that I would have to be operated upon. I was very nervous and I was told by my physician that I would have to be operated upon. I was very nervous and I was told by my physician that I would have to be operated upon."

Mrs. M. M. Funk, Vandergrift, Pa., writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I had a tumor and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound removed it for me after two doctors had given me up. I was sick four years before I began to take the Compound. I now recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound far and near."

Such testimony as above is convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for Tumor Growths as well as other distressing ills of women, and such symptoms as Bearing-down Sensations, Displacements, Irregularities and Backaches, etc. Women should remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women. Don't forget to insist upon it when some druggist asks you to accept something else which he calls "just as good."

EILERS ANNUAL CLEARANCE OF USED PIANOS CONTINUES

The prices of the Pianos in this sale are alone enough to command the attention of every intending purchaser within a radius of a hundred miles or more of Portland. But when one considers the extent of this offering—this Annual Fall Clearance—and really appreciates the splendid character of the instruments—well known makes from many of the best homes in this city—taken in part payment toward Pianola Pianos—the attractiveness of the opportunity is doubly emphasized. The selling during the past two days has been brisk, but the list was a large one—there are yet many most exceptional bargains. There are Squares, Uprights, Grands—and prices are as varied as the many makes—as low as $12 for a fairly good old-time Square, and from that up to $395 for a Grand—and others in between—some even higher—but every one an irresistible bargain. Look them over—judge for yourself—and you'll not be disappointed. But respond quickly—they're going fast.

Just a Sample of the Values

KNABE—One of the most expensive styles, engraved panels, $298
LITTLE JEWETT—The Boston make; mahogany; splendid condition; the $325 style; sale price, $156
DECKER BROS.—One more of this well known make (two sold since Monday); this one goes for $195
VAN GRUSEN—An imported make; walnut; hard to beat at $72
STENER—Ebonized finish; another bargain for very little money, $98

Organs, Orchestrelles, Player Pianos Piano Players Also Included

There's a representative list of these instruments also to choose from. Organs of small size that have been exchanged for larger ones; larger organs that have been traded toward Pianola Pianos; magnificent Orchestrelles (which bring into your home the very finest class of Orchestra music)—instruments which have been used for demonstration and display use; player pianos and players which have been received as part pay toward Pianola Pianos. It's really a list to choose from that gives the music-lover every possible advantage—and an opportunity to satisfy any and every longing in the musical line.

LOSE NO TIME—CALL AT ONCE—OR WRITE

If you live in the city, come at once. If you reside out of town, write for complete list and prices. But be prompt—for keen, wide-awake buyers will soon make short work of the selling. Another opportunity such as this will not come again for months.
