

WOMENSOLE PROMOTERS OF BUILDING COMPANY

Construction Concern, Headed by Mrs. Mabel C. Brigham, Will Begin Erection of Apartment-House on Portland Heights—Men Excluded From Project.

A building company composed of women who are to build an apartment house, with their own money and manage their own affairs, and where men are not even to have a look in, has been organized in Portland. Articles of Incorporation of the Delta Building Company, composed of Mrs. Mabel C. Brigham, Mrs. Nellie E. Wise and Mrs. Emily D. Sheldon, were filed in the office of the county clerk this morning. The capital of the new and original concern is given as $25,000.

All the details of the business are in the hands of the women. Men have been excluded from the project with the exception of one who will be in charge of the agricultural display for the government during the exposition. Since then they have lived here. Mrs. Wise is the vice-president and manager of the concern, while Mrs. Sheldon will act as the secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Wise is the wife of Dr. T. P. Wise. Mrs. Sheldon is a widow, and is cashier of the local office of the Prudential Insurance Company.

The new apartment house which the women are to erect is to be the highest in Portland—it will be situated on Portland Heights near where the old tower stood. The tract of land on Hawthorne terrace was purchased during the summer.

The building is to be three stories in height, and will contain apartments for six large families. It will be frame and have all modern improvements.

The officers of the Delta company, in addition to selecting a novel site for their enterprise, have several other unique plans that are to be carried out in the construction of the building. Wide, airy porches, overlooking Portland, the Willamette and the Columbia rivers, with a background of all the famous snow-capped mountains, is to be a distinct feature. From the flats there will be broad French doors opening onto these verandas so that the occupants may dine with the city at their feet, or sleep out doors in summer while the city dwellers surge and slumber several hundred feet below.

An architect is now at work on the plans for the apartment house, and work on construction will begin as soon as possible.

TELEPHONE OF BEAUTY IS NOT A JOY FOREVER WHERE TWO ARE USED

All is not always bliss where there are two phones in the house.

Portland families who have equipped their homes with the two telephone systems, both the old and the new, have found themselves face to face with an emergency that is hard to overcome. Naturally these people with both phones in their house have a large acquaintance. Some of their friends have one instrument, while the others are using the other system. Few of them have both the old and the new.

Consequently the people patronizing the two companies have discovered themselves as being nothing short of a sort of clearing house of emergency central for their friends with just one of the telephones. When a person wants to convey a message to some one who has the other telephone he calls up the friend with the two in the house and politely requests that he deliver his message and get an answer to So and So, who has the other phone.

Then the member of the family who happens to answer the call has to drop his work or his pleasure and attend to the desires of his friend at the other end of the line. Then he realizes what it is to be popular. He takes the telephone number, the message and promises to call up the speaker when the task has been completed.

The temporary central messenger boy and general accommodator goes to his other phone—that is if he really is a good fellow—and carries out his instructions. Then he rings up the one who called him and asked the favor and perchance his thankless job is at an end, at least for a minute or two. Perhaps the bell of one or the other instrument rings again and the man with the two phones goes to the mouthpiece and receiver, not knowing what to expect.

Just for a friend the man has received one call and made two.

All is not fun in a house with two phones.

SHEEPMEN LOOK FOR FLOCK RESTRICTIONS

Meeting of Representatives of Oregon Grazers With Bureau Man Monday.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., Oct. 4.—A. F. Potter, chief of the grazing department of the forestry bureau, and Henry Ireland, supervisor of the eastern division of the Blue mountain forest reserve, will be here next Monday for a meeting with the advisory board of the Oregon Woolgrowers' association.

It is the custom of the government to have its forestry officials meet with representatives of the stockmen, and in this state the advisory board is authorized to act for the Woolgrowers' association. The board is composed of M. E. Gwin, Douglas Hells, G. Warner, S. W. Spencer and George Currin of Heppner.

Another cut is expected to be made next spring in the number of sheep to be admitted to the eastern division of the Blue mountain reserve, and this matter will be taken up at the meeting.

That Pendleton should be the headquarters for the forestry officials of the reserve has long been held by Secretary Smythe and others of the association, and it is understood that this will also come before the meeting.

The prospect is bright for the opening of the reservation road for the free passage of stock.

HILLSBORO STREET FAIR IN PROGRESS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Hillsboro, Or., Oct. 4.—The Hillsboro street fair, carnival and livestock show is in progress here. It will close Saturday night. The program commenced with the crowning of Miss Madge Imbric as queen of the carnival. She was chosen by popular vote. Speeches were made by R. P. Cornelius and Dr. P. A. Bailey. Music was furnished by the Hillsboro band. Everything points to a successful fair. The races will be held at the Tongue track Saturday afternoon.

KLAMATH FALLS HAS ITS FOURTH BANK

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Klamath Falls, Or., Oct. 4.—The first trust and savings bank of Klamath Falls has been organized, with paid-up capital of $25,000. The officers are: G. W. White of the First National bank, president; George T. Haldwin, vice-president; J. W. Shimens, cashier; W. A. Delsell, assistant cashier. The new institution will open its doors for business October 15. Its place of business will be with the National bank, as its officers are the same. The new bank will be but a branch of the First National.

Klamath Falls will thus have four banks—one private, one national, one state and the new institution.

Besides the local people interested, George F. Huley and W. J. Vetter, the well-known Medford capitalists, are on the board of directors.
