National Officers Rebuke Men for Failing to Keep Agreement.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Goldfield, Nev., Oct. 5.—The railroad strike has been broken by the national officers of the union ordering the men back to work because they went out without orders. Some of the men say they will not return. The national officers have notified engineers and trainmen in Reno that they are at liberty to take strikers' positions if the strikers refuse to return. If this does not work the officers wired that the Tonopah charter would be revoked.

SPOKANE OFFICER RUSHES FOUR THUGS

Rescues Man They Are Robbing and Captures One of the Robbers.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., Oct. 5.—Cries of "help, help, robbers, murder, help!" from a dark alley late this afternoon attracted the attention of Merchants' Police Officer Taylor, who hurried in the direction of the cries to find himself confronted by four armed men robbing W. H. Doty of his money. Taylor bravely attacked the outlaws, capturing one whose name is Andrew Johnson. The place where Taylor found Doty is one of the darkest spots in the city, lying between two five-story buildings. A turn in the alley shuts out most of the daylight, making it a good place for hold-ups.

Johnson and his pals intoxicated Doty here, and robbed him of his money. As Taylor entered the alley he saw Johnson sitting on Doty. Standing by were three armed men. Taylor rushed into their midst with "hands up, the whole lot of you." He fired two shots in quick succession with one gun at the same time leveling another on Johnson. Johnson surrendered, seeing the policeman meant business, but the others broke and ran. One more shot from Taylor's gun added to their speed, and they have not been seen since.

Johnson made a full confession, thinking to secure a lighter sentence. Taylor showed marvelous grit in running among armed men, and but for his presence of mind all might have escaped. Johnson was searched at the station and on him was found Doty's purse, containing $10.85. He then owned up to having taken it from Doty. Doty was too drunk to describe the men accurately. Johnson said: "I had my back in the direction from which Taylor approached. I heard a shot and then next thing the muzzle of a gun was against my neck. 'Make a move and I'll kill you,' said Taylor, and I kept still. Asked what he made to catch the others, Taylor said he wanted one for sure and took Johnson. Johnson says his pals are all criminals."

STABBED IN NECK IN SALOON ROW

Wager of $20 to Fight Leads to Cutting Affray—Two Arrested.

Ed Souksi, a Polish laborer, was stabbed in a drunken row in a saloon at the corner of Russell street and Mississippi avenue last night about midnight. A sharp wound was received in the neck, narrowly missing the jugular vein, otherwise the injuries were not serious. The stabbing resulted as the result of a wager. Two participants in the fight are in the city jail without bail, charged with assault with attempt to kill. They are John Crawford and Jo Bogaski. When the officers arrived about 20 men had surrounded the two assailants. From Crawford was taken a long knife on which were spots of blood. He confessed to having put $20 on the bar and challenged his opponent to a battle and said he was a very big fellow that nearly choked him to death. All had been drinking and grossing in the saloon for several hours. Souksi, the injured man, was placed under the care of Dr. Holcomb. He was taken to a neighboring drug store where his wounds were dressed. He was afterwards taken home. The cut across the neck was nearly four inches long. The fight occurred in the saloon at 115 Russell street.

BEER MADE FIGHTERS OF WEDDING GUESTS

Merry Bunch of Bachelors Finish Drunk by Beating Roy Staub.

Robin Hood and his merry band never made more merry on a keg of brown October ale in their forest fastness than did 16 congenial spirits at Portsmouth, Friday night over a 16-gallon keg of beer. Unfortunately, however, for five members of the crowd over-indulgence in the foaming brew caused them to become so belligerent that one of them has already been booked at the city prison on a charge of assault and battery and warrants are out for the remainder. The occasion of the attempt to cause an appreciable decrease in the supply of a local brewery was the nuptials of a well known couple of Portsmouth. To fittingly celebrate the joyous affair the happy bridegroom furnished the beer for his bachelor friends and to get the proper stage setting the keg was placed in a grove nearby. Everything was lovely and not a hitch occurred to mar the festivities until Roy Staub, who in sight on the way to his home, at 1701 Haver street, Staub, who is a conductor, employed by the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, did nothing to provoke the succeeding strenuous events but there were things doing nevertheless. The street man had just escorted a young lady home from church, when he unfortunately encountered the merry crowd. For some reason not yet explained, as soon as the gang noticed him they immediately proceeded to use him as a human punching bag. While several of the ringleaders held the luckless conductor the others pummeled him unmercifully. Staub finally managed to escape and swore to John Doe complaints yesterday. H. H. White was taken into custody by Patrolman Wellbrook last night and identified as one of Staub's assailants. He was released on $50 cash bail and the police are endeavoring to apprehend his companions.

Gunn, manager of a fashionable apartment-house, and Miss Gertrude Fontham, a beautiful brunette stenographer, have eloped. For several days Captain Gunn has been missing from his post of duty at the Schuyler Arms, Ninety-eight street and Riverside Drive, and the typewriter machine in the office of the hotel expert's company, in the house between the Schuyler Arms and the apartment-house, has not been used since. But it was not until today that the house discovered that before he vanished Gunn drew from the Colonial bank all the cash the Schuyler Arms had on deposit there. # FRENCH HOUSEHOLD BEAUTY DOCTOR

A Simple Mixture Said to Work Wonders on the Complexion. Prepared at Rome.

Some women are very vain and others have little vanity, but all without exception are desirous of possessing a good complexion. Many women succeed admirably with artificial beautifiers, such as rouge and powders, for the evening toilet, but this imitation beauty will not stand the glare of broad daylight, and when used in the daytime produces a ludicrous and unbecoming appearance. A prominent society lady, who has just returned from a long sojourn in Europe, brings back with her the recipe which she claims is the secret of the French women's beauty, and which is famous throughout the world, but mainly consists of an exquisite complexion. The recipe is as follows: Two ounces of Rose Water, one ounce Spirit of Cologne, four ounces of Sartin (crystallized). Put the Sartin into a pint of hot water, soft water preferred, and after it is dissolved and cooled strain it through a fine cloth and add the Rose Water and Spirit of Cologne. This is to be used daily and thoroughly massaged into the skin. This treatment, if persisted in, is said to work wonders on even the worst complexion. The ingredients can be gotten at any drug store. The above formula will make sufficient for a thorough test.
